One Dead, 69 Injured in Train Wreck

I. C. SEMINOLE IS DERAILED AT CORINTH, MISS.

11 Chicagoans Hurt; Diner Burns.

Corinth, Miss., Nov. 23 [Special].—One woman was killed and 69 persons were injured late today when the Seminole, crack Illinois Central passenger train bound from Florida to Chicago, was derailed a mile and a half south of here and nine of the 12 cars plunged down a 20 foot embankment.

The dead woman was identified by J. R. McPeters, Alcorn county coroner, as Mrs. Dovie Robertson, 70, of Selmer, Tenn.

Thirty-six of the injured were brought to the McRae hospital in Corinth and 33 to Corinth hospital. Eleven of the injured were Chicagoans and one was from Gary, Ind. There were 82 persons on the train.

Injured Chicagoans.

Cox, Carl, 7 West Pearson street.

Cox, Mrs. Carl, 7 West Pearson street, lacerated hip.

Hohman, Henry A., 36, of 70 East Cedar street, member of advertising firm of Beaumont and Hohman, 6 North Michigan avenue, injuries unknown.

Neal, J. F., 54, Cornell avenue, cuts and bruises.

L. S. Houston, chief state dispatcher for the railroad, said that the wreck was caused by a broken rail. The train consisted of three coaches, two diners, and four sleepers, all of which were filled with passengers, and a tender and two mail-baggage-express cars immediately following the locomotive.

Engine Remains on Tracks.

The locomotive and three auxiliary cars cleared the break, but all of the cars following were derailed. The locomotive and auxiliary cars broke away from the wreck and pulled into Corinth station.

The train was traveling between 40 and 50 miles an hour, but was already slowing down to make a stop at Corinth, when it struck a transverse fissure in the rail. A woman standing in her yard to watch the train pass said that the fourth car rose high in the air and toppled sideways, dragging the seven cars following it over the embankment, which was built up for a road crossing.

Dining Car Burns.

One of the diners, crowded with passengers, caught fire after plunging down the embankment, but the flames spread slowly and every one in the car was able to escape, altho many were injured. The car burned for several hours.

Frank Hughes, editor of the Corinth Journal, the local newspaper, who aided in the rescue work, said several of the injured were reported to be in serious condition.

The wreck occurred at 5:15 p. m. The train had left Jacksonville, Fla., at 9:25 p. m. Saturday and was due in Chicago at 7:15 a. m. tomorrow. A relief train was dispatched to Jackson, Tenn., to take aboard passengers able to continue their journey.

L. A. Zavitovsky Jr. of Milwaukee, who was in the diner, said, "I was having dinner when the car started rocking. Then came the crash and the car started over the embankment. The man sitting behind me was thrown right over my head."

All available ambulances in Corinth, together with a large number of private cars which were commandeered, were put into service carrying the injured to Corinth's two hospitals.

HIS BIGGEST JOB

Truck Loaders Vote to Strike; Ignore Leaders

Twelve hundred members of the dock workers' contingent of the Highway Drivers' union, a local of the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters, howled down the pleas of their officials yesterday and voted for an immediate strike which threatens to tie up the huge motor transport system in Illinois and other midwestern states.

John L. Keeshin.

The action was denounced by John L. Keeshin, general chairman of an employers' committee, as a violation of a pact between the freight companies and the union which called for a status quo in their recent dispute, pending consideration of the issues on Dec. 2 by the federal mediation board. Keeshin said that all freight would move at any cost whether or not the strike became effective.

Efforts to Avert Strike Begun.

Efforts to avert the strike were begun by company representatives, who said they wired Sidney Hillman, member of the mediation board, informing him of the situation and asking that he request the dock workers to submit the issue to federal mediation. In Washington, D. C., however, Hillman said he had not heard anything of the impending strike.

Capt. John Prendergast, chief of the uniformed police, issued orders to captains to pay special attention to all loading platforms in their respective districts.

The city's 70 motor freight companies employ 2,500 dock workers, who are stationed at 250 platforms to load and unload cargo. Those attending the meeting at which the strike call was decreed by unanimous vote spent most of yesterday informing the rest of the union members of the action. If the strike proceeds according to plan, the men are not expected to show up for work this morning.

Chicago Hub of Industry.

A strike would cause serious delays in shipment of millions of dollars worth of materials, vital to the preparedness program, this type of cargo constituting, according to officials, about 55 per cent of the total load. Altho the dock workers form a small percentage of the 300,000 freight line employés, a shutdown in their activities would disrupt all freight schedules because Chicago is the hub of the trucking industry.

John T. O'Brien, secretary of the union and one of those who inveighed against a strike, declared that the men accused the companies of stalling and refusing most of their demands.

Negotiations Begun Sept. 15.

O'Brien and other union leaders have been negotiating with 9 companies' committee since Sept. 15 regarding wage increases, overtime pay, and vacations. The dispute, it was agreed by both sides last Saturday night, is to be decided by the federal mediation board.

While the truck drivers demanded a general wage raise, the dock workers wanted several other adjustments. These included a raise of 20 cents in the hourly salaries [from 55 to 75 cents], time and one-half pay for Sundays and for all hours exceeding eight each day, a week's vacation with pay, double pay for legal holidays, and a closed shop.

The companies agreed to the closed shop demand, but refused the wage increase, substituting only a 3 cent hourly increase; the time and one-half demand, offering to pay at this rate for all hours exceeding 10 a day, and the double pay plea.

FISH FLAP ASHORE INTO PAWS OF LAZY BEARS, MINK, OTTER

Wheeler, Ore., Nov. 23 (AP).—Bears are getting so lazy they wait for fish to flap ashore. Seagulls are sating themselves to the point of insensibility. Mink and otter have gathered at the banks, too interested in the unexpected and bountiful feast to fear human intruders.

And still the chum salmon surge up the Oregon coastal streams in a run so heavy hundreds of them are forced from the water and onto the river banks.

Old-timers can't remember anything like this run. It began in October. About the time it normally would have begun to wane it got heavier and heavier and the end is not in sight.

Only in recent years has the ugly, white meated chum been considered fit for human consumption. It has been canned and smoked, but the price has been low and the profit small. Now at 3½ cents a pound, fishermen have made as high as $80 a day since the run started. One fishing boat skipper pocketed $1,925 for his catch.

Steal 1,300 Lbs. of Outer Drive Bridge; Seized

Three exhausted thieves, who mounted a catwalk beneath the Ogden slip section of the Outer drive bridge and sweated for more than an hour removing 1,300 pounds of lead counterweights, were seized by Racine avenue police early yesterday. Two others escaped.

This is the story the thieves told their captors, Detectives Edward Dempkowski and John Schneiderman:

Just after midnight the five men parked two automobiles near the foot of Grand avenue and walked to the river shore. One by one they climbed upon the bridge catwalk and set to work on the counterweights with two hacksaws.

Traffic Roars Overhead.

Each counterweight weighs 50 pounds and is attached to the bridge by two bolts. While traffic roared overhead the thieves sawed away at the bolts, pulled off the counterweights, and carried them to the end of the bridge.

After 20 minutes eight counterweights had been piled on the river shore. Then suddenly bells began to ring and red lights flashed. The thieves scrambled to safety just as the bridge began to rise. When the bridge came down again they returned to their work. Eighteen more counterweights were stripped off.

They carried their loot to their automobiles and drove to the home of the leader, Robert Perry, 20 years old, of 1111 North Hermitage avenue. There they sat down on the running boards before tackling the heavy job of unloading.

Police Collar Trio.

Then the police squad drove up. Two of the thieves fled. After collaring Perry and the two others on suspicion, Dempkowski and Schneiderman found five counterweights in one car and 21 in another.

Seized with Perry were Fred Belcaster, 29, and his brother, Joseph, 19, both of 2946 North Mobile avenue. Perry's brother, Thomas, 22, and the fifth suspect are being sought.

The counterweights are used in lowering the traffic barriers of the Ogden slip bridge.

Perry said he got the idea for the theft "when I read in the paper that the market price for lead was $5.70 a hundredweight. That's a pretty good price."

FATES OF WAR AT STAKE IN U. S. TALKS WITH JAPS

Hope Held for Peace at Capital Parley.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—While the tide of battle ebbs and flows in Europe and Africa, a contest that will influence profoundly the outcome of the second World war is taking place in Washington.

The diplomatic fencing match between Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Saburo Kurusu, Japan's special envoy deputed to negotiate an understanding on Japan-American relations in the far east enters upon its second week tomorrow, with the result problematical. No common ground for an agreement has yet been found.

The negotiations so far have established the overweening desire of the Japanese to get the United States to lift the economic embargo the Roosevelt administration imposed when it froze Japanese credits in this country following the Tokio government's occupation of Indo-China, a move that Washington pronounced a threat to British Singapore, the Dutch East Indies, the Philippine Islands and American sources of rubber and tin in Malaya.

Jap Business Disrupted.

As a result of this embargo the Japanese are unable to procure American aviation gas and oils, cotton, scrap iron and steel and other commodities essential to the Japanese war machine and industrial economy. They also have lost their lucrative silk export business with this country and suffered disruption of shipping to the United States.

To get this embargo lifted the Japanese have intimated a willingness to throw overboard their pact with the axis, which Hitler wangled them into signing as a retaliatory gesture provoked by President Roosevelt's trading of 50 American destroyers to the British in the summer of 1940.

The United States, however, on behalf of the Anglo-American alliance, China and the Netherlands government in exile is insisting upon the complete withdrawal of Japanese forces from China and Indo-China and upon the open door for American interests in the far east as the price of any concessions.

Expect Alternative Offer.

The Japanese are expected to bring some alternative proposals to the conferences with Mr. Hull which will be resumed this week, possibly tomorrow.

If some sort of agreement or truce should be reached the United States would be able to divert a large part of its navy to the Atlantic for use in the undeclared war on Hitler and Mussolini. If Japan, however, should continue to be a threat to the Anglo-American alliance in the Pacific the American navy will remain divided.

Rep. Frederick C. Smith [R., O.] asserted in an argument on Theodore Granik's American Forum of the Air tonight that the United States has no material interests in China or the Dutch East Indies warranting demands upon Japan that might involve us in war.

"Japan has no mean navy," said Rep. Smith. "It is of fairly high qual-

U. S. Shooting Nazis at Sea, Says Harriman

LONDON, Nov. 23 (AP).—The United States navy "is shooting Germans—German submarines and aircraft at sea," W. Averell Harriman, United States war aid expediter, declared in a radio broadcast to the British people tonight.

Harriman returned to London this week from the United States, where he conferred with President Roosevelt on the results of the mission he headed to Russia along with Lord Beaverbrook in October to study the soviet union's defense needs.

Modifications of the United States neutrality law and the lend-lease act, Harriman told his radio audience, were intended "to keep us out of war," but he added that those words "have come to have new meaning."

Harriman said President Roosevelt "understands clearly the destructive forces that are loose in the world and the interdependency of American destiny with that of the British."

"Our Fight," He Says.

He declared, "Isolationism as a national policy is a thing of the past. What part we will play in the fight to victory I cannot prophesy; but I know as the need unfolds you will not find us lacking."

Harriman said President Roosevelt hates Hitler and all he stands for with the same burning hatred as does Winston Churchill.

The war, he said, is "our fight." He added that "We Americans are grateful to you for using so well in the common cause what we are able to send you."

Harriman spoke just after the 9 p. m. news broadcast on the BBC home service—the program which probably has more listeners than any other broadcast in England. The speech also was beamed to Africa, where British forces in the desert might hear it, and a recording was made for rebroadcast to the United States and the far east.

Predicts Russia Will Fight On.

Predicting that Russia would fight on, Harriman said: "We in America want no part of communism in our country. I believe most Americans now see clearly that aid to Russia in her fight against Nazi invasion in no way comprises our attitude toward communism."

He said United States air officers who are teaching soviet flyers how to use United States planes had told him "Russian pilots have adapted themselves more quickly to our planes and with fewer accidents than would a similar group of American pilots."

Harriman said the Russians are able to move industries out of threatened areas because "in the plants we visited machine tools were numbered and heavy machines were not embedded in concrete, but were bolted to the floor ready to be moved at a moment's notice. The operator goes with his machine in the same railway wagon, ready to set it up and operate it at the new site."

Harriman gave an unusually detailed sketch of Joseph Stalin.

"Stalin was direct in his dealings with us," said Harriman. "He told us exactly what he needed and asked what we would do about each item. He knows the problem of supply.

"His brain is directing the Russian armies. He has an amazing knowledge of details of equipment, and in fact corrected Lord Beaverbrook on the horsepower of the Merlin engine in the latest Hurricane. He found this amusing. He can laugh even in a serious conversation."

6,000 AXIS LIVES REPORTED LOST IN CONVOY RAID

ANKARA, Turkey, Nov. 23.—From 6,000 to 7,000 German and Italian soldiers and sailors were drowned as a result of the British raid on the large axis convoy in the Mediterranean last week, foreign naval intelligence sources here said today.

More than 12,000 tons of munitions and equipment were sent to the bottom at the same time, it was said.

The axis crews had insufficient time to launch boats or life rafts, and the axis convoy was too hotly engaged to attempt any rescue work, informants asserted.

GERMANS RUSH TROOPS BY AIR TO STEM DRIVE

CAIRO, Nov. 24 [Monday].—(AP).—The British have captured Bardia and two other Italian strongholds, smashed Italian reënforcement convoys in the Mediterranean, forced the Germans to rush new air support from Europe, and split the axis Libyan army into four battered segments, reports from the front said today. British submarines and planes torpedoed two Italian cruisers, a destroyer and several supply ships in Mediterranean battles, it was announced.

Meanwhile, the main tank battle, now raging in its seventh day, had moved across 80 miles of desert to the Tobruk area where it has reached a critical stage with the Germans almost completely hemmed in.

Some quarters here said that nearly 15,000 axis prisoners have been captured and 600 tanks knocked out by the British, but there was nothing in any official announcements to support these figures.

Reënforce Axis Forces by Air.

Swarms of German fighter and bomber planes were flying southward across the Mediterranean in an attempt to stem the British wave, eyewitness reports said. The Germans also used heavy transport planes towing gliders in rush deliveries of anti-tank guns and other equipment, British officers said.

New Zealand and Indian troops pouring thru and around Axis defenses took Bardia, Sidi Azeiz, and Sidi Omar Nuovo, it was announced yesterday.

The victorious imperial forces were reported to have put a great ring around Germans still holding heavily fortified positions at Sollum and Halfaya [Hellfire] pass.

Capture of Bardia, it was stated, not only closed the exit from those two areas but it made the axis supply situation critical. Sollum and Halfaya pass have no water supply of their own and the pipe line from Bardia was cut off. When the axis forces have exhausted their reserves, if any, they are finished, the British said.

Rain Floods Gullies.

New Zealanders who had swept around the southern end of the axis frontier defense line at Sidi Omar took Sidi Azeiz from the rear despite pouring rain which converted dry gullies into roaring torrents. Sidi Azeiz was the western rear guard post of Fort Capuzzo whose capture by the same troops was reported Saturday.

In attacking these points in the center of the axis defense line, the British picked out posts held exclusively by Premier Mussolini's troops. Many of the Italians quickly surrendered, they said.

The New Zealanders pushed on northwestward toward Gambut and sent only a detachment to occupy Bardia. This seaside harbor, seven miles northwest of the Egyptian frontier, previously had been reported fortified heavily by the Germans, but it was found abandoned. The British thus came into Bardia for the second time in this war. It was captured Jan. 5, 1941, after a siege that began Dec. 17. Germans retook Bardia last April.

Indians Take Sidi Omar Nuovo.

Sidi Omar Nuovo, nine miles northwest of Sidi Omar, was captured by Indian troops which also had driven around the end of the axis line and then pushed westward into the desert.

German motorized units, which the British were determined to destroy, apparently were making every effort to burst thru the narrow gap between Tobruk on the coast and Rezegh, 10 miles to the south, and escape the trap and four or five separate encirclements within it.

But they were locked in a battle with speedy tanks from American factories which was growing more bitter by the hour.

Charging across the sharp gulches which break the plateau and slope down to the sea in this battlefield, British manned tanks fired into their German adversaries, received withering blasts in return, scattered, reformed for new attacks in a continuous and almost uncharted melée.

Twelve ton American tanks were said to be fighting 18 ton machines

ARMS PROGRAM IS BRANDED JUST NEW BOONDOGGLE

15 Billions Spent, Only 2 Divisions Equipped.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—The American national rearmament program has degenerated into "just another New Deal boondoggle," asserted Rep. Daniel A. Reed [R., N. Y.] in concluding an exhaustive review of armament spending since June, 1940.

"During the last 16 months, President Roosevelt has managed to spend a little more than 15 billion dollars on defense alone," Reed said, "and yet we have it from our military authorities today that this country has only two army divisions [about 35,000 men] fully manned and equipped for war service. We have less combat tonnage actually commissioned in our navy, save for the ships recently transferred from the coast guard; and we have a smaller tonnage of merchant ships under American flag registry.

[The OPM reported yesterday that industrial rearmament spending was running far above that of the World war. Story on page 28.]

Spend Millions for Propaganda.

"Despite our urgent needs in heavy equipment, millions of dollars are being squandered this year in government propaganda, most of it calculated to excite needless fears and uncritical hysteria in our people.

"Small business plants are being closed down right and left, for want of essential raw materials. 'Priorities unemployment' is spreading in every state. Food prices are soaring, until many of our people find themselves forced gradually to a reduced standard of living.

"There are about 200,000 manufacturing plants in the United States. Only about 8,000 are engaged on defense contracts. Yet many of the remaining 192,000 are denied the materials with which to work.

Administration in Tangle.

"These things point to a serious administrative tangle—a situation which thwarts national defense and undermines our whole system of private enterprise.

"Yet we know that the New Deal has added more than 600,000 men and women to the civil pay rolls of the federal government since June, 1940—exclusive, of course, of the increase in the military personnel. Today there are approximately 1,700 civilians being added to the federal pay roll every day! During the last three months the civilian rolls have expanded faster than all the United States military services combined."

POLL SHOWS U. S. JOB INSURANCE RULE OPPOSED

Reno, Nev., Nov. 23 (AP).—Gov. E. P. Carville said today that on the basis of letters received from 25 governors he would formulate plans to oppose federalization of state employment security departments.

Carville said he had received reliable information some time ago that the Federal Social Security board had recommended to President Roosevelt that the government take over operations of the board's program in all states.

These program are handled by the various states' unemployment compensation and employment service departments.

To obtain a nation-wide consensus, Carville said he wrote to all the governors, asserting federalization was a direct challenge to state rights and that employers and employés covered by law would have no voice in the program. The governor received replies from 25 governors, most of them opposing federalization.

REP. GRANT ASKS INQUIRY ON REDS IN U. S. EMPLOY

Raps Administration for Failure to Act.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Rep. Robert A. Grant [R., Ind.] today urged a congressional investigation to determine the number of communists and "fellow travelers" employed in the various agencies of the federal government.

"The employment of communist sympathizers in Washington has been brought to the attention of the administrative branch on three different occasions recently," Grant said, "but to date there has been no action. It seems to me, therefore, the matter would be a proper subject for inquiry by the judiciary committee of the house of representatives."

Suggests Bar to Payment.

Grant said that if the administration continues to conceal the communist fellow traveler pay roll, congress might deal with the matter effectively by inserting in all future appropriations bills a clause forbidding the payment of federal salaries to persons known to be affiliated with subversive political organizations.

Grant cited the letter in which Rep. Martin Dies [D., Tex.], chairman of the house committee on un-American activities, informed the attorney general Oct. 17 last of the employment of 1,124 communists and fellow travelers by the government, listing the names. Nine of them are in the President's office.

Cites Failure to Act.

"Yet no action has been taken to cleanse the federal pay rolls of these communist sympathizers," said Grant. "A military alliance with communism is repugnant to many Americans. But turning whole segments of the American government itself over to fellow traveler administrators is far worse.

"If the White House approves the employment of communist fellow travelers in the federal agencies the American people are entitled to know the facts in the case. A prompt inquiry into these matters by the judiciary committee of the house would serve the public interest."

5 Cab Drivers Acquitted of Fatally Beating Private

Alexandria, La., Nov. 23 (AP).—A jury early today acquitted five cab drivers charged with manslaughter in the death of Private Carl E. Hoppe, 25 year old Camp Livingston soldier from Oshkosh, Wis., fatally beaten in a tavern fight last July. The verdict freed Ernest Dykes, Earl Franks, Albert Marcotte, Kermit Keltner, and W. M. Smith. The cabmen originally were indicted for murder, but the state later reduced the charges.

WOMAN'S WORK NEVER DONE: AN A-NO. 1 EXAMPLE!

Wins Corn Crop Title and Runs 9 Room House!

"A man may work from sun to sun,
But a woman's work is never done."

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

A farmer's wife has a full time job in the kitchen, the farmer a long day in the field. It takes a champion to combine both jobs.

And that is what Mrs. Lillian Barger of Rochester, Ind., does. She is the woman's champion corn grower of the nation and in private life a one woman dynamo on a farm. Today, in recognition of her ability as a grower of corn, Mrs. Barger will receive a large bronze trophy [one thing more to dust] at a luncheon given by the De Kalb Agricultural association in the Stevens hotel. Evan Sanderson of Flora, Ind., national champion, also will receive a trophy.

All in the Day's Work.

"It's nothing to get excited about," Mrs. Barger said yesterday. "It's all in the day's work. I put 88 acres in corn because I have 170 hogs and they've got to be fed."

Mrs. Barger entered the national De Kalb hybrid corn growing contest along with 10,000 other farmers and turned in a yield of 130.04 bushels an acre, a new record for corn grown by women anywhere. This is more than four times the national average of 31.1 bushels an acre. Sanderson raised 173.03 bushels an acre, exceeding last year's national mark by 16 bushels.

A tall, thin, middle-aged woman, Mrs. Barger paced around her room in the Stevens hotel and admitted that she worked 296 acres of land with only the aid of one farm hand and at the same time maintained a nine room home.

Scratches On Her Hands.

"'Scuse the scratches on my hands but I been shucking corn," she said to her visitor. She looked down rather proudly at her recently polished finger nails, and then asked, "You want to know how I spend my day?"

"Well, I get up around 3:30 in the morning, build the fire, go out and feed the cows and horses, then come in and get my coffee. After breakfast I milk the cows. The chores get done about 8 o'clock and then I'm ready to start work. I go out to the field and do whatever is necessary, making hay, shucking corn, driving the tractor or whatever it is. Around noon, I come in and cook lunch for my hand and my brother who lives just west of me.

She Goes Back to Work.

"After the dishes are done, I go back to work. About 4:30 I come in, feed the chickens, get the cows in and all the rest of the chores, then I cook supper. I cook a good supper with plenty to eat. I like a good meal. When everything's cleaned up after supper I do what I want. I bake, can preserves, do all the laundry and cleaning. It's rather a bad time to be doing housework in the evening, but that's the only time I get."

Catching a glimpse of her visitor's face, Mrs. Berger laughed. "Think that's a lot? It isn't so much. What would I do with my time otherwise? A body's got to have a home."

WAGNER FAVORS ARBITRATION OF LABOR DISPUTES

New York, Nov. 23 (AP).—Sen. Robert F. Wagner [D., N. Y.] asserted tonight he disagreed with those who talked of "cracking down" on labor, and suggested instead the creation of an emergency board for voluntary arbitration of labor disputes and recognition of labor in the armament program on a par with industry.

The father of far-reaching labor legislation said that only if democratic methods of resolving labor-management disputes failed would circumstances "drive us inescapably to the use of force or repressive legislation."

Wagner in suggesting the machinery for voluntary mediation be strengthened, declared that while the defense mediation board had done a "wonderful job" in settling a majority of disputes, it had been a "makeshift device."

Of the recent captive coal mines' controversy, the senator said it was his belief that the steel executives involved should have accepted voluntarily the CIO United Mine Workers' union shop proposal because it made for industrial stability and peace.

SEN. GILLETTE PINCH HITTER ON PAPER ROUTE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23 (AP).—That obviously inexperienced newsboy who banged the papers up against the front doors of some Washington homes was Sen. Guy M. Gillette [D., Ia.].

Sen. Guy M. Gillette.

The 62 year old senator took over the delivery route of his 12 year old son, Guy, yesterday when the lad was ill with a cold—and the senate was in recess. Gillette explains his technique this way:

"I was a farm boy and I don't know much about the tricks of delivering papers. My son gave me a list of where his customers lived and I followed instructions. I used my car, stopping at each address. I simply left the papers there and then continued until the papers were all gone."

New York, Dec. 23 [Special].—Despondent at his failure to obtain a loan of $10,000 from the government, Carl P. Knudson, 55 years old, a building contractor, killed himself today by inhaling illuminating gas in his office. In Knudson's pocket was a note that described his unsuccessful efforts to obtain a loan to carry on his business. The note added: "I would have done better, I guess, if I hadn't been a citizen."

STOCKWOMEN VIE WITH OLD FOES—THE MEN

Groom Their Charges for Annual Show.

The perennial rivalry between men and women stock exhibitors will highlight the 42d International Live Stock exposition, which opens an eight day stay in the International amphitheater at 41st and Halsted streets Saturday.

Women have kept pace with the men and have won a great share of laurels at past exhibitions. This year the competition promises to be keener, for 20 of the leading stockwomen of the country, a record number, have filed entries in practically every class and breed.

Mrs. Ethel Mars of Oak Park, owner of the Milky Way farm in Pulaski, Tenn., and an habitual blue ribbon winner, has selected 20 head of prize Hereford cattle as her entry in this year's show.

Mrs. Alice Smith Hackney of Cold Saturday farm, near Finksburg, Md., is showing 10 head of Aberdeen-Angus cattle. Another exhibitor of this breed will be Irene Brown, whose entry in 1938 won the grand championship. She is a former 4-H club star member who invested her winnings in raising Aberdeen-Angus cattle.

Other entries in cattle classes have been filed by Katherine E. Croisant, Arlington, Ill.; Josephine Kinsinger, Cheona, Ill.; Luella Padgett, Kellerville, Ill.; Janet Witte, Collinsville, Ill.; Una Adams, Earlville, Ia., and Mrs. John Simons, owner of the famed Simons Angus farms near Maize, Kas.

Two sisters, Jean and Ruth Ann Clark of Clark's Hill, Ind., have entered two types of sheep. Jean will show Southdowns, and Ruth Ann's entry is a quartet of Cheviot wethers.

In the pure bred draft horse class, Mrs. A. G. Wilson of Rochester, Mich., will show six Belgians. She has won consistently at past exhibitions. Charlotte V. Bergin of Bernardsville, N. J., is sending two Belgians, and Marilyn Read of Richland, Mich., is exhibiting a Percheron.

The pick of the continent's live stock will be shown at the exposition, with 12,546 entries listed.

SPENDING SLASH OF 1,784 MILLION URGED BY LEAGUE

Farm and Work Aid Cuts Are Recommended.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Calling for drastic reductions in nonessential government spending, the National Economy league tonight listed specific cuts of 1 billion, 784 million dollars—a saving of $52 per family—which it contends can be made.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd.

The league's study was prepared for submission to Sen. Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.] chairman of a joint committee on nonessential expenditures which is investigating means of reducing spending by the federal government.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau has proposed in the past that ordinary expenditures be reduced by 1 billion dollars annually, but Byrd has expressed the opinion that 2 billion can be lopped off the federal budget to save funds for the rearmament program.

Make 10,000 Word Report.

The league, which is a private research organization, stressed economies in farm payments, work relief, aid to youth, and public works in its study on the subject, as contained in a 10,000 word report.

Declaring that the rearmament program alone will represent a cost this year of $515 per average family, the report said that "there is no magical way of meeting this cost." It can be met, said the report, only by [1] taxes, [2] defense bonds, [3] reduction in nonessential spending, and [4] price inflation, "which is a cruel and insiduous form of taxation."

The first three must be pressed to the utmost if the fourth is to be avoided, the report continued.

"There can be no justification for supporting governmental activities which are less essential than the civilian standard of living which would be sacrificed thru unnecessarily high taxes or inflation," the report said.

Detail of Proposals.

The league recommended the following specific cuts in federal spending during the current fiscal year, ending June 30, 1942:

[In millions of dollars.]

	Federal Budgt.	N. E. L. Proposals.	Saving
General government.	874	774	100
General Public Works program	533	270	263
Aids to agriculture	1,061	500	561
Aids to youth	363	100	263
Work relief	1,034	555	479
Social security	463	430	33
Veterans' pensions and benefits	564	549	15
Refunds	89	89	...
Interest on public debt	1,225	1,225	...
Transfers to trust accounts	275	256	19
Supplemental items—regular	100	50	50
Total	6,581	4,798	1,783

"The continuation of heavy subsidies from the public treasury in spite of a prodigious increase in farm income is the least justifiable of all federal nondefense spending," the league report asserted. "If the defense burden is to be distributed with even a semblance of equity, a sharp reduction in these payments is imperative."

Sees Increased Farm Prices.

Lend-lease expenditures for farm commodities, estimated at 1 billion 500 million dollars under the two lend-lease appropriations, will exceed all other federal farm payments combined, the league said. "Regardless of the primary motive for this outlay from the public treasury, the result is to increase farm prices and income to an extent allowing of a large reduction in direct subsidies."

Concerning public works, the league recommended cuts on the highway program, flood control, rivers and harbors and reclamation projects. Only Friday, the house rivers and harbors committee recommended passage of a billion dollar waterway and power projects bill, including items for the controversial St. Lawrence seaway and Florida ship canal.

Opposes Parity Payments.

The league recommended that parity payments, sugar act payments, and the reduction in interest on farm mortgages be eliminated, and that soil conservation payments and other aids to agriculture be reduced by more than one-third. The report suggested consolidation of the NYA and CCC under the office of education. Large savings could be made also by abandoning WPA as an administrative organization and utilizing the existing facilities of state welfare agencies for necessary direct relief, the report asserted.

'POLAR BEARS' SPLASH IN LAKE AT 27 DEGREES

Altho yesterday's snowfall ranged from 1.3 to 3.1 inches and the temperature hovered around 27 degrees, a dozen members of the Polar Bears club splashed around in the lake near the Edgewater Beach hotel and had a grand time [they said].

The weather bureau reported that more than three inches of snow were recorded at Chicago airport while slightly more than an inch fell at the University of Chicago. While driving conditions were uncertain because of icy spots on the highways early in the morning, the rain had turned to snow before the temperature fell and the roads were generally clear, according to the Chicago Motor club.

Today and tomorrow will be fair with 100 per cent sunshine, according to the forecaster. The highest temperature today is expected to be near 30 degrees.

Figures Show Only 121,000 Now Out of Work in France

VICHY, France, Nov. 23.—Statistics compiled recently showed that the number of unemployed persons in France on Aug. 30 was 121,000, compared to 137,000 on Aug. 2, 279,000 on May 8, and 528,000 on Nov. 2, 1940. Of the latest figure, 43,000 were unfit for work or more than 60 years of age, which qualifies them for old age pensions. The work week now averages slightly less than 39 hours.

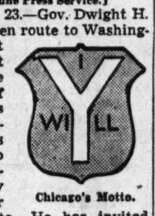
GREEN WILL URGE IN CAPITAL: HELP NON-WAR PLANTS

Seeks Aid of All Illinois Congressmen.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Akron, O., Nov. 23.—Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois, en route to Washington, D. C., tonight announced that will solicit the united support of the two senators and 27 congressmen from Illinois in a campaign to get more war contracts and new war industries for this shorted state. He has invited them, Democrats and Republicans alike, to attend a luncheon meeting he has called at the Mayflower hotel in the capital tomorrow.



Chicago's Motto.

The young Republican governor from the midwest also is invading the New Deal capital in behalf of the priority pinched small industries and in behalf of an estimated 125,000 workers faced with "priority unemployment." It has been charged that elements within the Roosevelt administration are exaggerating reports of material shortages in furtherance of radical political philosophies that would kill small business and socialize big business.

Carries Statistical Data.

Green has an appointment tomorrow with Floyd B. Odlum, director of the division of contract distribution of the Office of Production Management. The governor's portfolio contains statistical arguments showing that Illinois, third in population and third in industrial capacity in the United States, ranks fourteenth in the volume of defense and lend-lease business that it has received.

The governor said he also hopes to see Secretary of the Treasury Henry L. Morgenthau. Illinois pays 8.27 per cent of the country's internal revenue collections, altho it contains only 5.98 of the population. Illinois has purchased 7.96 per cent of the national sale of defense bonds and 6.7 per cent of the defense stamps.

"Yet we have received less than 3 per cent of the armament business," Green commented to fellow members of his mission en route to Washington. "Illinois can't continue its tax support of the federal government if our economic structure is going to be wrecked by killing the small industries."

In the plea for more armament contracts for Illinois, the governor said he will cite statistics to show that this state's capacity to produce for the army and navy has barely been tapped by the $627,549,000 in contracts placed in Illinois from June of last year to the first of last month. THE TRIBUNE has been campaigning for a larger portion of this business in the billions that are still to be spent.

Entitled to Know Facts.

"Hundreds of factories face extinction under the defense program unless they are given special consideration," said the governor. "Their equipment is not suitable for any of the articles needed for war. Their normal production is for civilian needs that will continue. But they are threatened with a shutdown on their supplies of materials.

"There are reports that many of the so-called shortages in several basic materials are fiction or artificial. Private industry is entitled to know the facts. Companies and their employés must not be made to suffer for any shortages due to hoarding."

Five states received either more than twice or almost twice as much as the $627,549,000 awarded to Illinois from June, 1940, to the first of last month. California was top with $2,612,474,000, followed by New York with $1,944,352,000, New Jersey with $1,697,203,000 Michigan with $1,283,703,000, and Pennsylvania with $1,224,402,000.

Eight other states ahead of Illinois were Ohio, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Texas, Washington, Maryland, Virginia, and Indiana, with totals ranging from Ohio's $1,110,358,000 to Indiana's $654,389,000.

Accompanying Gov. Green on his venture east are Murray M. Baker and Carter Jenkins, vice chairman and coördinator, respectively, of the Illinois State Council of Defense. Also in the party are Frederick A. Virkus, president of the Illinois division of the National Small Business Men's association, and A. F. Shafter, Decatur manufacturer, who is a member of the Illinois Public Aid commission.

TURKEY HEARS NAZI ULTIMATUM TO VICHY IS NEAR

Will Demand Fleet and Bases, Report.

[Copyright: 1941: By the New York Times.]

ANKARA, Turkey, Nov. 23.—A German ultimatum to the Vichy government demanding the French fleet for convoy service and the establishment of German bases in French Tunisia will be served this week, according to information received today by foreign intelligence sources.

The ultimatum will be delivered to Chief of State Marshal Henri Philippe Petain and Vice Premier Admiral Francois Darlan by Reich Marshal Herman Goering himself, it was said.

The alternative will be total occupation of France, overthrow of the Vichy government, and imprisonment of the government leaders, according to the information.

Release Million Prisoners.

In return for the use of the French fleet and establishment of North African bases, the reich will promise to release 1,000,000 French prisoners of war and withdraw troops from Paris and other parts of occupied France, leaving only "token units."

Germany is gravely alarmed by the British North African offensive, it was reported, and is preparing to force an alliance with France, dropping Italy from the axis to all intents and purposes. German leaders are said to regard as certain the total destruction of the Italian forces in the western desert.

Reports of a renewed German offensive against Moscow and an all-out drive to consolidate gains about Rostov indicated to foreign military experts here that Germany is attempting to produce a "decisive phase" in the eastern campaign, enabling the withdrawal of many divisions for service in Africa. Reports that some élite units already had been withdrawn from the northern Russian front could not be confirmed.

Big Sea Battle Predicted.

A foreign military expert, discussing probable developments growing out of the North African offensive and the situation in France, declared:

"I shouldn't be surprised to see American and British warships engaged in battle with French cruisers and destroyers, manned by French crews and German officers, in the Mediterranean within 10 days or two weeks. This may be the showdown between the Americans, the Germans, and the French that we have all been expecting. This coming week may be the turning point in the entire war."

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

THE QUESTION.

WHERE ASKED.

North Western Station.

THE ANSWERS.

Paul Alexander, seaman, 3d class, Great Lakes Naval Training station—One of those out of town American Legion bands came to town and marched down the street playing "Anchors Aweigh." Right then and there I decided to be an adventurous seaman. And now, when our own navy band plays that tune, I can still see the American Legion band marching down the way.

Clarence Olson, cigar clerk, YMCA hotel, 826 South Wabash avenue—When I was a kid I didn't like it when the old grown-up gang used to call me "Baby Face." But now every time I hear the song "Baby Face," those good old days come back when I tagged along to the swimming hole and went on long expeditions thru the woods.

Betty Robinson, saleswoman, 5807 Barry avenue—To this day I can imitate a good blush whenever I hear the song "Top Hat." I was dancing on the stage to that song in my top hat and slacks when a most important button on my slacks popped and the audience got the benefit of a strip tease. I never left the stage so suddenly in my life.

Mrs. R. A. Brown, saleswoman, 2122 North Kedzie avenue—The first song Mr. Brown ever sang to me was "The Pagan Love Song." He sang it a lot on our honeymoon in Guatemala, too. And now I can almost relive my honeymoon trip and recall all the "moonlit waters" we saw by just playing that record.

Perry Stockman, army private, Duluth Minn.—Years before I joined the army I used to go to the army band concerts in the armory in Duluth just to hear "When the Caissons Go Rolling Along." The whole school gang would be there—popcorn, peanuts, and all. That was a special night for all of us. I'm reminded of it plenty where I am now.

Ruth Walts, clerk, 455 Roslyn place—Once I loved a man. No song fit my sad case better than "Night and Day." But I almost got over it and was out with another friend when the orchestra did a beautiful rendition of my song. I burst into tears. Now every time I hear it, it reminds me of an embarrassing situation.

BATISTA SEES U. S. AND CUBA IN WAR BY NEXT SPRING

Tells Workers Liberty Is at Stake.

HAVANA, Cuba, Nov. 23 (AP).—President Fulgencio Batista of Cuba predicted in a speech today that the United States would be in the war by next spring and added that "when the United States declares war, Cuba will be the first nation to enter the war on her side."

Fulgencio Batista.

Batista was addressing an estimated 70,000 workers gathered in the great plaza before the presidential palace to demonstrate their approval of his recent decrees increasing wages thruout the republic.

Batista said that it is recognized that America was unprepared for war, "but the oppressors know that if Americans lack arms they are ready to fight barehanded for liberty."

"America," he said, "is aiding England and Russia wherever possible. America has not sent men to Europe, but America will send men if the liberty of Europe depends on the men of America.

"To be indifferent in these times would mean that we are not men. Cuba is a small country without resources, but the little we have we cheerfully place on the altar of liberty for the men who are dying for liberty.

"Cuba awaits the orders of the leading nation in America — the United States."

Lazaro Pena, head of the Cuban confederation of workers, which sponsored the meeting, had said previously that "true Spaniards will give their lives for democracy."

BRITISH SUGGEST U.S. EXPEDITION OCCUPY MOROCCO

Believe Libya Drive Will Force America In.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 24 [Monday].—Establishment by the United States of a "peacetime garrison" in Morocco to save the French North African possession from German occupation was suggested today in the Daily Herald.

Under the headline, "We Mustn't Let Germany Sneak Into Morocco," an article by Ward Price asks that the United States send there a "peacetime garrison of the same kind as she already maintains in Iceland and Greenland."

He recommends this action in the belief that "altho the landing of British and Free French troops in that country might be resisted as it was at Dakar, the arrival of an American garrison would be welcomed by many Frenchmen who want Morocco saved from German occupation."

Expect U. S. War on Italy.

The British campaign in Libya, 1,500 miles east of Morocco, is dominating the news in London and is regarded as having far reaching importance, including the bringing about of further American participation in the conflict.

A. B. Austin, also writing in the Daily Herald under the title, "Libya —Real Objective," asserts that "every step westward along the deserted coast and every move toward destruction of the axis desert divisions brings nearer the day we can begin America's war on Italy."

The Daily Express, in an editorial, says that "to win the war we must strangle the enemy on the Mediterranean coastline, then as America increasingly identifies herself with the anti-Nazi cause the European mainland will be opened to a direct attack from Mediterranean waters."

Leahy's Recall Predicted.

The direct evidence of America's interest in the Libyan operations also is shown in the state department's reaction to the resignation of Gen. Maxime Weygand as France's proconsul in North Africa. His resignation is regarded as preparatory to a German penetration into Morocco or at least her use of Bizerta as a naval base.

Mme. Genevieve Tabouis, French writer who fled to the United States, cables the Sunday Dispatch that the United States state department is revising its diplomatic relations with Vichy and is considering the recall of Ambassador William D. Leahy.

Diplomatic correspondents in London frequently refer to an imminent Washington-Vichy break and assert that the state department contemplates recognizing Gen. Charles De Gaulle's "Free French" government and aid in financing De Gaulle under the lend-lease law.

Discuss Occupation of Island.

This morning's Daily Sketch "Inside Information" column, says:

"The United States is taking steps to prevent Nazi infiltration into the French West Indian islands of Martinique and Guadeloupe now that President Roosevelt is convinced that Vichy is moving closer toward the axis."

Suggesting that the first step will be the dispatch of naval and military missions to those islands in the capacity of observers, the Sketch continues:

"If this is refused and there are indications of Nazi incursion, President Roosevelt will take more drastic steps. Occupation of the islands is a possibility."

U. S. Officers in England.

The Sunday Dispatch yesterday reported "United States experts here on the new war link up," mentioning the presence of numerous "American army and navy officers as well as technicians and instructors."

"Tho they work in uniform they are not conspicuous because they have been quietly drafted to important operations centers of the British army and air force, studying every angle of the war," it stated. The story pointed out that should America be involved in the war the observations of these experts will be of immense help.

Love Slaying

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]
Janet Wood and Frederick Rabe.

New York, Nov. 23 (AP).—Clement Wood, author and poet, said tonight that 23 year old Janet Wood, found shot to death with her fiancé, Frederick Rabe, 34, in her apartment last night, was his daughter.

Wood said he had known of his daughter's plans to marry Rabe soon and added he had found Rabe "a splendid chap in every way during the 12 years I've known him."

The bodies of Miss Wood, a pretty brunette model, and Rabe, described by police as a writer, were found by Gusta Thorsteinsson, the model's roommate, when she returned to their upper east side apartment.

Detectives listed the case as a murder and suicide. The police theory was that Rabe shot the young woman in a fit of jealousy after a quarrel.

COL. DONOVAN'S REMOVAL ASKED BY 4,000 IN N. Y.

New York, Nov. 23 [Special].—Removal by President Roosevelt of Col. William J. Donovan as United States coördinator of information was demanded today in a resolution adopted by 4,000 men and women of Irish birth or descent at a meeting here of the American Friends of Irish Neutrality.

The resolution demanded Donovan's removal on the ground he had given encouragement to "a scheme to induce the Irish people in Ireland to permit their country to be used as a battlefield for Great Britain."

The resolution charged that, as revealed by Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], noninterventionist leader, several government officials attended a meeting in Col. Donovan's office in advancement of a "scheme" to induce Ireland to turn over its ports and bases to Great Britain.

ROB STREET CAR CONDUCTOR.

BRITISH CAPTURE 3 FORTS IN LIBYA; 'TRAP' GERMANS

Termed "honeys" by rough-riding British Hussar regiments now converted to iron and gasoline warfare, the high speed American light tanks were described as driving in at close range against slower but bigger German tanks, splitting up their formations and cracking their iron shells with well placed cannon shots.

While this phase of the offensive, which the British regard as the most crucial, was reported to be progressing favorably to the British, military quarters asserted axis forces had been cut into four isolated units.

One group, probably about a division of Germans and Italians was holding the advanced axis positions at Sollum and Halfaya pass on the coast in Egypt.

A second axis force was declared to be isolated in the Gambut coastal area, 37 miles east of Tobruk and 55 miles northwest of Bardia.

A third force of Italians, pushed aside to the west when the main British armored columns plunged straight thru toward Tobruk, was reported in the vicinity of Bir El Gobi, 40 miles south of Tobruk. This badly mauled Italian tank outfit apparently was being thrown into the fight again yesterday. Otherwise the Italians appeared to have been put out of the battle.

The fourth axis group was the German tank force engaged in the gap between Tobruk and Rezegh.

Gap Reported Closing Rapidly.

This gap was declared in today's communique to be closing. The Tobruk garrison which shook off its axis siege lines Saturday and started an offensive of its own, was said to be continuing its advance thru a two mile wide mine belt, capturing hundreds of prisoners, half of them Germans.

Advanced British headquarters said they already had captured German tanks immobilized for lack of fuel, and the growing difficulty of German supply might in the end determine the battle. The Germans' huge fuel and ammunition dumps around Gambut already were threatened by the New Zealanders, who had reached a position just south of there and who were closing in on the airport.

While German Gen. Erwin Rommel's tanks might be able to get supplies from Derna, farther west, his transport was taking a terrific punishment from the royal air force, which yesterday reported destroying at least 100 fuel trucks.

German air opposition increased yesterday but RAF pilots reported that they continued to dominate the skies.

Low flying RAF attacks, in coöperation with the ground forces, blasted German tanks and armored cars, and supply convoys coming from Barce, Derna, and Ain El Gazala.

The air communique listed four axis planes destroyed against 13 British.

Torpedo Plane Hits Cruiser.

Torpedo carrying British naval planes were credited with a direct hit on an Italian cruiser in an attack on a convoy in the central Mediterranean. A communique said a large freighter probably also was hit and that other ships were straddled with shells.

British submarines in another engagement were said to have torpedoed and possibly sunk an axis cruiser.

"When the cruiser was attacked it formed a part of a force of three cruisers and three destroyers," a communique said. "This force subsequently was sighted by aircraft. Only two cruisers were then seen and a large area of the sea in the vicinity was covered with fuel oil."

It added that "an enemy destroyer has been hit by two torpedoes and probably sunk" and said two axis supply ships had been torpedoed.

BRITISH LOSE 550 TANKS, ARMORED CARS, ROME SAYS

Italians Claim 27 Planes and Naval Victories.

ROME, Nov. 23 (AP).—The Italian high command declared today that axis armie, resisting the British offensive on the Libyan desert had put 550 tanks and armored cars out of action and "neatly repulsed" all attacks with heavy losses for the British.

[An Italian radio broadcast heard in New York said a British general had been captured on the Libyan front. The broadcast did not identify the officer.]

On the Tobruk front, where the British said their long besieged garrison had burst forth to aid in trapping German tanks, the Italian communique said German and Italian troops together "pinned down numerous enemy tanks and inflicted notable losses, frustrating every enemy attempt at a sortie from the fortress."

Claim Air and Naval Victories.

Destruction of 27 British planes, the firing and grounding of a British warship and the sinking of an "enemy" submarine were also reported in the fighting on the desert and the Mediterranean. Loss of eight Italian planes was acknowledged.

The high command said that the Italian Ariete [battering ram] division, which appeared to be bearing the brunt of the combined smashes of British and American tanks and airplanes in the Libyan fighting, alone had destroyed more than 250 "enemy armored units," including 55 tanks. The division also had captured several hundred prisoners, the communique said.

Germans were credited with destruction of another 200 tanks and Italian and German air fighters together were said to have left more than 100 more British tanks and armored cars burning on desert sands.

The British warship, standing off Bardia, evidently aiding with its guns a land attack on that North African port, was said by the high command to have been set aflame and driven aground against the desert cliffs.

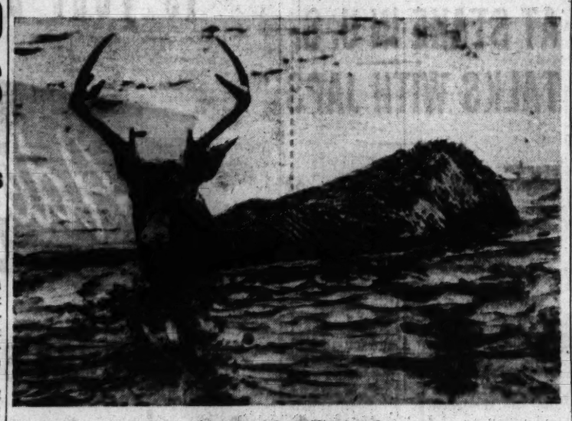
Torpedo Boats Sink Sub.

Two Italian torpedo boats also sank an "enemy" submarine with depth charges in the central Mediterranean, the high command said.

Seventeen of the 27 British planes claimed downed were credited to Italian planes and anti-aircraft gunners in "land action of the past days." Six more were shot out of the sky over Malta, the communique reported, when Italian airmen flying planes with "new, superior characteristics" fought 40 British planes. Three more British bombers and a torpedo launching plane were shot down into the Mediterranean Friday, the report said.

The surrender Friday of the Italian defenders of the Culquabert and Ferroaber positions in East Africa [announced yesterday by the British] also was acknowledged. Hard fighting was reported at Celga, one of the last approaches to Gondar held by the Italians. Gondar is the only important Ethiopian city remaining in Italian hands.

Deer Takes an Involuntary Mud Bath



[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

This buck deer, fleeing from dogs, plunged into Mud bay flats near Olympia, Wash., and became tightly mired. A game warden rescued the animal with a rope.

Fights Rescuers

Olympia, Wash., Nov. 23 (AP).—A husky deer, which became stuck in the mud of nearby Mud bay flats this week in trying to escape from two hounds, didn't take well to the efforts of State Game Warden Matt Boone and nearby residents to rescue him.

Boone tied a rope around the deer's antlers and the rescuers found they had several hundred pounds of lively deer on the end of the line. They permitted the buck to tire himself out, then hauled him from his mud bath. They liberated him into nearby woods.

Crew Fires British Bomber Forced Down in Portugal

LISBON, Portugal, Nov. 23 (AP).—A British two motored bomber made a forced landing today at the new Lisbon airdrome, now under construction. The crew of six landed safely, set the plane afire and surrendered for internment.

AXIS 'STEMMING' ATTACK IN LIBYA, BERLIN REPORTS

Violent Tank and Plane Clashes Admitted.

BERLIN, Nov. 23 (AP).—The German high command said today that axis armies were stemming the British offensive in Libya in "successful battles" featured by violent tank and air clashes and enormous destruction of war materials.

The fighting there did not appear in German dispatches to have reached a decisive stage yet, but DNB, official German news agency, said the issue "can be decided in a few days."

Extreme caution characterized the German reports. No place names were given nor any hint of where the battle lines were drawn. What few announcements there were emphasized only the violence of the encounters between masses of tanks and airplanes.

260 Tanks Reported Smashed.

The high command, apparently covering the period since the British launched their drive from the Egyptian border toward besieged Tobruk, claimed that more than 260 British tanks and 200 armored cars had been smashed. There was no hint of the German losses.

The Germans also asserted that 25 British planes had been destroyed and newspapers published Italian dispatches, listing other vast quantities of equipment destroyed.

Because of the vast destruction of war materials some German commentators were doubting that the present tempo could long be maintained in Libya.

Claim Drive Must Taper Off.

"Experience shows that heavy initial losses in an attack soon cause an assault to lose its momentum," DNB said.

The agency counseled Germans to regard the situation confidently, since the high command felt justified in applying the term "successful" to the axis resistance.

Dispatches here said that at least one British effort to break out of Tobruk thru a semicircular line of land besiegers had been repulsed.

German reports also told of an attack by axis planes on British tank formations somewhere south of Tobruk.

French Canadian Troops Attend London High Mass

LONDON, Nov. 23 (AP).—Thirteen hundred French Canadian troops in battle dress attended a solemn high mass in Westminster cathedral today and were told that Britain is proud of the dominion's French residents who have kept their religion, language, and customs since the 17th century. The Canadians are from Quebec, Ontario, and New Brunswick. After the service the troops formed and marched past their officers standing on the cathedral steps.

With the 1st army in the Carolinas, Nov. 23 (AP).—Soldiers of Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum's 1st army, a week of mock war behind them, moved to new concentration areas today in pea soup weather for a final week of battle training.

Beginning probably Tuesday, they will engage the opposing forces, the 4th army corps, led by Maj. Gen. Oscar W. Griswold. These men also moved to new oases over the weekend.

The 300,000 men spent last Thursday—Thanksgiving—in the midst of a mock battle. So their turkey and trimmings were delayed until today. Each soldier received about a pound of turkey.

A TIMELY BATTLE SAVES AMERICAN FROM NAZI TANKS

Observer 'On Spot' Finds He's Sitting Pretty.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH BRITISH ADVANCED FORCES IN LIBYA, Nov. 22 [Delayed].—Col. Bonner Fellers, American military attaché in Cairo, had the rare good luck today to watch a fight between American and German tanks from a grandstand seat on a desert knoll. He heard gunfire and went out in a car to see what was happening. When he could not locate the fight he started back but found himself cut off by three German medium tanks approaching from the left.

Fortunately, the axis tank operators did not see him. Their attention was centered on four American light tanks which appeared on their left and engaged them. The Germans turned back and the two forces rolled out of sight northward on parallel courses, blazing away at each other at comparatively short range.

Guns Boom Incessantly.

For four days there has been scarcely a moment when one could not hear gunfire. Usually it was the rapid thud-thudding of two pound tank cannons as mechanized monsters hammered one another not far over the horizon.

We saw some of the wreckage of the first day's tank fighting. A few British and many more Italian tanks were standing useless on the battlefield. The British were burying the slain Italians. Ripped to shreds by the shell that had killed its owner, a cheap copy of an Italian translation of an Edgar Wallace mystery novel protruded from the overcoat pocket of one victim. Wallace, now dead, was an Englishman.

Just south of Rezegh and about 20 miles southeast of Tobruk tank fighting has been going on almost continuously for three days. When it gets too dark for the gunners to see their targets they fire at the gun flashes.

The British advanced tank force knifed right into there ahead of everybody else in the second day of attack and stood its ground virtually surrounded by much heavier axis forces which were reinforced by those retreating from the east.

Seek to Join Tobruk Force.

Later the British got reënforcements, too, but they have not yet forced their way thru the great concentration of axis strength to make contact with the Tobruk garrison which fought free after a seven month siege.

Yesterday 200 retreating German tanks coming from the east ran up on a force of about 40 British tanks attacking an airfield near Rezegh. Tho outnumbered five to one the British fought their way thru the German force to rejoin their main body, inflicting heavier losses than they suffered themselves, tank officers reported.

British armored car and tank men are delighted that at last they have action on equal terms with the Germans—even superior in machines. Yesterday I was with a detachment so near the axis lines that I could see the flash of field guns whose shells were whanging into the stony desert soil around us every minute while we tried to press ourselves into that soil.

The Britons had been under constant shell fire for two days. They were returning the fire, but had been ordered to hold their position rather than advance. All chafed at the restraint. They wanted to be in the battle to join the Tobruk garrison and to bag the German forces to the east.

There's Little Cover in Sand.

Fighting here has its advantages in the way of mobility, but there is almost no cover. A tank is visible from ground level five or six miles away. Desert light makes strange effects and it is often impossible to tell whether the object you see on the skyline is a tank three miles away or a gasoline can a quarter of a mile away. When vehicles are moving it is difficult to tell an ordinary automobile from an armored car or tank —and vice versa. This makes it all the more dangerous.

SEES BATTLE FROM AIR

BY EDWARD KENNEDY.

ABOARD A BRITISH BOMBER OVER THE LIBYAN BATTLEFIELD, Nov. 23 (AP).—Flying over this desert battlefield I can see the extent of operations in the sandy arena—tanks, armored cars moving swiftly to head off axis motorized infantry, and unending supply columns moving up behind them.

This plane is the one which Air Vice Marshal Arthur Coningham, the RAF's desert commander, has used on his own trips. Donning parachutes, we took off from an advanced desert air field and streaked northwestward where we saw tanks battling and infantry at grips with rifle and grenade.

American Planes Formidable.

We flew so low we could see a patch of red on the sand where one soldier was shot. Following tank tracks 30 feet below us we could reconstruct the engagements which had taken place shortly before.

We encountered so many British planes, later on as we flew higher, that they looked like schools of minnows below us in a big pool of water. One Tomahawk [American Curtiss P-40 fighter] squadron has painted all its planes like sharks—with evil eyes, fierce teeth, and since the Tomahawks are somewhat shark shaped the effect is astonishing. When one went by us we were thankful it was a friendly shark.

FLEET SEES NO AXIS SHIPS

BY LARRY ALLEN.

ABOARD FLAGSHIP QUEEN ELIZABETH WITH THE BRITISH MEDITERRANEAN FLEET OFF LIBYA, Nov. 23 (AP).—Not a single axis surface craft has been sighted by the strong British naval units which in battle formation are protecting the British garrison at Tobruk from possible bombardment by the Italian war fleet.

Apparently Premier Mussolini has no desire to risk another disaster such as that at Matapan in an effort to protect the embattled axis land forces along the North African coast. Submarines have been reported near the fleet, and destroyers have dropped depth charges, but there has been no indication that any was hit.

Four formations of axis aircraft have approached the fleet, however. They were all German planes, possibly carrying torpedoes. Off the portside a single plane suddenly dived just over a line of destroyers screening the battleships.

The pom-poms [multiple anti-aircraft guns] on the destroyers opened fire. There was a quick succession of spurts of flame with the explosions from the 4.5 inch guns of this battleship. Like a fly with a wing clipped, the German plane struggled upward into the clouds and disappeared amid blobs of black puffs from the bursting shells.

The rest of the German aircraft hung about for a few minutes and then shot out of gun range. That was the major excitement of this war cruise.

HULL'S 5-POWER PARLEY MAKES JAPS SUSPICIOUS

TOKIO, Nov. 24 [Monday].—Acceleration of the United States-Japanese negotiations in Washington is being followed here with breathless suspense which has led to a momentary pause in the hectic publicity barrage with which Japan sought to press her side in the talks.

But the five nation conference held by Secretary of State Cordell Hull in connection with these negotiations, which Japan would prefer to conduct with the United States alone, produced a painful impression here.

This conference, said the newspaper Asahi, "cast a gloom of suspicion over the American-Japanese talks and bespeaks a lack of sincerity on the part of the United States toward Japan, which the latter cannot overlook in indifference. While carrying the talks on with Japan on the one hand, the United States has been rallying into conclave countries hostile to Japan, such as Britain, Australia, The Netherlands, and Chungking, China, on the other hand, thus maneuvering to apply military and economic pressure on Japan. All this does not warrant optimism regarding the future of the American-Japanese negotiations and calls for alertness on our part."

BERLIN CALLS PARLEY OF ITS ALLIES TODAY

BERLIN, Nov. 23 (AP).—"Numerous leading statesmen representing the powers allied in the fight against bolshevism" will meet in Berlin tomorrow, an official announcement said tonight.

The meeting is to observe the anniversary of the signing of the anti-comintern pact concluded between Germany and Japan in 1936, and will "express the will to fight world bolshevism," the statement said. A state observance of the pact will follow on Tuesday, it added.

[A White House statement Saturday said Germany was planning for the near future a European conference which would arrange some "high sounding formula of economic rehabilitation and restoration of independence for all European nations." Dispatches from Vichy have announced thdt Marshal Petain is planning a journey to occupied France early this week to see a high German personage, perhaps Adolf Hitler.]

ity and comprises three-fourths as many ships as our own.

"Considering that we could use only a part of our fleet in the Pacific, and the meagerness of dock, repair and other naval facilities in the far east that would be available to service it; that we would be fighting Japan many thousands of miles from our home and source of supplies, while she would be fighting us in her home waters; that we would not be making war on her for interests vital to ourselves, whereas she would be fighting for her very existence; considering all these things in connection with what we have already committe. ourselves to in the Atlantic and elsewhere, I think it would be sheer madness for the United States to make such demands on Japan as might force us to wage a war against her now.

Gearhart Makes Reply.

"If we should be so foolhardy as to do something which would cause us to go to war against Japan now would we not be walking straight into Hitler's trap which he so cunningly laid for us; making us fight a two ocean war with but a one ocean navy?"

In replying to Smith in the debate, broadcast by the Mutual system, Rep. Bertrand W. Gearhart [R., Cal.] denounced Japan as a ruthless aggressor and treaty breaker.

"First," he said, "we must do nothing which would offer to Japan any aid or comfort in her unholy campaign to subjugate any part or portion of the Chinese republic; second, we must invoke every economic weapon we have at our command to cripple the military machine on which Japan is depending for success, and, third, we must aid and assist the victims of her aggressions in every way we can.

"If these fail, sterner policies must then be resorted to, whatever sacrifices they may entail.

"If this means war, America will face the ordeal firm in the determination that all we have learned to hold near and dear shall not perish from this earth. Japan must not prevail!"

Shaw Urges Conference.

Mark R. Shaw of the Prevention of War Council argued that if we want to prevent the extension of the war and achieve an early and permanent peace our economic embargo of Japanese trade should be relaxed, "trade should be resumed in order to give Japan the materials she needs, and immediate steps should be taken toward the calling of a conference which will seek to deal courageously, constructively and comprehensively with the problems of the Pacific area."

"We must face the causes of the present upheaval rather than just to seek to crush the tragic symptoms resulting from the efforts of a nation under great strain to use the time honored means to secure the vital necessities for its national life."

A Plea for China.

Robert Aura Smith of the New York Times cable desk warned against conclusion of "a temporary and uneasy peace" in the Pacific.

"It has frequently been urged that the United States should enter into no 'deal with the Japanese that proposed to sell China down the river'," he said. "It is vastly more important at this point that we recognize that our government cannot enter into any compact with Japan or any other power that proposes to sell the United States down the river."

MOSCOW ARMIES HURLED BACK IN 2 BATTLE AREAS

Retreat to New Positions, Russians Admit.

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Nov. 23 (AP).—Russian troops have been pushed back in the central and southern sectors of the defense arc before Moscow, dispatches from the front acknowledged tonight.

Southeast of Tula, which is the southern end of the defense arc 100 miles below Moscow, Russian troops were being pressed slowly back, reports said. They were pictured as contesting every inch of ground.

At Mozhiask, 57 miles west of Moscow in the center of the arc, a tank drive by the Germans was said to have forced the Russians to retreat to new positions.

Dispatches said the Russians stood fast at Volokolamsk, 65 miles northwest of Moscow on the northern quadrant of the defense arc.

On the Moscow front a gigantic battle raged in all sectors and was fierce especially in the direction of Klin, only 50 miles northwest of the capital on the road to Leningrad, indicating that Kalinin, northwestern anchor of Moscow's defenses, has been outflanked on the south.

Into the great assault on Moscow the Germans have poured a total of at least 17 divisions, or a quarter of a million men, it was estimated in Russian dispatches from the front.

Dispatches from the front said the Russians had retained the initiative at Kalinin, which is 95 miles northwest of Moscow, repulsing the Germans in two counterattacks yesterday. With the disclosure that fighting was under way at Klin, however, it was indicated the invaders were pounding their way into the soviet lines south of the Kalinin bulwark, which has withstood their assaults for so long.

Prevent River Crossing.

The soviet dispatches acknowledged some German gains and said the Red army had left a number of villages, but they insisted that the Germans had failed to break into the depth defenses near Moscow.

The Russian left wing was reported to have counterattacked on Thursday and to have recaptured one point while the Germans failed to advance. A German effort to cross the Nara river near Maloyaroslavets, 65 miles southwest of Moscow, was reported repulsed. Russian bayonet attacks were said to have thrown the Germans on the defensive in the Kalinin sector.

On the southern front the Germans were acknowledged to have fought their way into the important city of Rostov, at the gateway to the Caucasus, and the bloodiest house to house fighting was under way in the streets of the city today, with the defenders exacting a heavy toll as they withdrew block by block. There in the last two days the Germans have lost 55 tanks and "thousands" of men killed and wounded, the Russians said.

[Reorganized soviet forces under Marshal Timoshenko have driven the Germans back 22 miles at one point in the Donetz basin, the British radio said in a broadcast heard in America.]

Recapture Railway Town.

On the northwestern front, in the vicinity of Leningrad, the Red army has opened a counterattack and recaptured a number of points strategically situated along the main Leningrad-Moscow highway, the official army newspaper Red Star reported.

Red Star said that the Russians counterattacking over the entire northwest had recaptured Malaya Vishera, 100 miles southeast of Leningrad, as well as a station on the Moscow-Leningrad railway described as important, and a number of settlements in the region of Volkhov, also on the rail line, 20 miles nearer Leningrad, and in the vicinity of Tikhvin, north of Volkhov and about 110 miles east of Leningrad.

Russian ships have sunk three more German transports in the Barents sea [part of the Arctic north of Murmansk], where they apparently were en route to reënforce Finnish and German units in the far north, it was announced. An official report last Friday had told of the sinking of three German transports and a tanker in the same waters.

German and Finnish forces which had driven a wedge into Russian defenses in the Kestenga and Ukhta sectors of the eastern Karelian front have been thrown back to their original positions in a four day battle, the official radio said.

The War in Northern Russia

GERMANS GATHER FORCES FOR NEW EASTWARD DRIVE

Aim at Complete Isolation of Russian Caucasus.

BERLIN, Nov. 23 (AP).—German armies appeared today to be gathering strength for a new eastward lunge from Rostov, which Berlin claims to have captured, to isolate the oil-rich Caucasus completely from central Russia.

Informed German sources said the German army could be counted on to exploit the capture of Rostov, which they described as the beginning of a drive to cut off the Caucasus. Astrakhan, 450 miles east across the Caucasus from Rostov, appeared as the likely goal.

"Further Victories Scored."

The high command, devoting most of its communique to the fighting in North Africa and sea and land bombing of Britain, only said of the Russian campaign that "further victories in the attack have been scored" and reported in a sentence a heavy artillery bombardment of Leningrad. Observers said numerous fires were burning in that city.

DNB, the official news agency, said "the Germans are keeping the initiative and one of these days there will be triumphs in other places as notable as the taking of Rostov."

[London dispatches quoted Russians as saying there was still fighting in the streets of Rostov.]

153 Tanks Put Out of Action.

DNB also asserted that 2,000 Russians were captured and 153 Red tanks put out of action in a successful German defense against a six day soviet offensive on a northern salient of the German-Russian front.

Russian attacks on German positions before the big Black sea fortress of Sevastopol also were reported repulsed with heavy Russian losses.

German military men lauded Italian troops in the Donetz iron and industrial basin. The Italians, they said, were pushing continually eastward and had taken an important railroad junction.

SOVIET GENERAL KILLED IN ACTION BEFORE MOSCOW

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Nov. 23 (AP).—Maj. Gen. Ivan Panfilov, veteran commander of the 8th Guards rifle division and one of the highest officers of the Red army, has been killed in action on the approaches to Moscow, the army newspaper Red Star announced today.

Panfilov, began his military career as a regular soldier in the czarist army and served for more than 20 years in the Red army. Details of the death were not announced, but one of Panfilov's last orders published was: "We will die, but we will not let the tanks pass." His unit was acclaimed for repulsing the attacks of three German infantry and one tank divisions from Oct. 20 to 27.

The general's body lay in state in the central house of the Red army in Moscow, with his daughter Valentina among the honor guard, wearing her father's pistol. She is a nurse and was tending wounded soldiers in a hospital when notified of her father's death.

2 Pennsylvania Slayers Are Put to Death in Chair

Bellefonte, Pa., Nov. 24 [Monday] (AP).—Two convicted slayers, Harold B. Frisbie, 33 years old, Bucks county farmer, and Willie Jones, 26, Allegheny Negro, paid the supreme penalty today in Pennsylvania's electric chair at Rockview penitentiary. Frisbie pleaded guilty to slaying Edward Lee of Morris, wealthy lumberman, and taking Lee's automobile. Jones was convicted of the holdup slaying of Frank Akerson, meat packing official in McKeesport. In the death chamber was Fred Lee, a son of Frisbie's victim.

DUTCH FARMERS SENT TO WORK IN THE UKRAINE

100 Gone, 500 More to Follow.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—Dispatches from Amsterdam indicate that Dutch farmers already have begun to help the Germans exploit the agricultural resources of the Ukraine.

On Saturday 100 of them left the Netherlands for the east. Another hundred will follow in December and 400 more in January.

Their wives and children will be sent east later, presumably after the men are established on farms in the Ukraine and White Russia.

Will Train in Poland.

The first contingent consisted of men from 19 to 50, and they came from all parts of the Netherlands. These Dutchmen will be put thru a training course of some weeks near the Polish town of Lodz—now called Litzmannstadt by the Germans—in the part of Poland annexed to Germany.

Long range plans call for the building up of 10,000 Dutch farms in different parts of the "general government" and other regions occupied by the Germans which are to be entirely manned by Dutch farmers and farm laborers.

Plan to Exploit Resources.

The whole scheme is taken here as part of German plans for getting a more thoro exploitation of the rich agricultural resources of the east than is possible with the dull and backward native peoples of those regions.

It is announced that Ukrainians will "coöperate" with the Dutch in their efforts toward agricultural improvement.

Polish Army to Admit Jugo-Slavians in England

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The exiled Polish and Jugo-Slav governments have concluded an agreement whereby Jugo-Slav reservists and men of military age in this country may volunteer with the Polish army, it was announced today. Veterans of the Serbian spring campaign and officials of the Jugo-Slav legation already have joined the Poles undergoing training in Scotland.

REVEAL HOW U. S. FOUGHT RED LOAN (WAY BACK IN '26)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23 (AP).—The issuance today of two volumes on diplomatic activities of this country in 1926 disclosed that the state department opposed the floating in that year of a German loan of more than $25,000,000 in the United States designed to finance German exports to soviet Russia.

The department objected to extension of credit to a régime which the then Assistant Secretary Leland Harrison said had "repudiated Russia's obligations to the United States and to American nationals."

The volumes are part of a series made public by the department from time to time.

BRITISH ACCUSED OF BALKING PLAN FOR JEWISH ARMY

Zionist Hits 'Conspiring, Intriguing Burocrats.'

Boston, Mass., Nov. 23 [Special].—An international Jewish leader bitterly attacked "conspiring and intriguing British burocrats" today for "sabotaging" plans for a Jewish military force in Palestine. He said many persons, Jews and non-Jews, were "beginning to wonder whether there is really a new Britain which has broken with the old discredited and disreputable policies of the Chamberlain régime, a Britain that is more honorable in its dealings with smaller peoples and nations."

The critic was Emanuel Neumann of New York, formerly of the World Zionist Executive, supreme governing body of the Zionist movement, now adviser to the emergency committee for Zionist affairs. He spoke here at the final session of the Junior Hadassah convention, the young women's Zionist organization.

Asks British Peace Aims.

Without mentioning names, Neumann said that "little men, narrow, and timorous, have again succeeded in leading the British government into a blind alley on a vital issue." He urged stringent inquiry into Britain's peace aims, not in terms of vague generalizations but more concretely and in more detail than has yet been stated.

Neumann stated that it was necessary for friends of Britain in this country "to speak with utter frankness." He declared plans for the formation of a Jewish army in Palestine had been approved by the British cabinet in September, 1940, but was repeatedly postponed and finally, rejected outright.

Asserted Equipment Lacking.

He said the "official reason for the rejection was a shortage of equipment but added that there seemed to be enough equipment for 750,000 men in the new Libyan offensive, "where Czech, Polish, and other units representing the peoples crushed by Hitlerism are fighting under their own colors."

Miss Sylvia Brody of New York was reelected national president of the organization. Miss Ann Brodsky of Chicago, Ill., was named a vice president.

HE GIVES CREDIT TO BUTTERMILK FOR HIS 100 YEARS

"Don't use tobacco or hard liquors and drink plenty of buttermilk." That's the way to live to be 100 years old, James Vejr Sr., who is only three days away from the century mark, told 40 relatives gathered in his home at 3022 South Kostner avenue yesterday.

James Vejr Sr.

The birthday celebration was held ahead of time so that Vejr's four children, 16 grandchildren, and 12 great-grandchildren could be on hand. Vejr was born Nov. 27, 1841, in Bohemia, and came to Chicago in 1900. In his youth he roamed Europe as a clarinet player with a band of itinerant musicians.

Saltis at Showup

Joe Saltis who in his heyday as a beer boss in the prohibition era, freely handed out $50 tips to cigaret girls in night clubs, spent his second day in a police cell yesterday until his release on $25 bond at 6 p. m.

He was arrested Saturday in his home at 9859 Bell avenue after another marital mixup. His wife, Anna, complained that he had been on a drinking rampage for three days and that he had been threatening her. He was locked up in the Gresham station.

Saltis tried all Saturday night and most of yesterday to find old friends and even professional bondsmen to put up the bail, but nobody responded. In the old days Saltis, police said, could have reached into his pocket at almost any time and have put up bail for 100 prisoners. Saltis is scheduled to appear in the Stockyards court today on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Protest Rumanian Pogrom, Palestine Jews Ask F.D.R.

JERUSALEM, Nov. 23 (AP).—The National Council of Palestine Jews today asked President Roosevelt to condemn the "wholesale slaughter" of Rumanian Jews which it said had been carried out by regular Rumanian troops. Telegrams also were sent to Prime Minister Churchill and Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York, who was asked to proclaim a two minute silence as a mourning and protest.

U. S. TO HELP WAR REFUGEES FIND HOMES—WELLES

Tells Jews He Foresees Mass Resettlement.

Baltimore, Nov. 23 (AP).—Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles today pledged that after the war the United States will join with other governments to find permanent homes in new lands for millions made homeless by oppression and conquest.

In the meantime, Welles said, the United States will do everything possible to provide havens for individuals and families in countries of refuge.

Victory Comes First.

"Solution of the greater problem of mass resettlement cannot be undertaken, however, until the war is over and the world has seen the final and utter defeat of those responsible for this cruel tragedy which shames our modern world," he declared.

Welles spoke at the opening session of the first Inter-American Jewish conference, sponsored by the American Jewish congress and attended by delegates from 18 Central and South American countries and Canada.

Expects Millions Homeless.

"When the war ends there may be not 1 million, but 10 millions or more, men, women, and children belonging to many races and religions, living in many countries and possibly in several continents who will enter into the problem of the human refugee," Welles said.

"Those of us who have faith in democracy and confidence in the inherent humanity for our western civilization cannot, and I am sure will not, rest until an equitable and practicable solution of this problem which challenges us so fundamentally is found."

WIFE IDENTIFIES RIVER VICTIM.

Mrs. Madeline Halloran, 1706 Michigan avenue, yesterday identified the body of a man taken from the river at Cermak road and Halsted street Friday as that of her husband, Michael, 50 years old.

BRITAIN TO LOOSE HARDEST AERIAL BLOWS ON ITALY

Seen as Better Plan Than Risks Over Germany.

LONDON, Nov. 23 (AP).—Abandonment of the British plan for overwhelming winter bombing of Germany in favor of stamping out the Italian resistance in the Mediterranean appeared to many observers tonight to be the new British war strategy.

Informed British sources will not admit offhand that the long cherished campaign to smash German industries, communications and morale from the air is a failure. But, their own published figures show that there have been only two really big scale raids over German soil since mid-August. One of these, on Nov. 7, cost the RAF 37 bombers and was a severe shock for the British public.

Besides the always tough German resistance in the air and from the ground, the weather and geography are key factors in the British tactics. The RAF will continue to bomb German objectives whenever the weather permits, aviation sources say.

Sweep Across Channel.

As if to illustrate, two waves of RAF bombers swept low across the channel toward Dunkirk and Calais today. They bombed a factory near Calais and strafed barges near Gravelines with machinegun fire. Seven British fighter planes were missing from the sortie.

A Lockheed bomber of the "Free Dutch" air force was said to have bombed a large axis supply ship off the southwest coast of Norway. The ship was hit forward of the bridge. Whether it sank was not stated.

The loss of 37 bombers on Nov. 7 evidently took the heart out of RAF enthusiasm for flying blind thru ice-forming gales to get at German cities.

Informed sources also are conceding reluctantly that the British Isles offer poor bases for the kind of nonstop, night after night bombing needed if German war production is to be really demoralized.

Night Flying Hampered.

Furthermore, air experts say the weather is not only hampering night flying over Germany but is largely responsible for the marked slump in the toll of German planes which RAF pilots rang up during the summer in almost daily challenges to the Nazis to come up and fight over their own side of the channel.

The RAF reached its peak in July, reporting 231 German aircraft shot down in that month over occupied territory. By October the toll had slipped to 74 and as it is going now the November score will be less than half that.

[German sources said yesterday that six British fighter planes were shot down over the channel coast without the loss of a Nazi plane.]

The German air force, easing up on bombings of British towns, has helped along the apparent shift in British plans. There is at present much less outcry here for the bombing of Berlin than there was when German bombs crashed screaming into English homes night after night.

Could Turn on Italy.

The experts assert that if the new British 8th army now driving against the axis in North Africa can smash thru to the Tunisian border, the RAF can and certainly will follow up with an attempt to obliterate the last Italian air and submarine base. Success in that attempt would mean a comparatively safe Mediterranean for the British and a repair of the now badly frayed empire "lifeline" to India and the far east.

HAGGIS ASSURED AT 96TH SCOTTISH FEAST SATURDAY

Hundreds of Scotch hearts in and near Chicago were happy yesterday, for word had been received that a big batch of haggis, specially prepared in Scotland, had passed safely thru submarine infested waters and now is in American territorial waters.

The haggis, in case you don't know, is to a Scottish feast what corned beef is to cabbage, that is, so far as importance is concerned. Actually it's a pudding. But it's to be the big item at the 96th annual dinner, or "feast of the haggis," of the Illinois St. Andrew society in the Stevens hotel Saturday.

Sir Gerald Campbell, director general of the British press service in the United States, will be the principal speaker. Five kilt clad girls will dance the Highland fling and the sword dance.

HEAR U. S. PLANS WITHDRAWAL OF YANGTZE PATROL

SHANGHAI, Nov. 24 [Monday] (AP).—The United States navy's Yangtze river patrol as well as American marines in China probably will be withdrawn, authoritative quarters here indicated today. The four gunboats of the patrol, especially built for Yangtze river service, now are at Hankow, Wuhu, and Chungking.

At the time of President Roosevelt's mid-November announcement of his decision to withdraw the marines naval authorities here said the patrol had "not yet entered the picture."

This, they said, meant that it had not then been ordered withdrawn. Today's informants said the patrol boats probably would be taken to Manila, P. I.

STOP TO DISCUSS ACCIDENT; STEAL AUTO OF VICTIM

Police yesterday searched for three motorists who Saturday night added a new touch to automobile collisions. The car in which the three were riding struck and slightly damaged the automobile of Robert Edgett, 3317 Jackson boulevard, at Homan avenue and 23d street. One of the three alighted. Edgett also alighted. The two talked over the damage. Meanwhile, one of the two men remaining in the other car got out and, unnoticed by Edgett, stepped into Edgett's car and drove it away. The third of the three men then drove off in the trio's car, leaving his companion and Edgett still talking. The companion took to his heels a moment later.

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM

Save Our Republic

ALTERNATIVE PATHS OF FOREIGN POLICY.

Lord Kemsley's letter to THE TRIBUNE, published last Friday, will serve, among other useful purposes, to focus attention upon the alternatives of foreign policy which confront America. On the one hand we may confine our activity to preventing the conquest of Great Britain; that can be done at moderate cost to ourselves, without a war against Japan and without sending an expeditionary force abroad. On the other hand, we can declare war upon Germany and seek to destroy her military power; that program will require an expeditionary force of 5 million men or more and will entail stupendous human and material losses.

It is the second of these courses which our administration is pursuing. The latest spokesman for the official view is Mr. Sumner Welles, the undersecretary of state. In a speech he delivered on Armistice day he reminded the American people that Mr. Roosevelt had underwritten the so-called Atlantic charter, calling not merely for the preservation of England but for the destruction of Germany. Mr. Welles' speech evidently received less attention than he felt he and it deserved, for he has now republished it in Foreign Commerce Weekly, a government publication. The goal of our effort, he says, should be an international organization like the league of nations, "wherein our participation could in all human probability insure the maintenance of a peaceful world in which we can safely live."

To achieve that, of course, we shall have to fight until Germany, Italy, Rumania, Hungary, Slovakia, Spain, Finland, and Japan are reduced to impotence, and then police them. If we save Russia by this means we must expect to police her, too, for Russia's plans of world conquest are no less clearly formulated than Hitler's and are fanatically accepted by communists the world over. Mr. Welles, in short, wants us to make stupendous sacrifices and keep on making them. He pretends to be pointing the road to perpetual peace; in fact, he is pointing the road to perpetual war in defense of Britain's empire.

If it were only the voice of Mr. Sumner Welles, nobody would give his remarks a second thought. Little attention need be paid to the opinions of a self-inflated burocrat, even when his residence bears the impressive name of Oxon Hill Manor. Maybe Mr. Welles joined the diplomatic service to get away from his own country and enjoy the society of foreign aristocrats and alien minded American snobs. At any rate, Mr. Welles' opinions are of consequence to his countrymen only because he speaks in the name of the administration.

The purported aim of the policy he has announced is universal peace. The actual aim is to place this country, its people, and its wealth at the service of a foreign empire. On behalf of this empire, if he and his colleagues have their way, we shall ruin ourselves.

ALL IN THE SAME SHOES.

Bernard M. Baruch, in a letter to Rep. Albert Gore, Tennessee Democrat, recommended the standardization of the production of many essential commodities, including shoes, clothing, and houses. He would get rid of the added cost inherent in producing varied styles and colors. He proposes that the Office of Civilian Supply make an experiment with such a product as shoes, endeavoring to produce standardized, good looking shoes at prices lower than now prevail. The sale of the present supply of shoes would be allowed to continue for, say, six months and then only governmental shoes would be available.

The same thing would be done with men's clothing and women's clothing and with houses. By standardization Mr. Baruch thinks that the continuity of rising prices in necessary articles could be stopped. Mr. Baruch as chairman of the World war industries board had some experience in devising controls then set in motion, but it was at a time very different from the present one.

The country then was not in the hands of men determined to break down all the individualistic inherited tendencies of the American people and compel them to march in regiments at command. He probably hasn't that view himself, altho one of the amazing things is the manner in which Washington turns the heads of men who were sound minded until they were sucked into the whirlpool in the District of Columbia. There are a number of notable instances of sober minded citizens going off their noodle soon after they were recruited for service in one of the new control organizations, which are not only working on the national treasury but on the character of the people of America.

Mr. Baruch is probably as well prepared as any man to estimate what additional dislocations of American economy would come from his scheme, and in the long run he might make an attempt to justify the cost by the results. He is also aware that dislocations already in motion threaten to be disastrous and that the new dictators, even when they profess their regret and sorrow, say they haven't found the way out.

The consequence of all this meddling may sum up in the greatest economic disaster the country ever experienced. If that should be the result, it will be gratifying to persons who have been working to destroy American forms and substitute controls for free enterprise. The moral effect of what Mr. Baruch proposes would be to make Americans look like a nation of choiceless, governmentally stamped mechanisms which tick when wound up and go in the direction in which they are headed.

SMOKES FOR YANKS.

The state department, with which organizations soliciting funds for the aid of belligerents must register, reports that since the war in Europe opened the American people have given $91,000,000 for various overseas activities. Virtually all of the money, naturally enough, has gone to Great Britain and her allies. The American Friends Service committee is the only nationally known organization that so much as pretends to meet needs without regard to politics.

If the propaganda activities that are implicit in most of these relief agencies can be disregarded, the contributions set a record of which the American people may well be proud. No other nation in history has ever been so generous toward alien appeals for charity. The only instance that approaches it is the record of American contributions to various foreign relief funds after the last World war.

Commendable as their charities abroad may be, American givers should not lose sight of the sound old precept that charity begins at home. What we have in mind should not, perhaps, go by that name. American soldiers, sailors, and marines are not to be considered objects of charity, in the strict meaning of the term. Friendship is a better word.

The men in our armed forces have been forced to make the greatest sacrifices in the interest of our national defense. Their pay, by civilian standards, is low. For many of them it will not stretch to cover the small comforts that they regarded as routine purchases in civilian life.

In an effort to do its part to provide some of these comforts, THE TRIBUNE has undertaken to collect and send cigarets and other smoking materials to the boys in the distant outposts, afloat and ashore, of our defense system. To Americans who have been more than generous in meeting foreign appeals, Smokes for Yanks gives an opportunity to do something for their own.

THE GREAT DEFENSE BOTTLENECK.

The industrial production index in October stood at 164—a record for all time. The peak in 1929 was 114. American industry is turning out nearly half again as much production as in the boom. As the output of civilian goods has been reduced it is apparent that American business is doing a remarkable job in defense.

Frederick C. Crawford, president of Thompson & Co., Inc., in a speech at the recent Academy of Political Science meeting in New York, reviewed more specifically the accomplishments and problems of American industry in rearmament. Eighteen months ago airplanes were being produced at the rate of 250 a month. Now, Mr. Crawford said, they are being turned out at the rate of 25,000 a year, and the plane manufacturers give assurance that a 40,000 plane rate will be attained late next year. A year and a half ago there was practically no gun powder. Today there is an abundance, and plants have been built and machinery installed to produce such quantities as the world has never imagined. New techniques have been developed everywhere. A shortage of skilled labor has been overcome by the production on a great scale of machine tools which a schoolboy with a few months' training can operate.

Marvelous as is the achievement of industry, Mr. Crawford asserted that it should be and could be greater. The great deterrent consists of the uncertainties introduced by the government itself. Mr. Crawford mentioned several uncertainties caused by Washington which impede the flow of defense materials.

The first of these uncertainties is taxes. "The delay, confusion, and constant change in our tax laws is a serious hindrance," Mr. Crawford declared. Mass production industries, whose very existence depends on long time planning, are not even sure today of the amount of last January's tax. Tax uncertainty is as destructive as the tax itself. Mr. Crawford appealed to the government to "give us a tax policy planned to aid—not hinder—war output and we will get on with the job of arming America."

Another uncertainty the speaker mentioned was that of inflation. The government issues dire warnings about the hazards of inflation, and yet it has promoted increases in the price of food and wages—the two most important elements in any inflation spiral. Mr. Crawford, on behalf of industry, appealed to the government to "give us a firm, consistent government policy of inflation control and make forward planning possible, and we will get on faster with the job of national defense."

Still another uncertainty was the failure of the President to indicate the policy on labor for the period of the emergency. In the past labor relations were local matters to be decided by men and management. The government has now made all labor questions government matters, with all important decisions to be made by agents, commissions, and committees within the government. He said that the government had introduced new uncertainties by this interference and that these uncertainties "hinder and often completely stop the wheels of production." He declared that the breakdown of labor relations has already cost millions of man-hours of lost time and has lowered the over-all efficiency of industry to 80 per cent of normal, thus "sabotaging one-fifth of our possible output."

The government itself is the great bottleneck in the defense effort, and yet the members of the administration are constantly putting the blame somewhere else, and calling upon others to make sacrifices. Vice President Wallace, who spoke later in the day to the political scientists, appealed to "Mr. and Mrs. Average American Family" to cut down their standard of living for an "all-out production program to beat Hitler." The Vice President was followed on the program by President Harry M. Wriston of Brown university. Dr. Wriston addressed his appeal for sacrifices to "Mr. and Mrs. Average American Burocrat." He asserted that while the government officials were appealing to others to sacrifice, they were engaged in destructive extravagance themselves.

Dr. Wriston pointed out these things: "Expenditures in aid of the unemployed grow even when unemployment shrinks. Tho the farmers' income has more than doubled since 1934, direct federal subsidies to farmers have tripled in the same period. Altho the whole youth movement has changed since the NYA and CCC were set up, their appropriations have been hardy perennials. Tho public works are one of the important ways to counteract depression, and now that the depression is over the forthcoming rivers and harbors bill will be perhaps the greatest in history."

No one who is familiar with what is going on in Washington will question the points raised by Mr. Crawford and Dr. Wriston. It is in the face of official abuse, perplexing uncertainties introduced by the government, the waste of public funds, and ruinous taxes that private enterprise has done a magnificent job in building up the national defense. Its accomplishments—despite the terrible treatment accorded it—are proof of the high patriotism which prevails in American industry.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

NAMING A NEW STATE.

Talk of the formation of a new state in the Union from the northern counties of California and the southern counties of Oregon stimulates speculation about its name, when and if. For the names of the American states form the most majestic roll-call in the geographic vocabulary, and any addition must be worthy of the great sisterhood.

The Linemaster has plunged into deep meditation over this problem, and comes up with an acceptable name. Let the new state, if its Chinaman's chance of birth rolls into the lucky pocket, be called Shasta. Why? Because Mount Shasta, a lofty and noble peak, will be within its boundaries.

The other regional Indian names are lacking in beauty and fitness. Siskiyou, Modoc, Klamath—they cannot pass the test of euphony; they would not dignify a new star on the national banner. But Shasta will serve; it has a romantic sound and modest grace, and the brevity that would suit a new little state.

* * *

Our study of this matter reminded us that we didn't know the origin of California's sonorous name, and so we promptly filled that gap in our miscellaneous information. The Spaniards borrowed it from a work of fiction, "The Exploits of Esplandian," by Ordoñez de Montalvo, published in 1510. In this story California was a mythical island "at the right hand of the Indies, very close to that part of the Terrestrial Paradise." The root of the name, "cal," implies warmth or heat.

* * *

Oregon also comes into this investigation. The origin and meaning of the name are unknown. Spanish, French and Indian sources have been suggested by theorists. Its first recorded use was by Maj. Robert Rogers in 1767, in plans for an exploring expedition. He applied it to a river of which he had heard; in the pioneer period the name was used for the Columbia river and its drainage basin. . . . This Rogers was the hero of the historical novel, "Northwest Passage."

A CALL TO LOST MINSTRELS.

Where are you singers of yesteryear
Who enriched the Line with your rhymes?
I long with a homesick heart to hear
You minstrels of happier times.

What have these grim years done to you?
Have they silenced your throats with pain?
Have you lost the urge of your music thru
The din of a world that is harsh and new?
O, give us your songs again!

I, but one among many, need
The voices that we held dear
When the earth was a place to sing indeed,
And the heart was glad—not a thing to bleed

Adelaide Love.

The Duke Goes to the Opera.

Hon. Linemaster: My boss [no, the one downtown] is one of them there efficiency birds; does everything exactly right and hates brainless yaps. His latest boner was to buy 2 football tickets an 2 opera tickets fer last Sat. afternoon but he aint yet figgered out how one guy cood be in 2 places at tha same time so he gives me tha opera ducats. I was gonna suggest flipping a coin because I wood rather football, but then I remembers that ole saying somethin about you shoodn look a freefer-nothin horse in tha teeth.

Tha mama went, figgering somebody wood see her new fur coat and hoping nobody wood see my old one. Tha name of tha piece was "The Barber of Seville" in Russian or maybe it was Portugeese. A goof by tha name of Count Almavivy is ga-ga over a bimbo named Rosiny, who lives wid a quack doctor guy named Bartolo, who is also nutz about tha babe. Then theres a barber screwball named Figaro, who is always skeeming things so he can win tha skirt fer tha Count—if instead he'd of slipped her a haymaker for a long count we cood of gon home quicker.

On account they was playing a barber shop show they had tha theater all smelled up with bay-rum or sumthin which was swell cause when they slip ya a smelly plot like this a little cologne dont hurt any. A cupple of times I tried to ketch up on my sleep an juss when I start to doze one of tha seals wood sing so loud I wished somebody wood of thrown him a fish.

When it came intermission tha mama insists we go lobby parading an heres where I ritz her a plenty; nobody knew her an then a guy slaps me on tha back with a "Howya, Dooko, you old ——." He's working at tha dump. He's high priest of tha royal brass pan. If some bird ditches a cigaret butt he presses tha stick on tha scooper and I tells him I'm glad his bizness is picking up, and tha mama tells him I'm just full of them stale jokes an he shood please overlook my ignorance.

On tha way home I asks tha mama if she enjoyed tha show an she says she liked "Way Down East" an "Abie's Irish Rose" much better, which proves an old saying—the one about makin silk pocket-books outa pigs ears. I forgot to mention that Figaro the barber was in swell voice.

LADIES YOU MEET.

I met a lovely lady,
She babbled like a brook;
Her flow of words so numbed me
That I soon ceased to look.
I met another lady,
Her words were true and wise.
I could not tell you how she looked—
She made me see far skies.

What Is an Epigram?

The late Shailer Mathews defined an epigram with an epigram that was quoted at his memorial service:

"An epigram is a half truth which makes uncomfortable the person who believes the other half."

HOBBIES FOR THE INVALID.

THOSE who are confronted with a long illness must be kept busy. The healing value of contentment cannot be overestimated. After the temperature has departed and the body begins to mend, time may hang heavy. Most sufferers will turn naturally to some special interest; others may need to be guided. Reading is excellent but many find themselves fatigued after a half hour or so.

To keep the mind and the hands fully occupied, tasks must be assigned which will carry with them some personal satisfaction. Needlepoint may do for one; a game of solitaire for another. Jigsaw puzzles are intriguing for a while, but it is necessary to supply a continuous stream of interest which will have the effect of toning up the nervous system and speeding recovery.

In this connection, I know of no better remedy for combating monotony than the pursuit of the scrapbook. The subjects may include current events, scientific discoveries, new styles, the movies, book reviews, market trends, famous persons, glamor girls, the doings of congress, and the like. Almost every topic can be illustrated with pictures from newspapers, magazines, and Sunday supplements.

We only realize the trend of events by reviewing from time to time the public mind as reflected in our dailies. For example, it would be easy to follow the subtle play on the emotions which has been employed to work the American people into a state of deep unrest over the European conflict.

But, you say, what a trivial and childish pursuit. Not at all. The material gathered may be regarded later as of the greatest value. Furthermore, it will enlarge one's horizon and direct attention to hitherto neglected field of knowledge.

For those who are inclined to be artistic, clay modeling or copying illustrations will prove pleasurable. I well recall a man in one of our hospital wards who refused to respond to the suggestion that basket weaving or crocheting would be helpful in his case. When told that he ought to do something, he asked for a few blocks of soft pine and a jackknife. They were given to him and he was as happy as a lad with his first pair of long trousers. He whittled to his heart's content little wooden figures of animals, ships, locomotives, automobiles, etc.

Occasionally, conjuring tricks can be learned with a small amount of apparatus and some instruction. These can both mystify and entertain visitors and hospital attendants.

Most mothers have favorite devices with which they entertain their youngsters when they are indisposed. Children love to be read to, even while they are playing with toys or games spread on the bed. Books for coloring, cutouts, sewing, beadwork, and stamp albums are only a few of the effective aids. Imagination and patience on the part of the family will while away many tedious hours for the little one.

Why is all this desirable? While idleness in a sickroom may not breed mischief, it may lay the foundation for considerable self-pity which is far from healthful. With the patient staring at the ceiling, every twinge may be magnified into a dangerous symptom. In fact, mental quirks may come to the fore because of too much introspection—looking down one's nose. Physicians have long sensed the importance of occupational therapy for the purpose of awakening dormant faculties and stimulating the will to live.

SPRAINED ANKLE.

F. H. writes: I tore the ligaments in my ankle some time ago, and swelling persists. Is this common?

REPLY.

Injuries in this region usually require a long healing period. You tore not only the ligaments but blood vessels as well. After a time new channels will re-form and the puffiness will abate. A sprained ankle ofttimes is more bothersome than a broken bone.

WHEN THE TRAVELERS MEET

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed, attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

UNIONS AND LIABILITY.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Let me reply to your correspondent, "A. M.," who proposes that now is the right time for incorporation of the unions. This is a recurring proposition usually inspired by such incidents as we are witnessing at the present time or by notable advances in labor organization.

In the first place a stock corporation may be formed only "for any lawful business purpose or purposes." This "A. M." will find in section 5 of the stock corporation law of his own New York state.

A labor union does not manufacture or sell any article or service. There are no profits which may be distributed. A labor union is not engaged in business within the meaning of this term as it is intended by the stock corporation laws of the several states.

There is a misapprehension abroad that labor union officials cannot be sued for damages which result from strikes and that agreements can be broken at will. As a matter of fact, a union and its officers can be sued for any damage which may be incurred by the employer as a result of the union's action. A union and its members are legally liable for their actions the same as any one else.

The incorporation of unions would defeat rather than serve the purpose "A. M." has in mind. Workers become more responsible, not thru incorporation, but by the acquisition of property. How better can they accomplish this in our vast industrial system than by collective bargaining and the same freedom of association enjoyed by their organized employers? JOHN J. WOODS.
Editor The Union Leader.

LIKED "VILLAGE GREEN."

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Dramatic critics seem to think that it is their duty to give every new show that hits town an unfavorable mention. In many cases it is justified, but Cecil Smith's criticism of "Village Green" was far from being fair. Of course he is entitled to his own opinion, but to my mind it was unnecessarily vicious.

I, with some 500 others, had the privilege of witnessing the première on Wednesday night, and the consensus of opinion was that it was a good entertainment. The acting was superb, especially the character conceptions of Jack Norworth, Dan Malloy, Albert Vees, and William Green, and all the cast. The average theater going public will enjoy "Village Green" as all the 500 who witnessed the première did. A FIRST NIGHTER.

A TRIBUNE AT DINNER.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—I, too, strongly urge THE TRIBUNE to have an early edition on the stands by 5 p. m. Either that or a regular evening edition.

It is a serious situation when we can't buy an evening paper that really reflects the sentiments of 80 per cent of the people, not only in Chicago but thruout the nation. When will these "war at any price" newspapers wake up?

Give us a hand, TRIBUNE! You are the only one we can call upon; help us enjoy our dinner with an evening paper "undominated" by the war mongers. J. A. N.

THE "COCKROACH" ISSUE.

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 20.—As a draftee I want to say to the Fight for Freedom committee that an organization such as yours, with its high sounding title, has betrayed its cause and insulted all men in this country by allowing Dorothy Thompson to speak in her recent manner. If your committee has expressed its opinions thru her speech, then you should be abolished.

We, the soldiers of the new army, did not give up our homes and jobs to defend people who have nothing better to do than insult our mothers in the guise of fighting for freedom.

I feel sure that I have the moral backing of all American men in demanding an immediate public apology from Miss Thompson to the mothers of this country.

H. E. S.
Medical Department U. S. A.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Dorothy Thompson emphasized the weakness of her cause when she resorted to name calling of the mothers of America who are opposed to the sending of an expeditionary force abroad to die for the benefit of some of the war crazed, so-called statesmen of the world.

If we can keep this gang from plunging us in an all-out war before the next congressional elections, Miss Thompson will learn just how many cockroaches and black crows there are in the country—male as well as female.

ONE OF THE COCKROACHES.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Hooray! At long last the perfect pattern for American motherhood was suddenly and dramatically uncovered at the Fight for Freedom committee rally Wednesday night last.

Hats off to Dorothy Thompson, the criterion of American mothers!

P. W. K.

[Numerous other letters on the Thompson "Cockroach" speech are acknowledged.]

THE TOW TRUCK RACKET.

Skokie, Ill., Nov. 21.—There are rackets galore, but the one that gets me in a dither is the tow truck racket on Skokie boulevard. A few years ago we had the ambulance chasers, but now it seems the gas stations have their radios tuned in on police calls and get to automobile wrecks before the police do. And the prices they get for these tows are sky high. In fact so high if your car is three or four years old you might just as well let them have it for charges. W. S. V.

ROOSEVELT'S "COMMITMENT."

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 18.—The sanity and patriotism with which THE TRIBUNE faces the international situation these days is a thing to gladden the heart of an ex-Chicagoan. I particularly enjoyed your comment on the President's declaration that "The American people have made an unlimited commitment that there shall be a free world." The only opportunity the President has ever given us to make a "commitment" came last November when he was reelected on his solemn promise never to send American soldiers into the European war. If he really believes that the American people approve his course, why does he fight, tooth and nail, the only practical means of checking—a popular referendum on a declaration of war? E. W.

IN RE STRIKES.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Let's all go on a strike. Close everything: Business, banks, railroads, factories, shops, etc., etc., until some people learn how necessary we all are to each other. If we do this for one week the trouble makers will find we have a better world in which to live.

SAM SAYLOR.

W-G-N AND W59C PROMISE IDEAL OPERA TONIGHT

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Radio listeners are to hear an opera broadcast under almost ideal conditions tonight. This is the promise of the management of W-G-N.

A portion of Verdi's "Falstaff" is to be presented by the Chicago Opera company from 10 to 10:45 p. m. over W-G-N; W59C, its frequency modulation station, and the Mutual Broadcasting system.

John Charles Thomas, whose name has become firmly identified with this opera, will sing the title rôle. The opera will be given in English. Thomas will be supported by Dusolina Giannini, Sonia Sharnova, Hertha Glaz, Virginia Haskins, and Felix Knight.

New Clarity Promised.

But there is more than a great star and supporting cast and an English interpretation to commend the opera to listeners, particularly FM listeners.

For one thing, FM listeners will hear every note with the clarity and faithfulness they might enjoy at the opera house. For the first time, in this series of Monday opera broadcasts, an FM station is picking up the full range of audible sound together with all the overtones. This is possible because the W-G-N technical department in coöperation with the Illinois Bell Telephone company has set up telephone circuits between the opera house and the W59C transmitter capable of carrying the full range of sound audible to the human ear.

Production in Expert Hands.

But there is still more—expert production. This is in the hands of Lou Jackobson, producer; Robert Venables, announcer and commentator, and John Gause, engineer, all sharing a common interest and knowledge of opera and experience in broadcasting opera performances.

During the broadcast Venables will interview Emile Cooper, one of the conductors, and Jerry Mickle, captain of the "supers," the supernumeraries or extras who make up the mob scenes in operas.

KELVYN PARK PUPILS SALUTED ON W-G-N SHOW

Pupils of Kelvyn Park High school were saluted on the Citizens of Tomorrow broadcast over W-G-N from 1:30 to 2 p. m. yesterday. These programs, sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, are transcribed on Wednesday afternoons in W-G-N's main audience studio and broadcast on Sundays, enabling pupils and teachers participating to hear themselves on the air.

Miss Rose A. Pesta, principal, spoke, and the school chorus, directed by Mrs. Mark Love, sang Sibelius' "Dear Land of Home," Elbey's "Thanksgiving Hymn," and the school song, "Go, Kelvyn Park," written by Wilbur Paulsen, an alumnus.

Philip Maxwell conducted the Tribune news quiz, in which three students from Gage Park High school competed with three from Kelvyn Park. Two more outstanding high school students were added to the program's roll of honor. They are Richard Grosskopf, 17, of Kelvyn Park, and Mildred Krogh of Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Next week Wendell Phillips High school will be saluted.

HURRY 'SMOKES FOR YANKS' GIFTS FOR CHRISTMAS!

"Smokes for Yanks!"

They were dropping merrily into the collection boxes thruout metropolitan Chicago yesterday, giving promise of a merry Christmas for American soldiers and sailors on the Atlantic and in the bases that stretch from Iceland to the Caribbean area.

Many a pipe will glow on the dreary ocean and in the lonely bases where Americans stand guard. Many a cigaret will bring double pleasure because it is a gift from folks back at home. Many a smoke dream will be dreamed in the fragrant aroma of a gift cigar.

Today Is the Day to Act!

But there are many boys of the armed services waiting for those Christmas presents. Yours won't reach them in time for Christmas if you wait too long. If you're going to give, you couldn't choose a better day than today.

Boy Scouts yesterday joined the volunteer workers collecting "Smokes for Yanks!" Scoutmaster Robert Fine pledged the 34 members of Troop 912, with headquarters in the Hebrew institute of Albany Park, to collect an entire box of cigarets and tobacco in their neighborhood.

Little people made big gifts yesterday after they climbed a ladder to reach the top of the collection box in the Dalton hotel, 1234 South Wabash avenue. Rose's midgets found that the hotel manager, F. B. Molet, had placed the box on a base too high for a midget's reach. But they climbed a ladder and dropped cigarets in by the carton.

Tribune Trucks Collect Them.

Boxes filled to the brim with "Smokes for Yanks!" are being collected by THE TRIBUNE'S circulation trucks at stores, hotels, and restaurants. If your "Smokes for Yanks!" receiving station is nearly filled, telephone the "Smokes for Yanks!" department at THE TRIBUNE, Superior 0100, and a driver will call for it. All "Smokes for Yanks!" collectors carry identification cards.

Clubs, societies, and lodges participating in the movement are returning their boxes filled with Christmas treasures for the far away boys and then taking them back to be filled again.

Everybody's giving to "Smokes for Yanks!"

If you want to send a check to buy cigarets, cigars, and tobacco, mail it to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., Tribune Tower, Chicago.

Cash or Gifts Welcome.

You may bring cash or gifts of your favorite brand of smokes to the Tribune public service bureaus in Tribune Tower or in the loop at 1 South Dearborn street. The gifts needn't be wrapped or addressed.

The easiest way of all is to drop a package or a carton in one of the hundreds of "Smokes for Yanks!" boxes to be found thruout the metropolitan area. Some givers are dropping in a package each time they buy one for themselves. Others are making a gift a week.

It isn't the size of the gift that counts. One package will let a lonely Yank know that you're remembering him at Christmas time.

Remember, tho, that the boys are far away. If you want them to get your presents in time for Christmas, you'll have to hurry.

YANK IN ICELAND IS WRITING MAN; BUCKS 3 CENSORS

60,000 Letters a Month Sent by Soldiers.

BY DREW MIDDLETON.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Nov. 21 [Delayed] (AP).—Fighting men are writing men these days and they have to please three sets of censors.

American soldiers and marines in Iceland write 60,000 letters home monthly and, in October, sent just over $100,000 in money orders to their families.

In the first 19 days of November they sent 42,600 letters to the United States and received 41,680. During the same period 1,642 pounds of parcels were dispatched and 8,176 pounds were received.

All out-going mail is censored by American army officers. Letters are censored first by a company officer. He signs the envelopes and sends them to regimental censors. The regimental censors sample each company's mail to make sure that regulations are being followed. The mail then goes to the American base censor who samples it again before it finally is dispatched.

Few Deletions Are Made.

Few deletions are made, the commanding general believing it better to return an objectionable letter to the writer with a form indicating the information that is censorable. The base censor goes over all officers' mail including that of the nurses, who rank as second lieutenants.

For the enlisted man who wishes to write concerning matters he does not want to disclose to his company censor there is a blue envelope. Blue envelope letters go direct to the base censor.

The censorship rules are simple, forbidding the passage of information or misinformation on:

The strength, efficiency, morale, organization, equipment, future plans, military disposition and military structures of the American and British forces in Iceland; reports of action; reports on the movement, type, number, and location of naval vessels or aircraft.

All in Clear Language.

All letters must be in clear language, without ciphers or codes, photographs taken in Iceland must be submitted for censorship, packages are packed in the presence of a censor.

The base camp postoffice is a branch of New York City's postoffice and much of its equipment was lent by that office.

Soldiers and marines are now searching Reykjavik's shops for Christmas cards and presents, all of which means a seasonal headache for censors and army postoffice workers.

Body of Purdue Freshman Discovered in Parked Car

Kokomo, Ind., Nov. 23 [Special].—The body of Thomas H. Thatcher, 19 year-old Purdue university freshman was found this morning in the back seat of an automobile five miles west of Kokomo by two trappers. Apparently he had killed himself. The car, belonging to his grandfather, William T. Thatcher, of Russiaville, whom he was visiting, had been parked in a lane, an inner tube attached to the exhaust and the other end pushed thru a window to carry carbon monoxide fumes into the car and the windows closed. The youth had attended a party in Kokomo last night.

Gun Goes Off Accidentally; Man Wounded, Friend Held

Irving Robinson, 30 years old, 3248 West 16th street, was seriously wounded yesterday when a shotgun in the hands of a friend was accidentally discharged. Albert Wacker, of 3616 Douglas boulevard, the address at which the accident occurred, was showing the gun to Robinson when it went off. Fillmore street police took Wacker into custody. Robinson was taken to Mount Sinai hospital suffering from wounds in his left side and arm.

HOW A LOAN CAN HELP YOU PAY UP YOUR OLD BILLS

WOULD A $100 or $200 loan come in handy this month? Have you old bills you would like to clean up with a loan?

If you have a job, you may borrow up to $800 at Household Finance in a simple, private transaction. Then you may repay your loan in monthly installments arranged to fit your own income and paydays.

3 ways to borrow

Suppose that you need $100. The table shows that 12 monthly installments of $9.77 each will repay a $100 loan in full. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.99 a month will repay a $100 loan in 18 months.

All you do to apply for a Household Finance loan is to tell us how much you need and how you wish to repay. Household Finance loans are made in three ways. First way: On your personal note. No security required. This type of loan is made, when circumstances warrant, to both single persons and married couples. Second way: On your car. This plan may best fit your needs. Third way: On your furniture. This plan is used by thousands. Here character and income are far more important than the value of your security. Your loan will be made the way which best fits your own situation.

Other important points: It is not necessary to ask friends or fellow-workers to act as endorsers. And at no time do we question friends or relatives about your money affairs. You get your loan quickly and simply.

Get your loan for less

Payments in the table include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100 and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. The Small Loan Law permits us to charge substantially more than this. Some finance companies do charge more. We publish our rates and payments to help you shop for your loan.

If you need money for an emergency, bring your problem to Household. Or just phone and say that you need a loan. We are here to serve you. Phone or visit us without obligation.

WE GUARANTEE the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, when payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of time since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payments include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. This rate is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law.

THREE IN SCANTY DRESS ESCAPE TRAINING SCHOOL

Three scantily clad inmates of the Illinois State Training School for Boys, near St. Charles, last night dashed from the basketball court in the school gymnasium, scurried over the fence and escaped.

They were Robert Bellows, 17 years old, of Polo in Ogle county, who was sent to the institution in January, 1939, for thievery; Arthur Courtwright, 16, of Louisville in Clay county, committed in May, 1940, for burglary, and Jack Brand, 16, of Monmouth in Warren county, also committed in May, 1940, for burglary. Russell W. Ballard, new commanding officer, notified the Kane county sheriff's office and a search was started.

Four other boys who fled the institution a week ago will be returned today from St. Louis, Mo., where they were captured. They will be locked up in Kane county jail in Geneva to await trial on charges of grand larceny, robbery, and assault to kill. Their escape involved an attack upon a guard and the theft of $50 and two automobiles.

Community Fund Still $750,000 Short of Goal

The Community Fund drive is still $750,000 short of its goal of $3,583,000, needed to continue the work of the 185 participating charities in 1942, it was announced yesterday. In 1940 the fund in the same length of time was considerably ahead of this record in its drive toward a goal of $3,604,000, officials said.

LAWES PLEADS FOR CAREER MEN IN PRISON WORK

Lewis E. Lawes, for 21 years warden of Sing Sing, last night pleaded for the entry of civil service and career men into prison work. Lawes, speaking before an audience of 1,200 in New Trier Township High school in Winnetka, asserted that "politics is the ruination of most prisons."

"Career men and civil service men," he continued, "are the only solution to prison problems. Prisons should be divorced from politics. This would save a great deal of money and save a great many lives for society."

The meeting was sponsored by the North Shore Sunday Evening club.

DICK TRACY— On the Bottom

P. C. WREN, 'BEAU GESTE' AUTHOR, DIES IN ENGLAND

Wrote Thirty Other Novels in 28 Year Period.

LONDON, Nov. 23 (AP).—Maj. Percival Christopher Wren, 56, picturesque soldier-author who wrote "Beau Geste" and 30 other adventure thrillers, died today at Amberley, Gloucestershire, after a long illness.

He was a descendant of Sir Christopher Wren, famed London architect of the 17th century.

"Beau Geste," published in 1924 and subsequently adapted as a play and a motion picture, was based on the author's experiences in the French Foreign Legion early in the World war, his service as a trooper in English cavalry, as an officer in the Indian defense force and as an assistant director of education in India.

His Life a Beau Geste.

His widow commented, "His long years of illness were borne with never failing courage; his life was one long beau geste [noble gesture]."

Maj. Wren had an adventurous career. Educated at Oxford, he was in turn a sailor, schoolmaster, college principal, costermonger, boxer, journalist, explorer, and hunter.

His dashing, soldierly appearance belied the true state of his health. In 1936 and again two years later he was ill of heart disease and muscular rheumatism.

Wrote for 28 Years.

Publication of his works spanned a 28 year period. Wren's "Dew and Mildew" was issued in 1912. Two stories, "The Disappearance of General Jason" and "Two Feet from Heaven," were published in 1940.

Among his many tales of daring, three became almost as popular as "Beau Geste." These were "Beau Sabreur," "Beau Ideal," and "Soldiers of Misfortune."

His son, Percival Christopher Wren Jr., and Judith Wood, American actress, were married in Tokio on March 17, 1937.

INMATE OF STATE GIRLS' SCHOOL IS FOUND HANGED

First Suicide at Geneva Institution.

Bertha Wassmer, 18 years old, of Joliet, an inmate of the Geneva State Training School for Girls at Geneva, Kane county, hanged herself last night in Howe cottage on the institution grounds. She was the first inmate of the school ever to have committed suicide, according to Geneva police.

After supper the girl avoided joining other inmates for the usual recreation hour by pleading illness. She went to her room, looped a bedsheet around her neck, tied the other end to a window grating, and jumped off the bed. Her body was found by Mrs. Clare Moody, house mother.

Returned for Parole Violation.

The girl was committed to Geneva April 23, 1938. She was paroled in January, 1940, but was returned for violation of parole June 19, 1940, after she had gained admittance to Joliet penitentiary and visited a convict by posing as his daughter.

She left a note addressed to her mother, Mrs. Henry Wassmer, of 421 Richards street, Joliet, in which she said: "Sorry, mother, I couldn't stand it any longer.

Asks for Forgiveness.

"Forgive me—you, too, daddy, and my sisters and my brothers. I really don't want to go on living this awful life of suffering I have known for the last 3½ years. Remember, mother, I love you."

The note was written on the blank part of a letter which her mother had sent the girl on Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, managing officer of the school, said that the girl was up for parole and the school was seeking a foster home, with the prospect that she would be placed and released from the institution by Christmas. Mrs. Lewis said that the girl was a waitress in Howe cottage, which is the cottage for the school staff.

State police were called to the school when officials said they felt protection was required because of the attitude taken by the girl's father after he learned of the suicide.

John E. Warner Says, Avoid Aging 14 Years in 4

This young man has a fine head of hair and doesn't feel that he will ever be bald. Yet, his scalp is laden with dandruff, itches constantly, and he loses a great deal of hair each day. Right now a short period of the pleasant, low-cost, scientific treatment used by John E. Warner and Associates would rid him of his dandruff, check the hair fall and normalize his scalp. He could keep this fine head of hair.

A year later the hair has receded at the temples, and our young man is worrying about it. He douses his head with cure-all lotions, and his scalp condition is growing worse. A free private consultation with John E. Warner would tell him that he could save and improve the hair which he still has.

Three years later it is too late to have a good head of hair but not too late to save and improve the hair that remains, through prompt treatment, by John E. Warner and Associates. The Warner method of treatment is effective because of years of research study and experience.

Four years later, it is too late, his appearance is permanently marred, a serious handicap to anyone. A youthful appearance is necessary these days to success in the social and business worlds. Statistics show that 85% of all baldness can be prevented if properly treated in time; but once you are bald you can never hope to regrow hair (except in rare cases of alopecia areata).

There is no charge or obligation for a scalp examination and consultation. Examination and treatment are given in strictest privacy. FEES FOR TREATMENT ARE VERY MODERATE AND ARE PAYABLE AS THE TREATMENTS ARE TAKEN—NOT IN ADVANCE. Hours 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. daily, Saturdays to 6 P. M.

There is a separate department for women. Other Warner offices located in Boston, Hartford, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Detroit.

ILLINOIS SENATE AID MAY RUN FOR COURT CLERKSHIP

Republicans Favorable to Alexander Candidacy.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Edward H. Alexander of Jacksonville, secretary of the Illinois state senate, probably will be a candidate for clerk of the state Supreme court in the primary next April.

Edward H. Alexander.

Reliable reports from downstate described Alexander and some of his friends as feeling out his prospects of support and as well pleased with the response. Downstate legislators particularly were said to be willing to go the whole distance for him and almost all of the county chairmen consulted were reported to be considering his candidacy favorably.

Seek Central Illinois Man.

It was said also that several of the important downstate Republican leaders, including public officials, believe that the nominee for the clerkship should come from central Illinois and that Alexander fitted into the picture smoothly.

It is considered entirely possible that the Green administration forces might swing in behind the Jacksonville man. Alexander was the popular choice of the new Republican majority of the state senate for the secretaryship of that body last January. At that time it was reported authoritatively that Gov. Green had approved the choice.

There is a general understanding among Republicans that there will be no organization slate for the April primary. It is widely known, however, that in view of the fact that there is nothing in that prohibition to prevent an individual from pledging his support wherever he chooses, state officials have made promises to primary candidates which they are expected to keep.

Brooks to Get Support.

Gov. Green is expected to support Sen. Wayland Brooks for nomination, William G. Stratton, now congressman at large, for state treasurer, and Stephen A. Day for a second term as congressman at large. The present treasurer, Warren Wright, who is barred from running for a second consecutive term in that office, could have the support of all of this group for the Supreme court clerkship if he wanted it, but he has declined the opportunity.

That opens the way for Alexander. In addition to his wide acquaintanceship as secretary of the senate, Alexander has earlier friendships thruout the state, established when he served two years as vice president of the Young Republican Organization of Illinois and several years as a member of the organization's board of governors.

The Supreme court clerkship now is held by Edward F. Cullinane, an Havana Democrat named by the justices of the court to fill the vacancy caused by the death last year of Clerk Adam F. Bloch.

CALDWELL MUST APPEAR IN COURT TODAY—OR ELSE!

Today is the day on which Max Caldwell has been ordered to give an accounting of his stewardship of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks' Protective association. He is supposed to disclose how he dispensed with more than $900,000 of the union's money.

If Caldwell does not give the accounting, his imprisonment on a contempt charge will be sought by Attorney Francis Heisler, representing union members who filed suit for the accounting of the huge sum paid to Caldwell in dues and fees since 1937.

The ex-union boss—he was ousted last spring—is required to appear before Judge Cornelius J. Harrington of the Circuit court. Heisler said that if Caldwell fails to show up, the court will be asked to issue a warrant for his arrest and to order his extradition if he is outside the state.

Caldwell, in a preliminary hearing on the union's suit, testified before Master in Chancery Daniel Covelli that he had no money on hand and that he had lived on his salary of $125 per week—his only income.

BELIEVE FLEEING CONVICTS ROBBED JOLIET MOTORIST

Two Joliet convicts who escaped Saturday are believed to have been the men who robbed William Rabb, Joliet, yesterday morning.

The escaped convicts, both Chicagoans, are Francis Holleran, 28 years old, serving 1 to 10 years for attempted robbery, and Joseph McArthur, 27, serving 1 to 20 years for automobile larceny. Their pleas for parole were to have been heard today by the parole board.

Rabb said two men, armed only with knives, took his pocketbook, which contained $5, and his automobile from him in front of his home. He said one wore the regulation prison gray uniform; the other had on an overcoat. They drove away in his car, he told Police Chief Nicholas Forango of Joliet.

Four hundred thousand Chicagoans will find Christmas seals in their mail this morning. It will be the opening of the 1941 drive conducted by the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county to raise funds for its war against disease. The seals this year show the picture of a lighthouse on a winter landscape, designed to illustrate the security and protection afforded by health education in a year 'round fight against tuberculosis. In the upper right corner is the familiar double-barred cross, known for many years as the symbol of this modern crusade.

GAMING QUIZ JURY TO HEAR REPORT BY MAYOR TODAY

Mayor Kelly is expected back from Washington, D. C., this morning and later in the day will be a witness before the November grand jury, which is to conclude its investigation of the Guzik gambling syndicate next Friday. The mayor's testimony will be about gang activities within the city, altho the investigation concerns mainly the areas policed by Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien in outlying Cook county. Kelly was not subpenaed but will appear in response to an invitation of the jury.

State's Attorney Courtney and his first assistant, Wilbert F. Crowley, indicated that the investigation will not be concluded when the term of the present grand jury expires. The jurors are expected to recommend that the December grand jury carry on the work.

The jury, so far, has learned that gambling was openly conducted in several parts of the county during the summer months and that officials tolerated thousands of slot machines. Four assistant state's attorneys and eight investigators under Capt. Daniel Gilbert have been presenting evidence to that effect to the jury.

FRED B. GILBERT IS NAMED IOWA G. O. P. CHAIRMAN

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 23 (AP).—The Iowa Republican Central committee today elected Fred B. Gilbert of State Center as G. O. P. state chairman.

Gilbert, who is 52 years old and is the party's third district committeeman since 1937, succeeds Shannon B. Charlton of Manchester, who resigned last week to accept appointment as district judge in the 10th Iowa judicial district.

Gilbert, a banker, lawyer, and a bachelor, served in the Iowa house of representatives in the 39th and 40th general assemblies and was a delegate to the Republican national convention in 1932.

HAROLD TEEN—IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Only Christianity Can End Crisis, Says Archbishop Stritch

"The world faces a crisis," Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch told 1,500 representatives of 305 local branches attending the annual meeting of the Holy Name union yesterday in the Palmer House. "It is not the first nor the last, but the most terrible—one which cannot be solved by any dictator, but only by Christ and His principles."

One hundred new branches of the society were reported since the last annual meeting. These were announced as including 174,863 men of the archdiocese.

LAST MONDAY'S QUESTION.

Question 34: Rubber bridge; North-South vulnerable. The bidding proceeds:

North	East	South	West
1 heart	Pass	?

You are South, and hold:

♠ A K Q J 7 5 2 ♥ — ♦ A Q 10 3 ♣ 6 2

What call do you make?

Answer: Two spades. This simple question was included to trap those players who subscribe to the wide-spread but fallacious theory that the responder should never make a jump take-out except with a "fit" for his partner's opening bid. Actually, lack of such a fit should induce caution, but it should not induce the use of the word "never." If the responder's hand, and particularly his own suit, are strong enough, he should not hesitate to make a jump response. Failure to respond with two spades on this hand will almost surely result in the inability to show the great strength in spades and diamonds. [Fifteen points demerit for one spade; 25 points demerit for four no trump or six spades; 35 points demerit for three or four spades; 50 points demerit for any other call.]

TODAY'S HAND.

East, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

♦ A Q 10 8 7
♣ Q 4

SOUTH
♠ K 9 8 3 2
♥ A Q 6
♦ 5
♣ J 8 6 3

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 club
1 diamond	1 spade	Pass	Pass
2 diamonds	2 spades	3 diamonds	3 spades
Pass	4 spades	[all pass]

The first few rounds of bidding, it will be noted, were given over to "sparring" technique by both sides, neither wanting to permit the other the chance for a part score. Incidentally, North would not have opened the bidding except in a match-point game.

West opened his fourth best diamond. East won with the ace and, for want of a better return, played back a low diamond. Declarer ruffed, entered dummy with the spade ace, cashed the spade queen, and ruffed dummy's last diamond. Now, with only one trump left in each hand and much establishment work to be done, declarer dared not use his own last trump. Besides, he had a splendid use in mind for dummy's last trump. He led a low club toward dummy and, when West ducked, went right up with the king. [He knew East would not have passed originally if he had held the club ace in addition to the diamond suit]. The club king holding, a club was returned, and East found himself on lead. To return a diamond would permit a ruff in one hand and a discard in the other, hence, East chose to return a low heart. This, too, was quite satisfactory to declarer, who let the lead ride to dummy's jack, then finessed again on a return heart lead. The heart queen holding, declarer led another club.

It will be noted that all this time West was sitting with a trump, but that it did him no good. Winning with the club ace, West could make no return that could win another trick. Declarer had managed to establish two club tricks and to avoid the loss of a heart trick while, at the same time, maintaining rigid trump control. His play was an exhibition of imagination and sound technique.

Pets Offered to Shut-Ins by Two Readers

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

We have two nice offers of house pets to present to interested readers.

The first comes from Mrs. C., who resides on the north side:

"Dear Miss Brown: I have a parrot I should like to give to some invalid or shut-in who would give him a good home. A cage for him goes with the offer. I shall be pleased to hear from any one who would enjoy having this bird for company."

A similar offer comes from Mrs. B., who writes:

"Dear Miss Brown: I have a bright blue female love bird to give to some person who would like to have it and can arrange to call for it. The cage, of course, goes with it, and I hope you can locate some shut-in who would like to own such a pet."

Readers who would like to have either of these birds may write to the donors in care of this department. All letters will be forwarded for selection, and the recipient notified. Please do not telephone this office in regard to this offer.

Buying of Christmas Gifts Now Made Easy for Proxy Shoppers

BY REA SEEGER.

About the finest services available to agitated pre-Christmas shoppers are the personal shopping bureaus. Staffed by dozens of experts, who can do anything from decoding difficult penmanship to thinking up something positively brilliant for the problem people on your lists, they are eager to help. You can send in your longest list by mail or you can shop in person with a convoy of these experts right in the shops and stores of Chicago.

If your imagination has suddenly departed, if you are temporarily grounded in home quarters, if you have sudden attacks of claustrophobia at the thought of struggling with millions of bundle hung shoppers . . . use the never failing services of these proxy shoppers.

All they need are the names and addresses of the various people on your lists. They'll shop, wrap, send, and mail, even enclosing suitable sentiments of the season on a card. Or they'll carefully follow any and all hints, desires, and vague hopes you may have yourself and follow them faithfully to the last small item.

Personal shoppers have complete knowledge of all the newest colors, new gadgets, new fads, fancies, and even practical gifts. They know every nook and cranny as well as gift corners in their respective shops and stores.

Personal shoppers are particularly effective with those gentlemen seldom seen about the shops and stores . . . generous, tho timid souls, who shudder at the thought of wandering round a shop or store at any time let alone the holiday season. Also for the shopping shy men who manage to blush convincingly over the mention of lingerie, sizes of hosiery, and other formidably feminine data.

Gift of Beauty Treatments Is Sure to Please

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

ELEANOR NANGLE

We don't believe there is a woman in the world who doesn't like beauty treatments. No matter how practical she is, or how much she may talk about the extravagance, it's an absolute cinch that at heart every woman enjoys being treated like a fragile flower occasionally. And in the beauty salon that's exactly the way she is treated.

That's only one reason why we recommend a gift certificate for beauty treatments as a Christmas present. And if she's the rugged kind who hates to spend her own money for luxurious face treatments or an occasional soothing body treatment, you'll find that the gift will be doubly appreciated.

Almost all the salons now make arrangements for gift certificates. The giver can order a course of facials or an exercise course, or can just write out the amount and let her have what she wants.

A permanent wave as a Christmas present isn't a bad idea at all. Mothers, particularly, are inclined to let such things go, considering them self-indulgent. A gorgeous permanent for her makes a wonderful present. Or she can have manicures for months to come on her gift certificate.

Maybe she is stouter than she wishes to be. Think how much she'd love a course of body treatments at a good salon, where she can have massage and exercise that will not only make her slimmer but improve her general health. Perhaps, best of all, it will make her feel pampered—and that's the nicest thing you can do for her!

White Collar GIRL

Examinations for clerical jobs often include an association test similar to the one below. In the first column the familiar sayings are numbered. Write in the second column the corresponding number in the space before the familiar saying which expresses the same idea. Can you do it in three minutes?

1. It never rains but it pours. [ ]
2. Kind hearts are more than coronets. [ ]
3. Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined. [ ]
4. Know thyself. [ ]
5. Carrying timber into a wood. [ ]
6. First come first served. [ ]
7. Faint heart ne'er won fair lady. [ ]
8. A tempest in a teapot. [ ]
9. Don't put off till tomorrow what you can do today. [ ]
10. He who fights and runs away, may live to fight another day. [ ]
11. Make hay while the sun shines. [ ]
12. Every man to his own taste. [ ]

[ ] Discretion is the better part of valor.
[ ] Troubles never come singly.
[ ] A mountain out of a molehill.
[ ] No time like the present.

Something Lacking.

A student, working part time in an architect's office, went walking with her boy friend on a Sunday afternoon. They came upon a new, unoccupied house which intrigued them. Neat and substantial looking, they agreed. Yet, it lacked something.

"Like a man without his collar and tie," the architecturally minded young woman said. So, together they composed this note to the owner: "We think this house needs grille work around the French doors." . . . They slipped the note in the mail box and . . . like kids who had just delivered a comic valentine . . . ran like mad. To date the grille work has not appeared.

That Which Pertaineth.

A Milwaukee avenue listening post reports that in Deuteronomy xxii., 5, Moses said: "The woman shall not wear that which pertaineth unto man."

But out on Archer avenue are a couple of girls, in overalls, working in a filling station, doing work "which pertaineth unto man"—a Twentieth century contingency which even Moses may not have foreseen.

Meanwhile, in Argentina, intrepid young women who go "into trade" wear their hats during business hours to show they are ladies withal.

Beauty and Brains.

An employment agency sent four girls to an advertising executive for a secretarial position. One was singularly striking. The other three were plain. He hired a plain one. . . . Later the agency, checking on the interview, asked his opinion of the beauty, a Miss Hall. He answered that he doubted whether brains came in such a fancy package.

"That's too bad," the agency replied. "Miss Hall, of the four, was the only honor student."

Caroling Group Will Serenade on Gold Coast

BY JUDITH CASS.

CANDLE flames will glow thru the windows along Astor street and North State parkway on the evening of Dec. 23, for that night the Great Lakes Dredge and Philharmonic Friends of Music will be afoot. It's a tradition that the group of 30 members will stop for a carol before any home that has a lighted candle in its window.

Looking like a scene out of Dickens in their bright red mufflers and high toppers, the carolers with their lanterns will gather at dusk in the little park in Goethe and Astor streets. Their path will take them up Astor street to North avenue, and down State parkway. The singers will stop to warm fingers and take hot drinks at the James W. Rogers' home in Scott street, at the Joseph T. Ryersons' in Astor street, and at the John L. Cochrans' in State parkway. There will be a hot buffet supper awaiting them at the Merrill Shepards' home in East Elm street, where the group is rehearsing.

The society has grown to its present size from an informal group of men who first assembled in 1933 because they liked to sing.

Saddle and Cycle Club Group to Read Plays.

Members of the Saddle and Cycle are starting a new form of entertainment for Sunday nights following the buffet suppers which are so popular with the club members and their guests. A group of men and women who enjoy amateur dramatics are going to read plays without costumes or elaborate "props" but with plenty of action. The first, a musical comedy, will be read and sung next Sunday with Louis C. Sudler, Edwin M. Ashcraft III., Aldis Browne Jr., Mrs. Robert Dumper, Mrs. Byron S. Harvey Jr., Mrs. Earl Kribben, Mrs. Wells Farnham, John Cromelin, and Eugene Swigart taking part.

Mrs. Dumper, Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Herbert Stratford, and Mrs. Maurice P. Geraghty form the committee in charge of the playreading evenings. Each week there will be a guest director. Durand Smith has accepted the invitation to be the first one, Walter Frazier the second, and Ellsworth Lafiin the third. There will be one rehearsal before each reading.

When Mrs. I. Newton Perry returns from Panama, where she attended the wedding on Saturday of her daughter, Sally, and Ensign Edward A. Limberg Jr., she will find plans for the Casino's big party of the year in full swing. As president of the club Mrs. Perry will be welcoming guests on Dec. 12 to a gala dinner-dance. Mrs. Ambrose C. Cramer, Walter Frazier, Mrs. Kent S. Clow, and Mrs. John R. Winterbotham, who are in charge of the entertainment, have promised something entirely new.

Miss Helen Forsyth and Lieut. F. D. Case Jr. Engaged.

The guests who attended a cocktail party on Saturday given by Miss Betty Lindsay at the Evanston home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey B. Lindsay, found that the party was being held to announce the engagement of two of the guests, Miss Helen Forsyth and Lieut. Frank D. Case Jr. Miss Forsyth is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Forsyth of Evanston and her fiancé's parents used to live in Evanston but now reside in Chicago.

The Forsyth family formerly lived in Hillsborough, near San Francisco, and Miss Forsyth was educated at Scripps college and Leland Stanford, where she was graduated in June, 1940. Lieut. Case was graduated from the Naval academy in 1938 and now is stationed aboard the U. S. S. Wasp in Norfolk, Va., with a naval aviation unit. No date for the wedding has been set. Lieut. Case is at home on leave.

Work on the annual Christmas toy shop of the Francis W. Parker school starts today and continues thru Dec. 5. Mothers and fathers, pupils and teachers coöperate to make and to renovate toys that are sent to social agencies which distribute them to thousands of boys and girls at Christmas time. Mrs. Jerome L. Deimel is chairman of the executive committee of the toy shop, with Mrs. Woodruff J. Parker as co-chairman. Mrs. Leon Stoltz, Mrs. John A. Holabird, Miss Hazel Cornell, Miss Marie Claussenius, Mrs. George Birkenstein, John Rau, Francis Heller, Mary Lucia Hathaway, and Harold Carpenter are also on the committee.

Shoppers wishing to avoid the Christmas rush have marked today, tomorrow, and Wednesday on their calendars for a holiday sale of the

Mrs. C. Daggett Harvey is interested in dachshunds, for her husband is vice president of the Central States Dachshund club. Front Views and Profiles

Beyond Ideas.

The cab driver was discursive. "I've been driving up and down State street all evening looking at those toy windows," he began. "There's one . . ." He paused, his voice dreamy. "I tell you, it is something beyond the physical, beyond ideas. . . . It kind of makes you want to get married."

A World Grown Young and Beautiful.

Land of wonder and of dreams, land of eternal childhood, where infinity hinges on the eyelashes of a doll and the star on the tree is real. . . . Down State street's lane of glowing red Christmas candles in their wreaths of green the Christmas scene lives again, and the crowds fight to get near it, children scrambling beneath adult legs to look with wistful longing. All the windows have animation this year; even the elf's white eyebrows jump and quiver

Here is Santa, as gigantic as he is in dreams, at home in his shirt sleeves, his fat paunch quivering "like a bowl full of jelly" as he laughingly tries to avoid the comb a tiny elf would wield in his unruly white beard. Another elf polishes his huge black boot, and a third brushes lint from his worn red velvet jacket, while genial Mrs. Santa rocks and smiles and knits. . . . Near by he is smaller, seated behind his reindeer, and racing around his workshop where the elves hammer and cobble and paint, and down a block or two he and his laden pack descend a chimney.

A Dream Come True.

Another recreates the Christmas of childhood's dreams, that gorgeous land of fantasy where elephants come in pastel colors and as large as giant oaks, a little brown monkey curled on the trunk of one [". . . and the monkey he got drunk and climbed on the elephant's trunk . . ."], where the twisted little elves dangle the dolls upside down, pull the spotted donkeys by the tail, and push a doll buggy with baffled solemnity. Two tiny children, their eyes wide with sleep and awe, gaze in wondering bliss ["O," the cab driver had said. "The innocence of it!"]. . . .

Nostalgia.

Across the street the Christmas eve of half a century ago is recreated. The family is in the parlor, its walls papered with bouquets of roses, a pot-bellied stove in the corner, an old French clock in its glass case on the mantel. Mother in her peacock brocade with steel buttons and leg-of-mutton sleeve hangs the last string of cranberries on a tree laden with cookies and popcorn strings. Sister in her pinafore sits at the organ. Little brother sits on the floor playing with his dog, and father, bearded and in his smoking jacket, holds the baby, in its cap and gown of sprigged flannelette and begins to tell the story of the night when Christ was born. As he talks, the Nativity gradually appears behind a veil in the loft; first the star, then Mary and the Babe, then the Three Kings of the orient. His voice goes on and on, out to the crowds on the street, ". . . for they'll never take Christmas away from the world. It lives in the hearts of men." And the red plush curtains close on the scene, not to part for another 10 minutes. ["What gets me," the cab driver had said, "is why people can't make every day Christmas. People pick out one day to be nice on . . ."]

Miss Maynor Sings Well, but Is Called Arty

BY EDWARD BARRY.

The recital by the American soprano, Dorothy Maynor, in the Civic Opera house yesterday is difficult to review. It was very good. It was not very good.

In a program of many kinds of music—lyrical and heroic, religious and operatic, art and folk, European and American—Miss Maynor strengthened in some respects the good impression she made here the season before last.

Her voice in its bigness, its golden brightness, and the variety of its color values was more splendid than we remembered it. Miss Maynor had not, at the time of her other Chicago appearance, developed her ethereal mezzo-piano to its present perfection.

Her technique, too, has improved. Yesterday's slight vocal faults were nowhere near as disturbing as those of two seasons ago.

Yet much of yesterday's program, in the arty, over-intense, and actually fussy quality of its performance, suggested that, as an interpreter, Miss Maynor has exchanged the forest for the trees.

She has, in the opinion of this reviewer, studied her songs at too close range, expended mountains of effort on detail, and in the process lost sight of what the songs themselves actually mean.

The result is something which may command a listener's respect [on the score of workmanship and internal consistency] but cannot arouse him to ecstasy. Only the simple, direct expression of a fully mastered content can do that.

Clarinetist Pleases

The Philharmonic string quartet last night gave the second in its series of three concerts in the Goodman theater sponsored by the Lake View Musical society. As assisting artist, Robert Lindemann, clarinetist, joined the ensemble in Brahms' quintet for clarinet and strings in B minor, Opus 115. Villa-Lobos' third quartet and Haydn's quartet in C major, Opus 74, No. 1, completed the program.

The tone Mr. Lindemann elicits from his instrument is one which all clarinetists might envy. Its roundness and purity were a constant joy thruout the Brahms work, which blends the instrument's color with that of the string quartet beautifully. Following the first movement, wherein the rough and ready playing of the quartet tended to drown out the clarinet, the quintet was sensitively performed and well balanced in its ensemble.

Apparently the Villa-Lobos quartet has won local popularity, for this is the third time the Philharmonic group has played it within a year. Its attraction for the average audience must lie in its superficial dressing up of negligible musical material—a few piquant rhythms, some resourceful instrumental coloring, and the saccharine harmonies of early 20th century French music.

The closing Haydn quartet was filled with valuable and often novel melodic and structural ideas. Its rendition was not as meticulous as one expects. R. E.

Martinelli Excells

Giovanni Martinelli's impassioned performance as Canio was again the highlight of Saturday night's "Pagliacci" at the Civic Opera house.

The rest of the cast did not come up to the tenor's standard, but Richard Bonelli's Tonio was the most appealing seen here in years. He offers a less grotesque conception of the frustrated buffoon. Edward Stack, young Chicago baritone, sang Silvio for the first time—his largest rôle to date—with a light, agreeable voice. Leola Turner made a routine Nedda, and the cast was completed with Giuseppe Cavadore's regulation Harlequin. The well-paced performance was conducted by Angelo Canarutto. R. E.

'Blossom Time' Flowers Again, Faded, but Alive

BY CECIL SMITH.

In the current restoration of "Blossom Time," most of the emphasis is upon singing, and pretty loud singing. Since the venerable operetta is now celebrating its 20th anniversary with a cross-country tour, the production is "geared to operate at a low nut," as the trade journals say, which means the settings represent an irreducible minimum of easily movable properties and a good many of the costumes look like something the wardrobe mistress might have run up on her own sewing machine.

But most of the singing is good, if a great deal of volume is what you are after. Martha Errolle, in particular, sings even her high Bs with fresh and lovely tone, and in the bargain succeeds fully in making Bellabruna look every inch a countess. The new Mitzi, Patricia Wing, possesses a warm voice which is flexible and attractive until she forces it up to ill-advised top Cs and Ds; her chief deficiency is an inability to utter passages of dialogue as tho the words were intended to fit together into comprehensible sentences. Frank Hornaday is personable and vocally fluent as Baron von Schober.

If you can overlook the rather waterlogged singing and hysterical overacting of Everett Marshall in the main part of Schubert, the performance is generally acceptable. It attains real brilliance and life, however, only during the low comic antics of Douglas Leavitt, whose ripe talent for perfect timing and caricature rivals that of W. C. Fields.

Another "Blossom Time," no better and no worse than the last two. Take it or leave it.

Furniture His Size Pleasing to the Child

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Children have far too few things about the house made especially for their needs and scaled to their size. Most houses are equipped for the use and enjoyment of large sized human beings, and children delight in equipment which fits them physically. You may not think that such a suggestion has a holiday air, but you will find that your child considers it quite a gift, and that it becomes one of long lived interest.

Does your son, for instance, have to do all his carpentry in "any old place," keep his tools here and there, and probably get scolded for the mess he makes. If so, let your husband make son a work bench. If your home won't accommodate one, fit up a good carpenter's tool box which may be kept in his room or under a bed.

Make a broad, low table or bench for her use when Barbara wants to wash enthusiastically on Monday mornings or a rainy afternoon. Fashion her a big apron or smock. Supple oilcloth or some other material with her name or a gay design on it will delight her and be practical, too.

Sally's chest of drawers, painted in her favorite color, with her initials or a stencil of her favorite animal, may be made simply at home. Or you can get your local lumber shop to cut the wood to specifications and you can assemble it.

A "very own" shelf or bookcase designed for a young child's books, made deep and high to fit the larger picture book volumes, or one for toys, is enjoyed as well as used by your small one.

GASOLINE ALLEY—THE FORK OF THE ROAD

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Unhappy Landing

"Justice Deferred"

By William MacLeod Raine

(Copyright: 1941: By William MacLeod Raine)

INSTALMENT XIII.

UNHEEDED WARNING.

Jim Fallon looked the slender, lean loined athlete over admiringly. "I'd certainly be pleased to have you for my boss, Jack Waugh. I never did see the beat of the way you cleaned up on Tracy. You were that cool and light steppin'.

"And those sockdolagers you landed on him musta hurt like blazes. I didn't figure there was a man in 100 miles could whip him in a rough and tumble. But there's no use foolin' yourself. Like you said, you've done started a war. There's not another outfit in the country like the A C. Its warriors will swarm around you like bees and sting you to death if you give them a chance. What I say is, we'd better hit the trail, you an' me both."

Waugh shook his head, smiling cheerfully at Fallon. "No hurry, Jim. You have been thru your war and I thru mine. If you went up San Juan hill with Teddy you don't need to worry about a pack of wolves like this outfit. Far as I have discovered, they are fine at dry gulching, but not so good in the open. We are not going to let them run us off the reservation."

His confidence was infectious. Perhaps he was too optimistic, but his good cheer beat a drum of courage in the little line rider's breast.

"That's right," he said. "We don't have to get off the earth because the Clintons tell us to."

"No, but we had better drift along to the Three Prongs," Carey said. "Brad isn't going to like our visit here. Pack your war sack, Jim, and we'll hit the trail."

Fallon had not many belongings. He put his saddle and bridle in a gunnysack, his clothes in an imitation leather suitcase. The kitten he parked in the pocket of his slicker, which he wore because that was the easiest way of carrying it.

"Let's go," he said.

There were three men and only two horses, with five miles to travel, but Fallon decided not to saddle a horse belonging to the ranch. "Like as not, if I borrowed one, they would make me out a horse thief."

The men took turns walking. More than once the little puncher looked back anxiously to make sure they were not being followed. It would not have surprised him at any time during the last two miles to see a dozen galloping riders topping a hill behind them. When they reached the Three Prongs he drew a deep sigh of relief. Jim had not worked for the Clintons 20 years without having a wholesome fear of their vengeance.

"Tell me about that fellow Ike Parker," Waugh said after they had turned their horses over to a stableman. "I can't get the fellow out of my mind. I've met him somewhere, but I can't recall the place or time. Can you tell me if he ever lived down El Paso way?"

"No, sir. I can't. He's from Texas, I hear. But I wouldn't know what part." The line rider rubbed the bristles on his cheek with the palm of his callused hand. "What I hear, he's a killer. Two-three men he has bumped off, anyhow. Maybe more. Ever since I've been with them the A C has had some bad men in the outfit.

"I dunno why, exactly. There hasn't been any need for gunmen, but Brad acts like he is happier with a few on the pay roll. Right now he has got Shorty Giddings and Clem Peake, as well as Ike. All of them mighty tough hombres. Consequence is, neighbors kinda walk round our fellows when they get on the prod. Maybe that's why Brad hires these scalawags."

"Do all the Clintons keep their property in one pot and own the whole caboodle in common?" Jack asked.

"No," answered Carey. "They split up nearly 10 years ago. Had a kind of a row but patched it up later. Old Ab has his finger in everything, and he looks after his interests mighty sharp. But his sons have separated their holdings. Outside of what their father owns Brad has the ranches, Ed the bank, and John the gas and electric company. Each of them has real estate scattered around here and there and probably stock in other companies. That's what I've been told, anyhow."

"How come they came to divide things up was that Ed and John figured Brad was too rough," explained Fallon. "Least-ways that's how it leaked down to us. Their notion was that in these days a fellow has to follow the law and not bullyrag others the way Brad does. Old Ab kinda holds with Brad, they say. Brad's idea is that maybe them slick ways of putting it over on folks is all right in town but it won't work out here in the ranch country. You got to keep crackin' the whip, he reckons."

Waugh did not let himself underestimate his opponents. He had scored the first victory by defeating two of the ranch leaders and rescuing the man who had been almost a peon for 20 years. The next move was up to the A C. It was as certain that they would strike back at him as that night would follow the day.

Abner Clinton III. drove up the winding road and brought his sport roadster to a halt just in front of the A C ranch house. The buildings formed a quadrangle around an open space littered with an outdoor blacksmith shop, broken down machinery, worn out wagons, hay racks, and cars in various conditions of decrepitude. Old Ab could be recklessly extravagant, but in the ordinary affairs of life he was a penny pincher. It hurt him to spend a dollar unless the need for it was urgent. In this respect Brad was a chip off the old block. Patches of plaster had scaled off from the walls of the adobe dwelling built 40 years ago. Brad was always talking about having the house repaired, but he could not quite bring himself to spend the money.

Young Abner glanced at his wrist watch and was satisfied with his driving time. Just 27 minutes since he had left the country club. Good going. He had been up all night at a dance, taken a quick shower, eaten breakfast, and started from Santa Rita as son as he was thru. Sleep might be nature's sweet restorer, but he would have to wait for it until night. He had promised his grandfather to start the cover-up campaign at once. His promptness gave him an unwonted virtuous feeling. It would be a feather in his cap to show the old man that when the playboy got to work he could deliver the goods.

He sauntered along the sagging porch to the corner room that had been old Ab's office and was still used by his son, Brad, for the same purpose. Before he reached it he became aware of voices engaged in none too friendly argument. His uncle and the ranch foreman, he guessed, each intent on outtalking the other. For the moment the raucous insistence of Tracy rode down the less noisy words of the owner, altho the young man knew that in the end the biting sarcasm of Clinton, with its whiplash sting, would cut deeper and hurt longer.

"I keep tellin' you it was an accident," Tracy shouted harshly. "I hit my head against the car and got knocked out. Get that into yore noggin."

"Sure. Sure." Brad's bitter mirth was both jeering and skeptical. "You're a wonder, Warren. Not even a circus acrobat could hit a car and get every inch of his face plowed up with cuts and bruises the way you did. When you are fighting a car maybe you oughtn't to lead with your face so often."

Young Abner walked into the room. Three men were present, not counting himself. The third one was Ike Parker. Brad sat behind a desk. His malicious little eyes mocked the foreman. A cackle of splenetic laughter shook the thick, shapeless body. For some reason his uncle, Brad, always reminded the young man of a swollen toad. The gross body of the ranchman was repulsive to his kinsman. His dirty, ill-fitting clothes annoyed the youth. A man who had any self-respect took care of his body and its garb. The carelessness Abner could forgive in his grandfather he resented in his uncle.

The arrival of young Clinton for the moment interrupted the quarrel. The angry disputants stared at him while he let his gaze drift from one to another. "What's all the shooting about?" he inquired.

"Nothing important," Brad said. "Warren got bumped up a little trying to butt over a car with his head." He tittered, to lend ironic point to his answer.

"I wish you'd print more cookie recipes," writes a homemaker. "My family is crazy about cookies, and so I'm always looking for new recipes."

Most families are "crazy about" cookies, I think. Perhaps I've been neglecting these goodies in my column. Here are a few good recipes for now, and I'll remember to find some good Christmas cookies for a little later. By the way, there are some good recipes in "Holiday Cookies and Fruit Cakes," 5 cents [preferably in stamps], by mail.

Filled Apricot Cookies.
[About 4½ dozen.]

1 cup butter, margarine or other fat
2 cups sugar
4 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla
4 cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups sieved cooked dried apricots
1½ cups sugar
¾ teaspoon salt

Cream butter and sugar together thoroly. Add beaten eggs and flavoring. Mix well. Sift flour, baking powder and salt, and add to other ingredients. Mix dough thoroly. It will be easier to roll dough in portions. If more flour is needed to make rolling easier, work it into the dough, but avoid adding more than is necessary, for a tender cookie does not come from the stiffest of doughs, as a rule. Chill the dough before rolling it, if you like. This will make rolling easier without the necessity of adding much extra flour. Roll dough thin and cut into circles or other shapes. Cut small circles from the center of half the shapes. Spread the filling, made by cooking apricots, sugar, and salt until thick, and then cooling, over the whole cookie shapes, and top with those which have circles cut from their centers to expose the filling. Press edges of cookie sandwiches together with tines of a fork. Bake them on ungreased sheet in a 400 degree oven for 12 to 15 minutes.

Oatmeal Peanut Butter Cookies.
[About 6 dozen.]

1 cup butter or margarine
2 cups sugar
½ cup peanut butter
2 eggs
¼ cup milk
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
2 teaspoons vanilla
3½ cups quick cooking oats
2 cups seedless raisins

Cream butter and sugar thoroly. Beat in peanut butter, then beaten eggs. Add milk. Sift flour, baking powder, soda and salt with spices. Add to first mixture, stirring well. Work in oats. Add raisins, which have been "plumped" in scalding water for 5 minutes, then drained on a towel. Drop dough from a teaspoon onto an ungreased cookie sheet, about 2 inches apart. Bake 15 minutes at 375 degrees.

Granny's Cookies.
[About 3 dozen.]

½ cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs
¼ cup milk
1½ cups sifted flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup quick cooking rolled oats
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup chopped pitted dates or prunes

Cream shortening and sugar thoroly. Beat eggs and add with milk. Mix well. Sift flour, baking powder, and salt together, and add. Mix in oats, nuts, and fruit. Drop from a spoon onto a greased baking sheet and bake at 350 degrees for 15-20 minutes.

Christmas Cooky Recipe Is Winner of Today's Prize

"This is a very treasured Christmas cooky recipe, handed down by my mother. We would miss the aroma of anise seed in our house if I didn't make these cookies every year," writes Mrs. Albert Buddenhagen of Tinley Park, Ill., who wins a $5 prize for her recipe.

She mixed the cooky batter a few days before baking. Sometimes she bakes the cookies in animal forms and strings them to the Christmas tree.

Prize Recipe

Henrietta Barbow's Brown Christmas Cookies.
[About 250 cookies.]

2 cups New Orleans molasses
2 cups light brown sugar
1 cup lard or other shortening
1 cup water
1 teaspoon each, cinnamon, cloves, allspice, anise seed
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons soda
Flour to make a stiff dough
Boiled icing
Colored sugar

Anise seed should be reduced to powder in a mortar or with a rolling pin. Combine molasses, sugar, lard, water, and spices and bring to a boil. Cool and add salt and 2 teaspoons soda dissolved in a little hot water. Stiffen with flour [cooking editor's note: We used a little more than 9 cups for the full recipe] and knead into a loaf. Cover and let stand a few days. Then roll out and cut with cooky cutter. Bake on cooky sheet at from 325 to 375 degrees. Watch to see that they do not burn. Frost with boiled icing and sprinkle with colored sugar. The cookies needn't all be baked at one time.

Age Disparity Usually Unwise Marriage Basis

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Frequently this writer is asked: "Do you think there is too great a difference in our ages for us to be happily married?" And frequently, the answer is "yes," and again "no."

A girl still in her teens, or even early twenties, often is too young to cope with the mature experience of a man 10 years older than herself. What she lacks in experience, however, she compensates for in romantic dreams, but dreams of love do not make up for the realities of the world in which we live.

A woman 25 years old or over has, or should have, more definite ideas of what it's all about. If she marries a man 10 years her senior when she is 25 or 30, she is better able to meet him on common ground, because she herself has grown more mature.

A woman at any age who marries a man 15 or 20 years older than herself is risking her future happiness. There IS too great a disparity in ages. But if she is past the early romantic stages she has learned how to mix a little pepper of common sense along with the salt of romance. Of course, you know, too, that men as well as women rarely, if ever, outgrow the "romantic stage." Romance is something that always is tempting. It is what makes the world go around and around.

December—Those in a 4-year will probably feel a little uncertain as they come into a 7-month with the feeling of change already in the air. If they really did lay a good foundation during this year, as they should have done, then they shouldn't worry or feel depressed this month. They should have a feeling of security, and as they sit back quietly now and review their past efforts they ought to have a quiet conviction that the coming changes are for the best. If this year has been rather static, the coming year is going to be anything but plodding, so don't mind the retreat necessary this month. Take advantage of the opportunity to rest.

Looking at HOLLYWOOD
By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 23.—Sunday—Fast typing in the morning, then to the George Peltons' in Hidden Valley, and for a call on Tom Kester, ex-adman. Kester is living in happy retirement on the fruits of his labor—which included thinking up a tradename for California citrus fruits and breaking up the Florida monopoly in New York.

Monday—Just inquiring around. . . . One of the local press gals made a speech before a women's organization the other day. "I'm just like a giraffe," she burbled. "You know, I never forget." . . . The Goldwyn press department has unearthed the questionnaire Gary Cooper filled out when he first came to work here. It's terse—and it reveals something most people never knew. Coop played the male lead in a western, "Lightning Justice," in 1926. He listed his hobbies as "freehand drawing, taxidermy."

Tuesday—To R-K-O, where William Dieterle is half way thru shooting "Syncopation." He has his jazz artists among the mobsters in Chicago now. Everybody on the picture is quite relieved by the release of the Warners' "Blues in the Night" and Paramount's "Birth of the Blues." Both these films had been announced as screen histories of swing stuff, from Dixieland to now, and neither is. So Dieterle still has a clear track. . . . Everybody's rooting for Richard Barthelmess in "Mayor of 44th St." He is making a comeback and if he clicks he'll be happy.

Wednesday—Home work most of the day, but time out for a chat with Samuel Goldwyn and Sam tells one on himself. He was going to Jersey City with his girl, Frances Howard, to get a marriage license, and he had with him a copy of the second issue of a new magazine, The New Yorker. On the ride over he thumbed thru it and was angered and horrified to find a long biography of himself in it. "It wasn't good," he said. "I hid the magazine behind me on the seat, because I was afraid the lady I was with would decide not to marry me if she read it. . . . A little while later I met Harold Ross, the editor of this magazine, and said I didn't like the piece. He said he did—it was a good one, and I'd be surprised if I knew who wrote it. He wouldn't tell me who did. Years later I found out who it was. It was Howard Dietz, my own press agent!"

Thursday—Franksgiving, and a holiday, and the more I struggle with the typewriter, the more it looks like an eight ball. Time out, tho, for a turkey dinner at Lakeside with our house guests, Mrs. Dale Carnegie and my uncle, Ellis Prentice Cole, and in the evening to the D. Hempsteads', where David tries to make me understand the intricacies of making the sound track for a movie after the picture has been shot. It takes only one film for you to see on the screen [three for Technicolor originals], but it may take a dozen for you to hear what's going on.

Friday—Eugene Pallette will play butler in the six episode "Tails of Manhattan." He'll carry thru most of the episodes and get more film space than any of the stars. . . . Did I remember to tell you W. C. Fields is getting $50,000 for five days of shooting on that picture? That tops Constance Bennett's $30,000 a week.

Saturday—To Paramount. Edward H. Griffith tells me he's bringing to Hollywood a Broadway actor who should have been here long before—Jay Fassett, an A1 comedian. Fassett spends most of his time these days on his Idaho ranch, and figures he can ranch in summer and winter in the movies. . . . The idea behind Irving Berlin's Crosby-Astaire "Holiday Inn" sounds good. It's about a man who runs a resort only on holidays— but since there are to be 12 Crosby songs and 8 Astaire dances I'm wondering where they'll find room on the film for the plot. Berlin has written numbers for the major holidays.

Good Morning!

Never was a girl on the receiving end of more ridiculous contretemps than is the heroine of this movie.

"Sailors On Leave" is farce comedy—and vurr' vurr' funny—if one is to go by the roars of laughter that cause passers-by the Oriental theater to cock inquisitive ears and grin in sympathy . . . [Sure I saw the piece but I didn't think it was quite THAT funny.]

The hero, "Chuck" Stephens, is a no woman man. . . . He has two pals [WHAT pals!] who decide to put one over on him—and, incidentally, the rest of the gobs on the ship. . . . They concoct a letter, supposed to have been written by a lawyer, in which the attorney notifies Stephens that he will inherit $25,000 if he weds before his 25th birthday. . . .

"Chuck" is the borrowing kind and his creditors, who are many, hear of the letter and make up their minds that a wedding shall come off. . . . The pals are in hot water. SHOULD the boy marry, their gag would be discovered and they—ouch!—they hate to think about it . . . !

"Chuck" decides to find him a girl to whom men are pizen; a girl he can madly court, declaring her to be the only damsel in the world for him, and then be able to say with a clear conscience that she won't have him.

He thinks that in beauteous Linda Hall, a night club singer, he has found the one he seeks. . . . He sends her scallions. . . . She—well, from here on it all becomes most complicated. . . . Do you think the picture ends with a wedding? . . . I'll never tell.

Shirley Ross is very charming and the girls will go for William Lundigan. I know—because I get MORE LETTERS about his "sunny smile," "nice dimples" and such. . . . Chick Chandler, Cliff Nazarro, and Ruth Donnelly are fun and how NICE to see Mae Clarke again! She just has a "bit" part, but she does it well and looks as young as ever.

See you tomorrow.

Better an over-roasted turkey or chicken than an undercooked one. But remember that Pa will have trouble carving neat slices if the bird is so tender it begins to fall apart.

Don't drain that vegetable cooking water down the sink! It's full of minerals and vitamins. Save it for soup if there's too much to serve with the carrots.

* * *

What, no eggs for the muffins? Try them without the egg this time (they'll still be good), but let that be a lesson! No good cook should ever run out of eggs!

* * *

If you don't get good coffee, maybe it's because you're still addicted to that old "heaping spoonful" habit of measuring. Make it 2 level tablespoons of coffee for each 8-ounce cup of water you use. And incidentally, be sure the coffee is fresh.

* * *

Hey, there! Wipe the water from that dripping lettuce before you use it for salad. Don't throw out those dry bread crusts. Toast them, roll them fine and store them in a glass jar to use for breading meat and croquettes.

* * *

Nonsense, that old idea about not serving fish in the same meal with milk or ice cream. Such a combination is perfectly safe and healthful.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Blackhawks last night continued undefeated and untied on their home ice when they beat the Toronto Maple Leafs, 3 to 2, in a National league game that had everything that hockey fans love—dazzling speed, brilliant team play and a free for all, bare fisted knock 'em down fight in the closing seconds of play.

It was the fourth home triumph for the finely conditioned Hawks, the last three of which, in a span of eight nights, have been by scores of 3 to 2, each before an S. R. O. crowd. Last night there were 18,491 jammed in the Stadium. Last Thursday night there were 18,222 to see the Boston Bruins lose and a week ago, 18,146 jammed the premises to watch the Detroit Red Wings get theirs. According to President Bill Tobin, the three sellouts in a row set an all-time record for hockey attendance in successive contests.

Three Scores in 161 Seconds.

The fight and the second Toronto goal came in the last five seconds of the match which was exceedingly exciting thruout, altho all the goals, except the one by Toronto just before the siren ended the game, were made in the second period. The three by the Hawks were made in a span of 161 seconds, or at a rate better than one a minute.

With all the pressure, the game was remarkably clean. Half way thru the third period only two minor penalties had been called, one in the first period and one in the third, both against the Leafs. In the last 10 minutes the Hawks drew two minors prior to the battle royal. Four majors were assessed for the fight, but the gents selected for punishment had to serve only those five seconds.

Only Lo Presti Is Holdout.

There were 11 active combatants in the fight, including Goalie Steve Broda. Sammy Lo Presti, the Hawk goalie, was assigned to the end of the rink in which the fight took place, but was the only eligible not to join in the fighting.

The best two-handed slugging was furnished by Pete Langelle and Joe Cooper, but Johnny Mariucci, Bill Carse, George Allen, Broda, and Hank Goldup as well as several others, were pretty good too. Referee Ed Burke and Linemen Donnie MacFadyen and Burke confined themselves to tugging and later wrestling fist on the ice. Burke seemed especially expert on the headlock. Langelle and Cooper and Allen and Kampman were the pairings put in the penalty box, where they briefly renewed the battle.

The Hawks had the Leafs panting

F. D. R. HATES WAR

In an address broadcast to the nation and the world on Sept. 3, 1939—the day that Great Britain and France declared war on Germany—President Roosevelt declared:

"I have said not once but many times that I have seen war, and that I hate war. I say that again and again.

"I hope the United States will keep out of this war. I believe that it will. And I give you assurances that every effort of your government will be directed toward that end.

A crowd of 15,000 saw Leo win the right to oppose Tilden Tech Saturday in Mayor Kelly's all-city prep title contest. Baranowski, who completed 6 of 21 pass attempts, made several long runs against Fenwick. He traveled forty-six yards on one trip in the second period before being hauled down on Fenwick's 19 yard line.

Andy, I've spoofed you a lot about
And the time you lend and the worry you spend
But, down deep, I don't mean a word of it,
You are spending all of that energy
That things may live, not die.

Long, long after things are forgotten
Which other men place first,
The fruits of this work you are doing
Will in beauty and radiance burst;
Shrapnel and shell and wings of planes
Will rust and crumble and sever,
But your symbols of things eternal
Will blossom and cheer us forever!

1942 WISCONSIN MATCH CHAMPION ENTERS TOURNEY

BY C. H. BEUKEMA.

The last of the 70 bowlers who are to compete in the All-Star eliminations and match game tournament in the Coliseum starting a week from Sunday has had his entry officially filed. He is Dave Borchardt, 26 year old clerk in a Jefferson, Wis., factory, who has come up in bowling the hard way, probably by a more devious and difficult route than any other man in the event.

Dave Saturday night won the fifth annual Milwaukee Journal tournament by beating Harry Wilcox of Kenosha for his second straight victory, a three match home and home series. The previous week he had won on his home alleys in Jefferson, taking four games to Wilcox's two in the best four out of seven and Saturday night he did even better on Wilcox's home alleys in Kenosha, winning four games to one. Their scores:

Wilcox	203	152	180	166	191—892

They Were Finalists.

The final scores of both men are mediocre in comparison with those of top flight shooters generally, but it cannot be overlooked that both survived in a field of more than 1,100 entrants who started out in 51 Wisconsin cities.

Borchardt won the Jefferson city sweepstakes, a four games across four alleys test. Then he won the match play tournament in the Jefferson district. Finally he was one of 16 sectional match champions who moved into Milwaukee for the Journal's finals. And in Milwaukee he and Wilcox finished as finalists, setting up their home and home series. He succeeds Harold Becker of Milwaukee as state match game champion.

Schedules Are Completed.

Schedules for the eliminations have been completed by Louis P. Petersen, chairman of the tournament committee, and have been approvd by Eddie Linsz and Hank Marino, also members of the special schedule committee. Linsz is secretary of the Bowling Proprietors Association of America which, with the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc. is sponsoring the tournament, while Marino represents the bowlers on the general committee.

Each of the 70 men in the first 20 game eliminations has been placed on one of seven squads and each squad will remain intact thruout the four preliminary days. Each squad will bowl at a different hour every one of the four days. Schedules for the closing four days on which the

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

Leo High will return to Mayor Kelly's all-city prep football championship game next Saturday against Tilden Tech. The Lions qualified for the charity spectacle yesterday afternoon by disposing of Fenwick, 20 to 0, before 15,000 in Soldiers' field. It was a victory which was signaled early in the first quarter in just about the same time that it would require to shake off icicles or size up Henry [Babe] Baranowski, the Leo midget quarter back, who this season has made a habit of producing one man exhibitions.

Baranowski and his back field teammates displayed their talented running ability thruout most of the game, while a group of alert, inspired Lion linemen charged brilliantly for 48 minutes and seized every opportunity to lead the squad to its 10th consecutive triumph and its second successive Catholic league championship. The meeting with Tilden Tech will mark the Lions' fifth appearance in the interleague event since 1934, the first year the contest was played under the sponsorship of Chicago's Own Christmas benefit.

Lions Strike Early.

The Fenwick eleven, which was held to five first downs, only one being accomplished in the opening half, was given an indication of the strength of the Leo forward wall in the first quarter, when a kick was blocked by Guard Frank Lauro. It resulted in the first Leo touchdown. Another score was produced by Tackle Larry Forst on a pass interception. The third touchdown came on an accurate toss from Baranowski to Full Back Bob Hanlon. Baranowski added the two extra points.

Baranowski's perfect strike to Hanlon was one of the six tosses he completed in 21 attempts. The half pint star, who now has 113 points in 10 games, made several long runs, including a forty-six yard dash in the second period before he finally was downed on the Fenwick 19. The Lions failed on this scoring opportunity as well as two others during the game, Fenwick's line halting two of the drives on the 2 and 7 yard lines.

Kick Blocked—Touchdown!

The first Lion touchdown was scored a few minutes after the opening kickoff. Tom McDonald, Leo half back, gained three yards to bring the ball to the Lion 43. Baranowski, on a wide run, advanced twenty-four yards, but on third down Hanlon fumbled and the ball was recovered by Charles Singer, Fenwick tackle, on the Friar 43.

Angelo Provenzano, Fenwick's 155 pound full back, and Jack Higgins, substituting in the Friar back field for the ailing Maurie White, gained only seven yards in three attempts. Harry Harris then stepped back to punt. The kick was blocked by Lauro and the ball was picked up by Bob Baggott, Leo end, who dashed thirty yards for the score.

Baranowski then engaged in a kicking duel with Harris thruout the second quarter. The exchange of punts continued in the third quarter and led to the second Lion touchdown. Baranowski booted one deep to Don Dillon, who was downed on the Fenwick 15. Provenzano and Higgins made only seven yards in three tries.

PACKERS ROLL UP 54 TO 7 TRIUMPH OVER STEELERS

Don Hutson Approaches Scoring Record.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 23 (AP).—Scoring four touchdowns in six minutes in the second quarter, the Green Bay Packers routed the Pittsburgh Steelers here today, 54 to 7, in a National league football game.

The 54 points scored by the Wisconsin eleven was the highest total run up against any National league team this season. The previous high was the 53 points the Chicago Bears scored against the Chicago Cardinals.

Don Hutson, Green Bay end, ran his scoring total to 75, within 4 points of the league record set by Jack Manders of the Bears in 1934. Hutson has one game remaining this season to better Manders' mark. Hutson played only the last part of the first quarter and most of the second, during which he caught seven passes for a gain of seventy-two yards and scored once.

Worst Defeat for Steelers.

Hal Van Every, former Minnesota star, put on a one man offensive show in the fourth quarter. Van Every scored three touchdowns within four minutes. He plunged across from the 3 yard line; a minute later he ran thirty-one yards off tackle; and, finally, he intercepted a Steeler pass and raced eighty-six yards down the side line for his third touchdown.

The Steelers were impressive in the first quarter when they marched to within 1 inch of the Packer goal in the first 10 minutes; then substitute Full Back Joe Hoague plunged over for the only Pittsburgh score.

Steelers Fumble Eight Times.

The defeat, worst in Steeler history, closed the home season for Pittsburgh. A crowd of 15,202 braved threatening weather to watch the leaders of the western division trample on the tail enders of the eastern section. Eight Pittsburgh fumbles spoiled most of the Steeler chances for a better showing. Lineup:

BY EDWARD PRELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 23.—During the process of a methodical 24 to 7 victory over the Detroit Lions in Briggs stadium this afternoon, the Chicago Bears broke four more National Football league records, making six in all for the season.

But all these heroics before 28,657 partially frozen spectators only kept the champions the same distance away—no more, no less—from Green Bay's Packers, who also had quite a day in Pittsburgh. It increased the suspicion, too, that these old rivals will have to meet after the season's end—on Dec. 14—to determine the western division honors.

Break Three of Their Own Marks.

The Bears owned three of the four marks which they cracked today. They raised their total scoring for the season to 313 points, breaking their old one of 298 for 11 league games, set in 1938. Their total also surpasses the 308 in 17 games made by the New York Giants in 1927. Today's three touchdowns made it 44 for the season, two more than the Bears' mark set in 1939. Record No. 4 was in the matter of first downs, the Bears making 25 to pass their mark of 24 set against Cleveland in Wrigley field on Nov. 9. Earlier in the season the Bears had set new standards in total yards gained and yards gained by passing in a single game.

Detroit's touchdown, scored after the Bears had taken a 21 to 0 lead in the third quarter, was close to being a record maker, too. It was a 101 yard kickoff return by Billy Jefferson, freshman half back from Mississippi State. The record for returning kickoffs is 102 yards, made by Doug Russell of the Cardinals against Cincinnati in 1934.

Bears' Eighth Triumph.

This was the Bears' eighth triumph in nine league games. Next Sunday they meet the Eagles in Philadelphia, then close their regular season on Dec. 7 against the Cardinals in Comiskey park. The Packers picked up their ninth victory in 10 games against the Steelers in Pittsburgh. They will move eastward next Sunday to wind up their schedule in Washington against the Redskins.

Despite their record breaking performances, the Bears were slightly less than terrific, if their followers still are judging them by early season form. The passing attack wasn't any too sharp, there being only nine completions in 26 throws. But they played a solid running game and, except for Jefferson's wild dash the length of the field, they always were in command. They stopped the Lions' passing so effectively that only one out of 17 pitches was successful.

BUCKEYES STEAL A SHARE OF 1941 BIG 9 THUNDER

Brown Directs Ohioans to Tie for Second Place.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

By gaining its 17th consecutive victory Saturday, Minnesota won the football championship of the Western conference. Thus the Gophers fulfilled an unanimous September prediction that they would retain the title another year.

That Michigan and Ohio State share second place in the final standings probably is the surprise of the Big Nine campaign that has been remarkably free from upsets. Michigan scarcely rated title consideration because of loss of Tom Harmon, Forest Evashevski, and Ed Frutig. The Buckeyes were the odds and ends left over after the graduation of Jim Langhurst and Don Scott and they were handicapped by the disappointment of an indifferent 1940 season.

New Spirit at Ohio.

Paul Brown came from Massillon High school to teach Ohio State the fundamentals of football and to instill new spirit. Around speedy Dick Fisher and Jack Graf, a substitute in 1940, Brown fashioned his plays. He added John Rosen, Lin Houston, Bob Shaw, first year men, to the veterans, Capt. Jack Stephenson, Jim Daniell, Sam Fox, and Fritz Howard, and produced a line that was outplayed only once.

Michigan failed in its title quest by losing to Minnesota, 7 to 0. Ohio State failed by losing to Northwestern, 14 to 7, but rightly may claim that it was less than 50 per cent efficient that afternoon because of the absence of Graf, who was injured.

These rivals finished with a climactic 20 to 20 tie that for skilled performance and thrills of closely waged battle takes first rank in the conference season. It was less important, of course, than Minnesota's victories over Michigan and Northwestern. But played before a capacity throng of 85,757 on a fast gridiron, by its multiplicity of scoring and by the advantage each held only to lose, it ranks with such thrilling contests as the 21 to 21 game between Illinois and Chicago in 1924 in Stagg field and the 21 to 21 tie between Army and Navy in 1926 in Soldiers' field.

An Alert Buckeye Defense.

By tying Michigan for second place, Ohio State quite likely deserves an award as the team having the most success with available material. We also will nominate Brown as the coach of the year.

The Buckeyes' success Saturday was based on ability to hold Michigan in check until the last three minutes of the first half when two Michigan drives ended inside of Ohio State's 10 yard line. The defensive success was a combination of five, six, and seven man lines which portends trouble for Ohio State's opponents in future years. The Wolverines lost the ball on downs on Ohio State's 7 yard line principally because the Buckeyes moved into a seven man line unexpectedly. Michigan apparently blocked for a six man arrangement and Westfall was thrown for a yard loss by Howard when he needed only a yard for first down.

Michigan's next drive was stopped by Howard again. With a first down on Ohio State's 6 yard line, Kuzma failed in a sweep at Shaw on Ohio's left end. On second down Howard was in the Buckeye secondary, accurately judged the play, and intercepted Kuzma's pass on the 3 yard line. Thus the teams ended the half, 7 to 7, when Michigan might have had a commanding advantage.

Same Play Used at N. U.

The headline plays of the game were pass plays. By the first, Michigan went into the lead, 14 to 7. By the other, Ohio State established a 20 to 14 lead.

Northwestern will remember Michigan's scoring play, for by it the Wolverines counted their first touchdown in the 1941 game in Dyche stadium. Again the pass situation should have been obvious since it was third down and eight yards to go with the ball on the Buckeye 17 yard line. Westfall plunged and handed the ball to George Ceithaml as he went by. Ceithaml lateralled to the right to Kuzma who, in turn, forward passed to Harlin Fraumann in the end zone. The defensive Buckeye left half back, Fisher, never saw Fraumann until the ball was in the air.

Fisher was the hero of the other play and Michigan's unsuccessful defenders were the defensive right half back and Kuzma. From Ohio's 48 yard line on first down, Graf took the ball from center, spun and passed to Fisher on his left at the 50 yard line. With no protection, Fisher out-maneuvered two Michigan backs at full speed in the race to the goal. This play climaxed Ohio State's 95 yard assault, the longest march of the afternoon.

The parity of these teams also may be proved by the number of running plays from scrimmage. Michigan led, 60 to 55. Westfall gained 162 yards by his 30 rushes. Ohio State's full back, Graf, gained only 73 yards by 23 rushes but his team value included six successful passes in 10 attempts for a gain of 124 yards.

CHIEFS DEFEAT BUFFALO, 14-0, IN FINAL GAME

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP).—The Milwaukee Chiefs scored a 14 to 0 victory over the Buffalo Tigers today before 2,500 in the final game this season for both teams in the American Professional Football league.

Milwaukee scored all its points in the third period. End Gil Thomsen raced twenty-five yards for the first touchdown after knocking the ball from Andy Karpus' hand, and Half Back Bronko Novakofski scored on a thirteen yard buck-lateral.

for a field goal in the fourth period by Joe Maniaci. Hugh Gallarneau made the first touchdown, Norman Standlee the second, and George McAfee the third. It was the former Duke star's 10th trip over an enemy goal line this season.

Five minutes after the start of the game the Bears had their first touchdown after each team had exchanged fumbles. After Sid Luckman punted out on the Lions' 42 yard line, Steve Belichick, who rose from clubhouse boy to regular full back a few weeks ago, fumbled and Dan Fortmann recovered on Detroit's 40. Then Ray Nolting dropped a lateral, managing to bat the ball out of bounds, but the Lions took possession on their 45.

Two plays later Lou Tomasetti deflected Jefferson's pass to Luckman, who came back ten yards to midfield. Sid threw a pass to Dick Plasman, who ran seven yards to the Lions' 29. Then Luckman lateraled to Ray Nolting, who raced twenty yards behind fine blocking. Bill Osmanski drove to the 2 yard line and Gallarneau bounced thru the defensive left guard for the touchdown. Bob Snyder kicked the first of three points after touchdowns.

Artoe Misses Field Goal.

The next time the Bears got the ball, following Osmanski's interception of Jefferson's pass on Detroit's 45 yard line, they drove to the 13 yard line, where Lee Artoe missed a field goal from twenty yards out. There were plunges by Osmanski and two laterals by Luckman to Bullet Bill and Gallarneau for most of the yardage.

Nolting's punt return to the Bears' 42 started the second score in motion as the first quarter ended. On the first play of the second period the Bears were thirty-five yards away from a score. Snyder, who replaced Luckman at quarter back, lateraled to McAfee, who bolted thru for eighteen yards. He slammed thru the defensive left tackle for eleven yards, then Standlee broke thru standing up from the 6 yard line.

The Bears, taking the ball when Whizzer White punted out on his own 38 yard line, were going again a few minutes later when Harry Hopp intercepted Snyder's pass near the goal line and came back to his 16. As the half neared the end, Luckman threw four consecutive incomplete passes, the first one a fifteen yard pitch which McAfee dropped.

Bears March Seventy-five Yards.

After taking the second half kickoff, the Bears' passing attack again fizzled, but no sooner did the Lions get the ball than McAfee intercepted Dick Booth's pass on the champions' 25 yard line. This was the signal for a seventy-five yard march, which McAfee also finished by scoring.

Osmanski banged the Lions' left side for five yards and a lateral from Luckman to McAfee ate up fifteen yards. A pass to Nowaskey gave the Bears their second first down of the series on Detroit's 44. After Nolting picked up four and three yards in two tries, McAfee slid thru the Lions' right side for six yards and a first down on the 31. The steady advance continued when Osmanski made two plunges good for nine and two yards.

Three thrusts by McAfee netted nine yards, and Osmanski got the first down clincher by boring two yards to the 7. McAfee struggled up to the 1 yard line. Then he made scarcely a foot, but on his next try he jumped over the middle for his touchdown.

Jefferson Surprises Bears.

Perhaps the Bears were a bit relaxed when Artoe sent the ball just over the goal on the ensuing kickoff. Jefferson took it a yard back of the line to the left of the goal posts in what at the time seemed a reckless piece of strategy as the Bears moved down toward him. But he saw an opening and shot thru it as he veered toward the sidelines. Luckman braced for the tackle on the 20 yard line, but Jefferson feinted smartly and continued his journey. Augie Lio kicked the extra point.

Nolting returned the kickoff to the Bears' 25 and they were off on their final scoring expedition. Ray McLean took Luckman's pass on his 45 yard line and ran to the Lions' 48 for a twenty-seven yard gain and the 19th first down. After McLean picked up three yards, Luckman passed for nine to Bob Nowaskey on the 36. Sid missed Hamp Pool with a pitch, but hit Nowaskey for a nine yard profit. Gary Famiglietti made it a first down on the Lions' 25 as the quarter ended.

Then Comes a Record.

Young Bussey took charge at quarter back, but the Bears were stopped and on fourth down Maniaci moved back to the 31 yard line where he kicked his field goal. Later the Bears were stopped on the Lions' 28 yard line. Then they traded interceptions. McLean leaped for White's pass on the Bears' 49 and ran to the 6 yard line. Ned Mathews speared one of Bussey's throws on the Lions' 3 and raced forty-nine yards to the Bears' 46.

With not much more than a minute remaining Snyder pitched the Chicagoans to their first down record. After a fifteen yard penalty for holding, Snyder threw to Nowaskey, who made a leaping catch on the Bears' 44. Then George Wilson took a throw for a twenty-one yard gain and the 25th first down. A few plays later, the game was over.

Leo Wallops Fenwick, 20-0; Retains Title

Baranowski Gets Started.

A pass was incomplete and Baranowski lost four yards back to the Leo 46. On third down a quick kick by Baranowski finally stopped rolling on the Fenwick 2. Harris' poor first down kick rolled out of bounds on the Friar 19. Baranowski crashed thru guard to the 8 yard line. Baranowski was halted on his next attempt, but Bob Kelly picked up two yards. Baranowski added two, then attempted to sneak over, but he was held on the 1 yard line.

Fenwick took over and Harris again kicked to Baranowski, who returned ten yards to the Fenwick 25. Baranowski faded back and passed twenty-three yards to Hanlon, who fell on the 2 yard line. Hanlon then smashed over the Fenwick goal line. Baranowski made good on his second extra point attempt, and Leo held a 14 to 0 advantage midway in the third period.

Interception—Touchdown!

The Lions returned to the attack after Harris punted out of bounds on the Leo 47. Kelly gained four yards and Baranowski's pass to Hanlon was incomplete. Baranowski then made a successful toss to Kelly for twenty-nine yards. Hanlon smashed thru the center of the line to the Fenwick 16. Three more passes by Baranowski failed and the Friars took possession.

Harris gained two yards, then Dillon passed to Dick Cronin for fourteen yards. Provenzano made twelve yards in three attempts and Fenwick had a first down on its own 44 as the third quarter ended. Two more yards by Higgins and an eleven yard toss from Dillon to Cronin put the ball on the Lions' 44. Provenzano picked up three yards. Then, on second down, Dillon's pass was intercepted by Forst, who ran for Leo's final touchdown.

1942 Wisconsin Match Champ Enters Meet

high 11 men among the 70 starters will compete in match play, along with the loser of the Ned Day-Lowell Jackson championship match, will be made from day to day.

Day, Jackson Open Tourney.

Day and Jackson are to bowl the last 40 games of a 160 game assignment on the opening four nights of the tournament, Dec. 7 thru 10.

The plan whereby losers are matched against winners, which brings the top flight shooters into competition with one another on the closing days, will be employed in setting up the schedule for the finals. Winner of the entire competition will be recognized as 1942 challenger for the world match game title.

A little used feature of the Petersen scoring system was brought into play yesterday to give Tommy Brinovec of Peoria victory over Joe Wilman in a training match for the tournament. It was the provision that the bowler who wins the smaller number of games but has the highest total pin count shall be given an extra point. Brinovec won the match, 24.07 points to 23.22.

How It Works.

Other features of the system give a bowler a point for every 50 pins—on a cumulative basis over an entire match, and a point for every game won. This system is being used in the Day-Jackson title match and will be used in the match play of the All-Star tournament.

Brinovec	214	167	206	244	226—1,057

Giants Clinch Eastern Title in 20-13 Victory

New York, Nov. 23 (AP).—The New York Giants put on a desperate 10 point, 53 second scoring splurge in the final period today to defeat the Washington Redskins, 20 to 13, and clinch the National Football league's eastern championship.

Before a crowd of 49,317—largest turnout anywhere in the league this year—Tuffy Leemans sparked the New Yorkers' winning comeback drive after Sammy Baugh had pitched the Redskins into the lead in the early minutes of the final quarter.

The victory gave the Giants a record of eight victories and two defeats, with one game left to play. Thereby they dethroned, as eastern rulers, the Redskins, who were walloped 73 to 0 by the Chicago Bears in the league championship playoff a year ago.

Franck Scores Touchdown.

In a brawl that went from a scoreless first half to a thrill packed third and fourth quarter, the New Yorkers came back with a thirty-eight yard field goal by Ward Cuff and a seven yard touchdown trip by George Franck in the space of the deciding 53 seconds to pull out the victory.

But behind these point making exploits was Leemans. Twice in the third quarter and once in the fourth he passed the Giants into scoring position. Altogether, he carried the ball thirty-five yards in seven tries and pitched for fifty-five yards more.

The Giants broke into the scoring column early in the third quarter after Franck had carried a punt twenty-six yards to the Washington 48. Leemans passed to Jim Poole twice for twenty-four yards and he and Cuff carried to the 3 yard line. Then Franck went wide around his left end for the touchdown.

Less than five minutes later, after Leemans had passed for thirteen yards and carried twenty-six on a fake, Andy Marefos booted a twenty-three yard field goal.

Just before the quarter ended the Redskins started from their own 41 and, with Baugh pitching, went downfield to a touchdown as the fourth period got under way. A twenty-five yard toss by Baugh to Bob McChesney produced the touchdown.

Redskins Came Right Back.

Baugh and his gang came right back and three minutes later took a 13 to 10 lead when Bob Seymour broke over the Giant left guard for three yards and a touchdown, after the recovery of a New York fumble had put the Redskins in position.

Then those red hot 53 seconds came along. Cuff, Franck, and Leemans got together to move from their own 20 to the Washington 31, from where Cuff dropped back to the 38 and booted the ball for three points to tie it up. Poole intercepted a Washington pass a few seconds after the kickoff and ran it back thirty-two yards to the Washington 7. And from there it was no trick at all for Franck to make that sweep around the end for the clincher.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 23 (AP).—Frank Ivy's interception of Parker Hall's flat pass on the Cleveland 20 yard line gave the Chicago Cardinals a 7 to 0 triumph today over the Rams, who ended their National Football league season with nine straight setbacks.

It was on the second play from scrimmage in the second half that the Rams' tail back, who calls their plays, elected to throw one to the left to Wing Back George Morris, the man in motion.

Ivy Intercepts It.

Ivy, the 205 pound end, who formerly played for Oklahoma university, stepped into the pass just as if it were meant for him and made the touchdown without the slightest difficulty. Bill Daddio added the extra point and the Chicagoans had won their third game of the campaign.

Only 5,000 customers turned out for the mild argument between the lowest teams in the league's western division, who played in 40 degree temperatures.

Rams Never Threaten.

The Rams, who started their season well with triumphs over the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Cardinals before going into the worst losing streak of the season, didn't offer one serious scoring threat.

The Cards, who ran up a 7 to 6 edge in first downs, did only slightly better themselves. Midway in the second quarter, Daddio missed a field goal attempt from an acute angle on the Rams' 34, and lost another try from the Rams' 25 midway in the final period. The remainder of the afternoon was spent with both teams throwing numerous fruitless passes, with the Rams tossing one too many.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 23 (AP).—Ned Day of suburban West Allis, world match bowling champion, averaged 237.4 pins per game tonight in the ninth 10 game block of his 160 game series with Lowell Jackson of St. Louis, challenger to Day's crown.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 23 (AP). — The Boston Bruins pounded home a pair of goals in each of the first two periods tonight to defeat their Stanley cup rival of last year, the Detroit Red Wings, 4 to 2, in a National league hockey game before 9,739.

Bobby Bauer scored twice for Boston, once on a spectacular solo dash, and Flash Hollette and Eddie Wiseman got the others as the Bruins piled up a three goal lead before the Red Wings came back with tallies by Carl Liscombe and Syd Howe. Johnny Mowers of Detroit was credited with a highly unusual assist for a netminder. He came out of the net to save on Wiseman and started Howe on a solo dash that put the Red Wings back into the game. Lineups:

CRISLER AGAIN GETS HELP OF TWELFTH MAN

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 23 (AP). — Wherever Football Coach Fritz Crisler happens to be there's always a spectator rushing from the stands to was made before he was ejected.

While at Princeton a few years back a raccoon-coated fan rushed onto the field in a blinding snowstorm and lined up with the Tigers. A play was made before he was eqected.

Last year, as coach at Michigan, a coatless spectator, tired of watching Tommy Harmon run wild against California at Berkeley, attempted—unsuccessfully — to tackle the great half back on a long touchdown run.

Against Ohio State yesterday, the Michigan back field found itself lining up with a man in a green shirt. Play was halted while four policemen carried him off the field.

GOOD THING HAWKS DIDN'T NEED THIS ONE!

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

In the second period the Chicagoans appeared even faster from the outset than they had in the brilliant opening period. And this time they were even too fast for Broda.

The game's first goal was accomplished in 2:45 of the second period. Bill Thoms took the puck into the Leaf defense zone and passed to Mush March on his right. Mush banged the rubber against Broda's padding and it rebounded at just the right angle to Doug Bentley, who had swerved in from the left boards. Broda, not recovered from his save on March's shot, didn't have a chance to slide across the mouth of his cage to thwart Bentley. March and Thoms earned assists on the goal.

Hergesheimer Gets Second Goal.

In less than two minutes after their first goal the Hawks had the second. In 4:29 of the second period Phil Hergesheimer scored on a shot from about 20 feet out. After Cully Dahlstrom had taken the puck into the Toronto defense zone Alex Kaleta got it on the left side of the cage and passed out in front of Broda to Hergesheimer, who angled a fast one into the nets.

In 5:26 of this same second period —those 161 seconds after their first counter—the Hawks tallied their third and winning goal. Allen got it on assists by Cooper and Bob Carse. Allen counted from about 10 feet out as the climax of one of the continuous series of Hawk speed maneuvers.

Goldup Shoves It Thru.

The Leafs made their first goal with less than a minute of the big second period to go—in 19:18. Hawk players were endeavoring to clear the puck from the side of the nets when Langelle got it and shoved it out to Goldup, who scored from directly in front of the cage.

In the faceoff after the fight, near the Hawk cage, Bob Davidson, assisted by Syl Apps and Wally Stanowski, got control of the rubber and shot it home for the counter. The puck was then faced off in the center of the rink and the game ended just at the time the disc was dropped to the ice.

Despite the victory last night and the fact their 3 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Leafs in Toronto Saturday night was their only licking in six games, the Leafs remained in first place, one point ahead of the Hawks.

THREE FROSTBITE RACES CAPTURED BY SAVOY PLAZA

Savoy Plaza, owned and sailed by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Billheimer, captured all three races held by the Jackson Park Yacht club's Frostbite dinghy fleet yesterday in Grant Park harbor. The races are the first of a series of 15 sailed annually for the Commodore Fred Weston trophy. The Savoy Plaza won the opening events with a score of 42 points. Me Too, sailed by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Black, was runner up with 38 points, and Debutramp, sailed by Fran Byrne and Evelyn Suekoff, was third with 32 points.

Lockwood Pirie won the Chicago Yacht club's dinghy races for D class racers in Grant Park harbor. His crew was Lonni Pearl. Helenagustawind, sailed by Jack Kasman and Inez Macha, won the Columbia Yacht club dinghy fleet's series of five races in Grant Park harbor. The winning score was 26¼ points. Don McNeill Retains Argentine Tennis Title

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Nov. 23 (AP).—Don McNeill of Oklahoma City retained the Argentine title today by defeating Jack Kramer of Los Angeles, 6-3, 8-6, 0-6, 7-9, 7-5, in a 2½ hour match played in terrific heat. Both players were near collapse in the final set. Dorothy May Bundy of Santa Monica, Cal., and Katherine Winthrop of Boston, won the women's doubles crown by defeating Mrs. Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., and her partner, Maria Teran of Argentina.

Ashland A. C. Names Boxers to Battle Savoy Wednesday

BY FRANK MASTRO.

The Ashland Athletic club team, which will meet boxers representing the Savoy A. C. in Chicagoland Amateur Boxing league competition in Social Turner hall Wednesday, was named yesterday by Charles Lavine, club manager. The interclub squad, which consists of eight of the best fighters in the organization, follows:

Jesse Robinson, 112; Bud Davis, 118; Gene Kenworthy, 126; Joe Manjarrez, and Joe Baldassano, 147; Ralph Manning, 160; Joe Jawgiel, 175, and Harold Lang, heavyweight.

Split with Illinois A. C.

Davis, Manjarrez, Baldassano, and Jawgiel were members of the delegation which split two matches with the Illinois Athletic club. Manjarrez scored points for his team in both shows, beating Bill Powers in the first match and defeating Ralph Balbernie in the other. The conquest of Powers helped Ashland score a 7 to 1 decision. Joe's defeat of Balbernie eased the pain of the Illinois club's 5 to 3 revenge victory.

Jawgiel, who was ill and was unable to compete in the IAC rematch after hammering out a verdict in the opening league contest, will be welcomed warmly by teammates on his return to action. The boys know the Savoy A. C. possesses a strong group of fighters, one of the most competent teams in the country, and are aware all strength that can be mustered is needed if they expect to win.

Lang is a newcomer to the squad, but his reputation precedes him. Harold, who is 19 years old and whose 220 pounds are evenly distributed on his 6 foot 6 inch frame, has participated in 18 contests, winning all except three. He has scored nine knockouts.

Other league contests will involve Milwaukee and the Catholic Youth organization at CYO center gymnasium, and Madison A. C. and Fort Sheridan at Fort Sheridan, also on Wednesday, and West Suburban club and Camp Grant at Camp Grant Thursday.

Pairings Are Announced.

Johnny Mezzano, Madison A. C., vs. Conrad Schurter, Fort Sheridan, 126; Vince Pellegrini, Madison A. C., vs. Joe McGinnis, Fort Sheridan, 135; Jimmy Baratta, Madison A. C., vs. Jack McClintock, Fort Sheridan, 140; Pat Maloney, Madison A. C., vs. Eddie Doyle, Fort Sheridan, and Lenny Marino, Madison A. C., vs. Paul Dowd, Fort Sheridan, all 147; Matt Slobotnik, Madison A. C., vs. Corp. Gene Konsler, Fort Sheridan, 160, and Zanno Gailus, Madison A. C., vs. Clem Le Buhn, Fort Sheridan, 175.

DINNER TONIGHT WILL HONOR PURDUE TEAM

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 23 [Special].— Purdue's football squad which wound up its season with a strong stand against Indiana Saturday will be guest of honor at the annual banquet sponsored by the Kiwanis club here tomorrow night at 6 o'clock.

Twelve senior members of the squad, including four who were unable to play against the Hoosiers because of injuries—Co-Captain Tom Melton and Wes Stevens, guards; Pete Timperman, tackle and John Galvin, half back—will be paid a particular tribute during the evening. The most valuable Purdue players of the season will be selected, the 1942 captain will be elected and the varsity letter winners will be named .

MICHIGAN-OHIO FILM ON PROGRAM AT WAILING WALL

The film of the Ohio State-Michigan game, one of the thrillers of last Saturday's program, will be shown the college football fans attending today's Wailing Wall luncheon in the Sherman hotel. The teams tied, 20 to 20, and the film is believed to be one of the best offered on the program this year.

The Wailing Wall group will wind up its activities for the season next week when the winners of its trophies —one for player of the year and the other for either lineman or back of the year—are awarded. The selections will have been made by the men attending the luncheons, each having voted for a back of the week and lineman of the week at each of the weekly gatherings.

JOYCE TO FIGHT SPOLDI TONIGHT IN MARIGOLD RING

Willie Joyce, who has demonstrated his right to a world lightweight title bout by his work in recent months, will face what appears to be his hardest test of the year in a 10 round bout against Aldo Spoldi in Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street, tonight.

While Spoldi hasn't set the world on fire during his 1941 campaign, he has beaten such stars as Julie Kogon, Guillermo Puentes, and Red Guggino.

Joyce Isn't Too Confident.

As a result, Joyce is not feeling any too confident of the outcome. There was that embarrassing experience against Joe Ghnouly in Hammond, Ind., last year, when Ghnouly survived a knockdown in the first round to deal Willie a defeat, the last one, incidentally, the Gary boxer has suffered.

Charley Johnston, manager of Spoldi, reports his protége is ready to spoil another fine record owned by a Chicago favorite, just as Tommy Tucker did in stopping Johnny Colan and as Bob Pastor did in beating Booker Beckwith. Tucker and Pastor are managed by Jimmy Johnston, Charley's big brother.

From the records of the rivals [Spoldi has won 36 contests, 22 by knockouts, and Joyce has scored 32 victories, 26 by decisions] it would seem that Aldo's superior punching power will gamble with Joyce's superior defense.

Spoldi's No Stranger.

George Feltes, Milwaukee, vs. Stanley Murczek, Chicago [6], 165.
Billy Pierce, West Allis, Wis., vs. Mike Edwards, Chicago [6], 165.
Don Wallenfang, West Allis, vs. Arnold Deer, Indianapolis [4], 155.

VIKINGS, SWEDES TIE IN OPENING OF CUP SERIES

1,000 Watch Teams Play to 1-1 Draw.

BY OFFSIDE.

The Vikings and Swedish-Americans battled to a 1 to 1 tie yesterday in Winnemac park stadium in the opening round of the Illinois State Soccer cup competition. A crowd of 1,000 braved chilly weather to watch a closely fought and well played game in which defense took the ascendancy over offense because of the field's slow condition.

Since all games in the cup competition must reach a definite result, the two teams will play off their tie in two or three weeks.

Swedes Score First.

The Swedish-Americans tallied the first goal of the game after seven minutes, Tommy Hamilton crashing the ball into the net after a corner kick had been taken. Near the 30 minute mark the Vikings registered their tying goal on a penalty kick taken by Roscoe Anderson.

Augie Goller tied it for Hansa in the second period, but Sam Redas went ahead on tallies by Charles Michellotti and Charles Piraino.

National Cross Country Run Carded Today

East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 23 [Special].—Hill and dale runners representing 22 colleges will compete tomorrow morning in the fourth annual national collegiate cross country run over the Michigan State college course along the Red Cedar river.

Indiana, 1940 champion, will defend its laurels, but on the basis of earlier meets the followers of the fall sport are not conceding the Hoosiers much of a chance to repeat.

Individual Race Wide Open.

The battle for the individual crown is wide open. Gilbert Dodd, Ashland college's runner, will not return to defend the crown he won in record breaking time last year.

Rhode Island State, which captured its second straight I. C. A. A. A. A. team title last Monday in New York, holds the favored spot to win team honors. The greatest threat appears to be in the Boilermakers from Purdue, who swept past the Hoosiers in two dual meets this fall and later won the 1941 Big Ten title.

Two Leading Contenders.

Oliver Hunter, Notre Dame star, who took second place last year, and Bob Nichols, pacer for Rhode Island team, are the leading contenders for the title. Duane Zemper of Michigan State Normal, and Tony Maloney, Notre Dame, who finished 14th, will also return.

Ed Holderman, Purdue leader, and Fred Wilts of Indiana, will lead the Big Ten representatives. Holderman has led the Purdue team to its Big Ten title this fall and Wilts recently set a new dual meet record here against the Spartans over tomorrow's course.

California Skaters Win Derby on Final Night

California scored 12 points to defeat Chicago, 266 to 265, in the finals of the roller skating derby last night at the Coliseum. Chicago won last night's race, 15 to 12, but the Pacific coast team won the series on total points. Wes Aronson, Chicago captain, won the individual scoring honors with 69 points.

STOKE UP, FANS! HOT STOVE PLAY OPENS THIS WEEK

National League's Movie Premiere Tomorrow.

New York, Nov. 23 (AP).—The heat will be turned on officially in baseball's hot stove league on Tuesday when the National league's new movie will be given a première in New York. So here is some fuel for the fire.

A little research shows Elmer Riddle of the Cincinnati Reds had an earned run average of about 2.20 and probably will be crowned the pitching king of the National league when the official averages come out next month. This is better than any regular hurler has been able to achieve in the National league since Carl Hubbell hit bottom with 1.63 in 1933, and should be sufficient to keep the hurling honors in Cincinnati, where Bucky Walters copped the earned run average leadership in both 1939 and 1940.

Walter L. Briggs Sr., owner of the Detroit Tigers, is planning to attend the major league meetings in Chicago Dec. 9 and 10. His health is such that he can get around only by using a wheel chair. He hasn't attended one of these baseball confabs for years, but he made up his mind to go this winter, even before the sessions were transferred from New York to Chicago. This is taken as a sign that the Tigers will trade. With Hank Greenberg getting out of the army in a few days, Rudy York is almost certain to go on the block.

Big George Magerkurth will be back umpiring for the National league next season. When the report got around that he was on his way out, the big fellow phoned Ford Frick, league president, who assured him of a job. . . . Frank Frisch, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, has recovered from a tonsil operation, but now is having trouble with the foot injured in Philadelphia last summer. He likely will undergo an operation in Pittsburgh immediately after the minor league sessions, starting Dec. 2 in Jacksonville, Fla.

REARMAMENT INDUSTRIAL COSTS FAR ABOVE WORLD WAR LEVELS

Spend More than 10½ Billions During Last 15 Months.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23 (AP).—The United States is spending now, and has spent regularly for the last 15 months, more money for rearmament than it expended during the first 15 months of the World war.

A recapitulation by the Office of Production Management of the industrial defense effort since last July, compared with the corresponding months of 1917 and 1918, indicated today that the nation had spent about two billion dollars more on this occasion.

BANKS' ARMAMENT LOANS.

New York, Nov. 23 (AP).—Use of bank credit for financing armament orders showed a substantial expansion in the three months ended Sept. 30, the American Bankers' association reported today. A survey by the association disclosed that 376 banks in 146 cities had $1,765,174,000 of such loans outstanding at the end of the third quarter, an increase of more than 460 millions from the total on June 30.

Four Month Gain Is Large.

The comparison showed that four months after the all-out armament program got under way in 1940, the United States was spending 123 per cent more than in the corresponding month of 1917.

During the first 15 months of the World war, defense disbursements totaled more than eight billion 600 million dollars. In the first 15 months of defense effort in 1940-'41 the cost was more than 10 billion 500 million.

Coincidentally, Lend-Lease Administrator Edward R. Stettinius made public a summary which reported total lease-lend aid given by this country had passed the billion-dollar mark. Actual contracts have been let for more than 75 per cent of the first seven billion dollar lease-lend program, Stettinius said.

New Allocations Proceeding.

To indicate the "steady increase in lend-lease aid," he said it amounted to 18 millions in March; 40 millions in April; 60 millions in May; 85 millions in June; 134 millions in July; 150 millions in August; 207 millions in September, and 225 millions in October.

BROWN SHOE CO. SALES SET PEAK; EARNINGS RISE

The Brown Shoe company, St. Louis, reported net sales of $37,737,369, a new record, for its fiscal year ended Oct. 31.

"The volume has been determined only by our factory capacity, as the demand for shoes thruout most of the year has been greater than the supply," said President John A. Bush. Military footwear comprised 10 per cent of the company's production, he said.

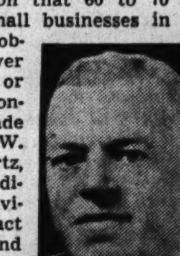
Net earnings were $1,012,117, equal to $4.11 a share of common stock, after provision for all taxes and the setting aside of an inventory reserve of $250,000 to meet anticipated future decline in market prices of materials. In the 1939-40 fiscal year the company had net sales of $25,633,282, net income of $498,132, and earnings per common share of $2.02.

Army Rejects Proposed Head for Air Associates

New York, Nov. 23 (AP).—F. Leroy Hill, who resigned last week as president of the Air Associates, Inc., plant at Bendix, N. J., said today the war department had advised the Air Associates directors that Raymond Acre, proposed as Hill's successor, was unsatisfactory." The company's plant was seized by the army Oct. 31 because of a protracted labor dispute.

DECLARES FEW SMALL FIRMS WILL GET ARMS ORDERS

The prediction that 60 to 70 per cent of the small businesses in the country "probably will never see a defense or subdefense contract" was made yesterday by W. Homer Hartz, Chicago coördinator of the divisions of contract distribution and priorities of the Office of Production Management.



W. Homer Hartz.

He participated in a University of Chicago Round Table conference with William H. Spencer, dean of the university school of business, and Prof. Arthur W. Marget of the University of Minnesota.

"Every One Will Suffer."

"There are small manufacturers who have suffered and more will suffer in the future," said Hartz. "Every one will have to suffer, manufacturers and other citizens alike in gaining the goal of the national defense program.

"Those small manufacturers who will not be able to get defense orders to fill do not have the facilities to produce defense needs, cannot produce within the margins of accuracy permitted, or they have facilities of which there is now a surplus. As it is, the program requires only 25 per cent of the nation's industrial capacity."

Hartz said that most of those in this group will continue making nonarmament articles but that their production necessarily will be lessened because of priorities on various basic materials.

Urges Spreading Burden.

"If all this is going to hurt," said Spencer, "it's up to the government to spread the burden as equitably as possible. This will help to preserve our free enterprise system."

"If small businesses are permitted to deteriorate or die," declared Prof. Marget, "I feel concern for the future of American economy and democracy. If production is concentrated in the hands of big business—big enough to wield political influence—I feel there would be danger of dictatorship here. We need small business men to keep a check on big business which might exert power to control government for their own interests."

RULES ON CREDIT TO STAND THRU HOLIDAY PERIOD

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23 (AP).—For the benefit of millions who plan to do their Christmas shopping on credit, the Federal Reserve board promised today not to change its credit rules before the holiday. Officials at the agency said that altho a stiffening of the regulations on instalment sales has been under study for several weeks, the public need not worry about their gift shopping this season.

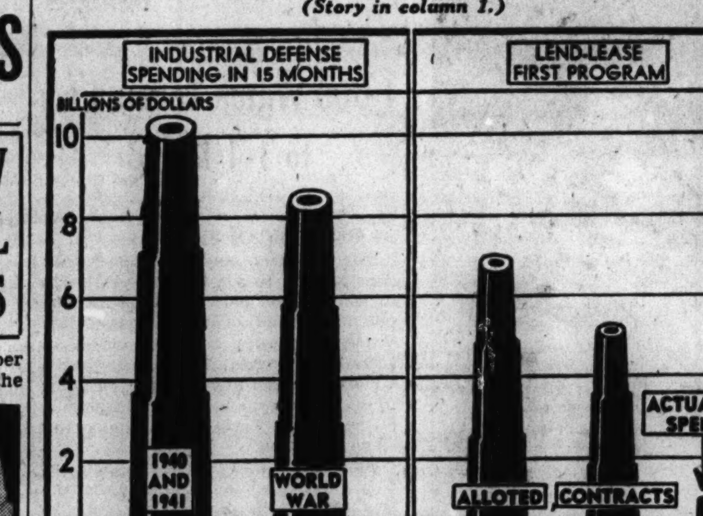
This means that, under the rules in effect since Sept. 1, radios, refrigerators, sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, washing machines, metal musical instruments, and similar merchandise can be bought for 20 per cent down and 18 months to pay. Furniture is on a 10 per cent and 18 months basis, but automobiles are ⅓ down and 18 months to pay the balance. Only items which compete with armament for certain materials are on the regulated list.

Price Control Problems to Be Discussed Tomorrow

A special discussion of price control problems will be presented by the Chicago Forum on Defense Production Problems tomorrow night at 176 West Washington street. Principal speakers will be Nathaniel N. Nathanson, professor of law, Northwestern university, and William Conley of the Office of Price administration.

Defense and Lend-Lease Spending

(Story in column 1.)



The chart indicates the increased armament cost compared with that of the World war. It also pictures the 7 billion dollar allotment in the first lend-lease program, with contracts actually placed and the amount actually spent under that plan.

Price, Strike Control Bills Up This Week

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23 [Special].—The questions of how to check inflation thru price control and how to prevent strikes in armament industries will be the main subjects before congress this week.

The price control method of checking inflation will be before the house in the form of an emasculated administration bill reported several weeks ago by the house banking and currency committee. It is expected to have nearly a full week's consideration from the house, and the bill's final form is any one's guess.

The senate judiciary committee will consider a bill by Sen. Tom Connally [D., Tex.], designed to amend the selective service act so as to give the government power to prevent strikes in arms industries, but progress on this is expected to be slow, and dependent on the general strike situation.

Effect of "Open" Rule.

The price control bill will come before the house tomorrow under what is called an "open" rule which will permit the offering of numerous amendments. The chief effect of this rule is that it will permit Rep. Albert Gore [D., Tenn.] to offer an amendment which is in fact a substitute. This would put a practical over-all ceiling on prices as of the day the bill is passed, in contrast with the committee bill, which has no ceiling on wages and what has been called a "rubber ceiling" on the prices of farm commodities, because it would permit them to rise to levels higher than at present.

House members have been reluctant to tackle the price control problem, and the belief is here that a house majority may vote to substitute the Gore amendment for the banking committee bill, thus opening the whole question up to amendments.

Steagall to Lead Fight.

Rep. Henry B. Steagall [D., Ala.], chairman of the house banking committee, will lead the fight for the measure as reported out of committee. It is expected he will lead a bloc of farm representatives who will argue the measure should not impose any ceiling on farm price products lower than that now contained in the measure.

Lack of a wage ceiling in the bill also has been a subject of criticism, and the wave of strikes in arms industries has intensified the opposition to the measure.

CARNEGIE STEEL ORDERS OPENING OF TWO FURNACES

The Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation yesterday ordered reopening of the two blast furnaces closed down in the Chicago area because of coal shortage.

The furnace closed at the firm's South Chicago works started last night and the one at the Gary works will be started this morning.

CANADIAN AFFILIATE.

From time to time I have seen the preferred shares of a company listed in your paper as traded on the New York Curb exchange as "Can Ind Ltd." quoted at comparatively high prices. Would you please give me the full name of this company and if possible some information about its activities.—A. C.

Answer: You refer to Canadian Industries, Limited, one of the largest manufacturers of chemicals in Canada. It is affiliated with Imperial Chemical Industries, Ltd., and E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., leading British and United States chemical producers. The company holds an interest in General Motors corporation and the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods company, Ltd.

Canadian Industries, Limited, was incorporated in Canada in 1910. Capitalization consists of 46,500 shares of $100 par 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock; 615,974 shares of no par class A voting stock, and 80,971 shares of class B nonvoting common stock of no par value. As of Dec. 31, 1940, du Pont owned approximately 47 per cent of the class A voting stock. The company has no long term debt.

Canadian Industries, Limited, has a record of continuous dividend payments on its common stocks since 1912. Its recent earnings record follows:

1936	$4,729,330	$6.45	$6.00
1937	5,721,862	7.86	7.50
1938	4,516,754	6.07	6.00
1939	6,232,143	8.52	7.50
1940	5,396,163	7.28	7.00

The company reported on Sept. 15 that earnings in the first half of 1941 were somewhat lower than in 1940 because of the sharply higher cost of raw materials at a time when it was trying to avoid any increase in selling prices. Operations were reported at capacity. It has paid dividends to the common stockholders totaling $4.75 a share to date in 1941.

Total assets of this company as of Dec. 31, 1940, were in excess of $67,597,000 and included current assets of $20,047,990. Current liabilities were $5,992,342.

BURLINGTON BONDS.

Will you please advise me what the security is behind Burlington railroad refunding 5s of 1971. How are they rated?—T. H. C.

Answer: Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad company has outstanding $40,000,000 of first and refunding mortgage series "A" 5 per cent bonds maturing Feb. 1, 1971. They are secured jointly with the series "B" 4½ per cent bonds [$29,800,000 outstanding] by a mortgage covering by direct or collateral lien 8,490.78 miles of road, equipment, etc. The first lien is on 483 miles. These bonds are considered medium grade.

ADVERTISE MORE DESPITE HEAVY RUSH IN BUSINESS

Advertising appropriations and sales promotion campaigns of leading manufacturers are not being curtailed because the national armament program has created a rush of business, a survey indicated yesterday. Leading manufacturers representing nine industries, queried about their 1942 campaigns by Percy Wilson, managing director of the Merchandise Mart, were unanimous in saying they planned to continue or increase advertising.

Wilson said that some took the position that it is the manufacturers' responsibility to give merchants who distribute their goods every possible support, in good as well as bad times.

Others expressed a conviction that lines which have behind them the momentum of a comprehensive advertising and promotional campaign will be the strongest when selling, rather than production, again becomes the major problem.

NOTICE

Big Return Expected on Corn Crop Thru Federal Benefits

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

The 1941 corn crop will return more money to producers than any corn crop has in more than 10 years, grain men estimated yesterday. When the farmer adds his crop allotment payments to the amount the government will lend him on his corn, he will learn he is getting more than the so-called parity price he has sought for the commodity, they said.

Despite the relatively high loan rate, the grain traders look for a large part of the crop, particularly in Iowa, to be used as feed for live stock. Much of the corn in parts of Iowa contains too much moisture to qualify for a government loan. With the government committed to hold the price of pork above 9 cents a pound, low grade corn can be fed profitably to the hogs while the choice grain can be held in the country under loans.

Speed Corn and Bean Harvests.

Midwestern farmers speeded harvesting of corn and soy beans last week. The favorable weather conditions permitted them to get a large percentage of their crops into their bins and granaries. More than 70 per cent of the soy beans have been harvested in Central Illinois, the nation's largest producer of beans, crop reporters said.

Exceptionally high yields of corn are reported. Market experts predict that thru the growing use of hybrid varieties of corn, the average per acre yields will set new records for the nation within the next few years.

Price control legislation is again uppermost in the minds of the brokers as a price making influence. Because so many conflicting reports have been received as to the proposed ceilings on farm crops, speculative interest in the markets has dropped sharply.

AVERT WALKOUT OF 15,000 PHONE LINE WORKERS

Get Pay Boost; Rail Meetings Today.

New York, Nov. 23 (AP).—Dr. John R. Steelman, chief of the United States conciliation service, announced tonight a threatened strike of 15,000 long line telephone workers which would have affected long distance communications in 42 states had been averted.

The agreement reached in the presence of Dr. Steelman and Aaron Horvitz, conciliation commissioner, provided for wage increases totaling 3 million dollars annually and the setting up of two boards, both headed by Horvitz, to make further wage adjustments and study geographic wage differentials. Workers will receive pay raises of $1 to $3 weekly.

The dispute involved the American Telephone and Telegraph communication system and the Federation of Long Lines Telephone Workers, an independent union.

Effective in 11 Areas.

The wage increases will be effective in 11 of 16 areas into which the union divides the country. The wage adjustment board will deal with adjustments in the other five areas which are: Illinois, Wisconsin, the territory of Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company, the northwest territory [Minnesota, Nebraska and Iowa], and Cincinnati.

Wage increases will be retroactive to Aug. 31 in New York City and New York state and in the Rocky mountain area comprising Utah, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming. In all other areas the increases will be retroactive to Oct. 19.

The contract will run for a year and the wage question may be reopened at the end of six months.

Hold Rail Dispute Meetings.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23 (AP).—Labor and management representatives held separate meetings today on the railroad wage dispute, presumably considering proposals and counterproposals put forward in previous joint conferences. There was no word, however, as to what suggestions for breaking the impasse and averting a nation-wide rail strike were under consideration, but joint meetings will be held tomorrow.

The belief grew in the capital that this week would bring a settlement of the dispute or some further government action. Only two weeks remain before the Dec. 7 deadline set by the railroad operating brotherhoods for a walkout.

Rail Dispute Major Problem.

The coal strike ended yesterday when Lewis and the United Mine Workers policy committee agreed to accept a suggestion of President Roosevelt that the union shop dispute be submitted to arbitration, with both sides bound to accept the results. The policy committee immediately ordered back to work all miners who had been on strike since Monday.

STOCKS OF TWO ROADS OFFERED BY CHESAPEAKE

Cleveland, O., Nov. 23 (AP).—Continuing a policy of divesting itself of investments in several railroads in which it once was interested, the Chesapeake & Ohio railway company today invited bids on 211,000 shares of Erie railroad common, 6,800 shares of first preferred, and 3,800 shares of second preferred. It also invited bids on 16,800 shares of Chicago Great Western Railway company common.

Regarding the Erie offering, the road said: "These certificates of deposit represent stock of the Erie railroad before reorganization, the new securities provided in the reorganization plan not having been issued."

USE OF LEAD AND TIN FOIL FOR PACKAGING IS FORBIDDEN BY OPM

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23 (AP).—The OPM today forbade the use of lead and tin foil for packaging tobacco products, chewing gum, candy, beverages, typewriter ribbons, films, and friction tape after March 15.

Donald M. Nelson, OPM priorities director, ordered manufacturers of foil for such purposes to cut their output immediately to one-third the amount they manufactured in the first three months of 1941. After Jan. 15 the manufacture is prohibited entirely.

The period between the halt in manufacture of foil and discontinuance of its use in packaging the listed products was provided, officials explained, to permit existing stocks to be used up.

In explanation of the necessity for the order, the OPM said that foil manufacturers were using 6,500 tons of lead monthly and the demand was steadily increasing.
